European Times some idea may be formed of the elected of the return of the Peel ministry upon all branches of trade—

Sir Robert Peel's resumption of power immediately made used feith every branch of trade. Considered with the present of the return of the state of the return of the Peel ministry upon all branches of trade—

Sir Robert Peel's resumption of power immediately made used feith every branch of trade. Considered, which had been shattered by the railway name, became paralized when it was known that Peel was out; the markets feit, the funds sunk, business was out; the markets feit, the funds sunk, business was out; the markets feit, the funds sunk, business was out; the markets feit, the funds sunk, business was suspended, and a gloom, a mist hung over the romnercial and trading world. These evils are faits usualing with the causes which called them into existence. Upwards of ten days have classed since it became known that Peel was again Premier; and every day has shown improved symptoms in the profuser, share, money, and other markets. This changappears the more extraordiary, from the fact that his nurre policy as as much a matter of speculation as the new comet-even more undefined, undeveloped. No-body knows what Peel will do, but every one his soundance in Peel—a singular proof of the hold which ime powerful mind has over the sympathies and the prospects of millions of peeple. The London Examiner withly observes, in reference to this prevailing feeling. The beauty of the present juncture is, that nobody knows what Sir Robert Peel is going to dy, and yet every body is saturated that he is the man to do nobody knows what Sir Robert Peel, or whether that policy will be seriously modified by recent events and the continued agritation on the subject of the Com Laws, are matters altogether of conjecture. By some it was said that the peconstruction of the cabinet involved a compromise on the Com Laws.

OREGON AND THE PRESIDENT'S MES

SAGE.
The message of Mr. Polk reached Liver The message of Mr. Polk reached Liverpool on the 22d December, by the packet ship Ser, and was immediately expedited to London and Parls. It was of course perused with avidity, and dominented upon freely. The strictures of both the English and course persased with avidity, and commented upon freely. The strictures of both the English and French press appear to be generally free from all irritation and violence. According to Wilmer & Smith's Pisses, the message has agreeably disappoint-ed expensation in the well-times discretions in which it includes respecting a liberal hariff. If the Oregon jo the base, the proposed reduction of the needs in the assistance in the new Freedent's missive to Committee.

ready builted the negotiations of so many years. But we do not Selvey that the question can be brought to such an issue. We do not think that "Concress will make provision" for giving reflect to Mr. Polk a insane counsels. There are various counsels at the substitution of the polky of the Excossity Government in America, is but the reflex of the opinious of the party or interest precommant for the tipic being, changing as these opinions vary, and necessarily adjusting tossit to severy difference as it aries. The great agricultural interest of the West, is sit this moment in the ascendant, and Mr. Polks in it type and its representative, both in its wishes and its resentances. The conduct of his Government, therefore, depends upon the views entertained in the West, and these views are susceptible of great modification, by the course which this country thinks proper to pursue.

The Chronicle then goes on at great length to argue that one of the great objects of the West is to estab-

that Sir Robert Peel will establish his floveroment on the broad basis of the repeal of the Corn Laws,—that this will be so profitable a policy as to ensure the continuance of peace, and that all things considered, circumstances will render the President's Message "as harmless," for as ansusing, as a nursery rhyme."

Such are the views of the two prominent organs of public opinion in Great Britain. Every journal, however, has sorbething to say. The Exastiner, an able weekly, praises the tone of the message as moderate and persuasive, and in reference to the last proposition of Mr. Polk observes that "when two great nations have come so very near an argument, and left nendations of the message entirely pacific, and appro-mendations of the message cutterly pacific, and apprehends no serious issue, though they be all carried out by Congress. The following passage, is extremely significant:

With respect to the notice for terministing the joint occupation of Oregon, we are not sure that Prendent Polk may not receive if from the English Government before he can possibly be in a condition to give it himself. But whether given by the one side or the other, we do not conceive that it will add materially, if at all, to the chance of a hostile collision. It has been obvious enough for some time past, that, unless the question can be amicably settled in a yeary short period, say in 12 menths at the latest, hardly anything can prevent war; and, therefore, a decisive step like that of giving notice for putting an end to the subsisting agreement, in rather shownable than otherwise. When both Governments know that the alternative is an arrangement in a year, or war, they will see that there is no time to be lost in useless discussion, and will probably hit good some compromise to which both can accord.

The Lecal Mercury, published in the heart of the woolen manufactures, says the message is exactly what was anticipated, but thinks its demands, with regard to Oregon incompatible with honorable compromise, and considers the present aspect of the question extremely serious.

With respect to the French press, its comments are of less immediate importance. The Journal des Di-buts, the Government organ, berates the message, its style, pretensions, recommendations and doctrines in bots, the Government organ, berates the message, its style, pretensions, recommisendations and doctrines in very abusing terms; considers its tone indicative of any thing but a spirit of conciliation; concludes that war must follow the adoption by Congress of the measures urged by Mr. Polk; hopes that the Senate will interpose to check the offensive attitude of the House of Representatives; designates Mr. Polk; pass at France for her proceedings in the Texas affair as "arringance;" vindicates en passans, the doctrine of the balance of power on this continent, and blows up the United States for what it terms, and staff is the antidote in the new Freedom's missive to Constitution. The London Times, a paper of great ability, to view the immungs clabarately. From its article recitives the fallowing passages relative to Ovegon;

Highway Robbeny.—Grandison Garther yesterday made affidavit before Recorder Genois that he had been stopped the night before last, opposite the Beef market, by two men who compaened searching his pockets. Finding nothing in them, they "took his hat," and a handkerchief, which was in it, and then attempted to take his watch. He, however, called out "watch," and by this piece of mandeuvering he saved his time piece, although the watch could not lay hands on the robbers. Gaither recognised their faces.
