

I thought I knew you

Looking around I see you,
thinking you were the person I knew.

You were in my life once,
when I felt so sad so blew.

Deep down and above,
my love shares your love.

Looking around I still see you
thinking you were the person I knew

Our love has grown apart
but it has from the start

I'm still thinking.... you were the person I knew.

You took away my fears,
and then again you took away my fun.

Asking myself what you have done to me, but know you're my fear and it all has just begun.

Thanking God my fear has ended and I'm just now realizing that I didn't know, the person that I thought I knew.
