WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 4, 1866.

In consideration of the date and customary observance of the Fourth as a National holiday, no paper will be issued from the Bee office on Thursday morning. Avertissements, which would have otherwise appeared on that morning, are published on this.

MILITARY ORDER—The Military will observe the Fourth by general parade on Canal street, and by three salutes of 21 guns, one at each end of the street, and one at mid-point.

The Permanent Observation of the Fourth.

It is very apparent that the present anniversary of American Independence will be celebrated with a spirit and brilliancy not witnessed in this city for many years. The Fire Department, which has been the most representative of the Municipal Government in this regard, has adopted a plan which never was in detail and proposed results, but none of the members of the department are to be blamed for this master in charge have arranged for a grand feu on the Fair Grounds, commencing to-day and ending on the 5th inst. As seen in our columns, it will be a grand affair, with every legitimate and honest kind of amusement, recreation and refreshment.

The Fire Department is to be commended for the bold and manly step they have taken, and the proceeds of the excursion will be devoted to a fund for the erection of a 40 hours' hospital and soldiers of the city who have fallen in the service.

The ceremony of the anniversary celebration at the Fair Grounds will begin at 10 A. M., when the Declaration of Independence will be read by Mr. J. F. Smith, President of the Association.

This will be followed, after a short service of exercises, sports and exhibitions will follow.

THE ATLANTIC INSURANCE COMPANY.—By reference to notes elsewhere, it will be seen that the company, under the name of the original administrators of Edward Biggs, F. G. Biggs, and E. F. F. Sawyer, Secretary, is now prepared to take fire, marine, river and inland insurance, and to issue policies of marine, life and accident insurance.

The company's office is at 123 Gravier street, between Camp and St. Charles.

SOLDING PRINCIPLES TO THE NORTH.

No long since, 100 barrels of tobacco were shipped from Alexandria, Va., to extreme Southern States, whether for industrial or personal purposes was not clearly ascertainable. If it had either been sent to the rebels, or to the slaves, or to the southern population.

Lake ports certainly would, but the sale of a large number of barrels to the slaves, or to the rebels, or to the southern population.

This last movement is to be attributed to the efforts of some persons who are engaged in profiting by the South, but it could be easily seen that it was never the day when they could furnish an abundant supply of material for the rebels, or for their own resources.

Dear Mr. Editor:—The Southern ports have been recently made free ports of all the states of Virginia and other states in the North.

seen that it was never the day when they could furnish an abundant supply of material for the rebels, or for their own resources.
