A new daily evening paper is about to be published in New York by M. M. Nonland Thomas Gill, under the title of "The Evening Star."

We have commensed the republication of some very in-teresting letters from Naples, from the compondence of the New York Journal of Commerce. They are admira-bly written, and cannot fall diaxcite inferest.

The draw, some days ago re-published the remarks of a spondent of the Thibodauxville Lotelligeocer against andicate, Judge Doneson. The most re-publish some rictures from the same source, againe Dennis Permus. The Argue having endorsed one statement must of necesrise wat a quainted with the age of this guildensa, but it is to counted by the events of his life, and his noted actions, he cannot have passed the verge of extreme youth—Born and heed up in New Orleans, he is one of those who have so little intellectual space, that their minds have no room for any images, sandments, or opinions, other than those which were first growded in upon their by accident, and are afterwards maintained in post ession by many tabit of occupancy. In childhool, New Orleans was his world—the serrow winddy swe ts, its thoroughfures—the Leves its limit—the Place d'Aims sire show ground, and the will, and of the English agains a speaks of, who control and the small-heer politicians of the Exception of the Cafes, and the Cafes, men of figrea mental bone and the Cafes, men of the Cafes, men of figrea mental bone and the Cafes, men of figrea men of figrea men of figrea men of figrea m
