

THE DAILY HERALD
A DAILY PAPER
MORNING & EVENING.
M. D. WILSON, P. R. BROWN, PUBLISHERS.

THE DAILY HERALD

THE DAILY HERALD

Tuesday Morning, July 19, 1855.

17° The Northern Mail came through yesterday with the latest news.

ANOTHER APPEAL

As we scarcely broke the silence of a week, we will now add a few words to the White State Convention, which is to assemble at New Orleans on the second Monday in August. They are our whist brothers, who, though good, take no interest in the Whig party. We receive by reference to the journal published in the interval that throughout the State, and in most of the cities, the Whigs have already met and chosen Delegates. An annual spirit pervades the Whig ranks in the various cities, and the time has come when the November election shall be surely contested. We have recently conversed with several men from the South, who are in full sympathy with us, and are heartily grieved to find that they are, in their hearts, so much divided. They had no idea that the methods of the last Legislature had given birth to a party, the members of whom themselves are disposed of the value of their late representatives, and will do all they can to oppose them on the field of battle. Not only will they make every effort to reverse their acts, but the State will undoubtedly be redeemed from the prevailing influence of the Slaveholders.

The New Orleans Queen of Heaven, West, No. 1, is now in full flower. The Camp at Chalmette was opened yesterday, and the ladies of the city, Friday, and the next day,悉 wore the uniform of the "Garrison." Madeline Theodore, the operatic singer, came to the meeting, and the ladies of the city, in their dresses, were in full sympathy with the cause of freedom.

Burke's opera of Beaumarchais was promised for the 19th, but very few tickets were sold.

The New Orleans Queen of Heaven, West, No. 1, is now in full flower. The Camp at Chalmette was opened yesterday, and the ladies of the city, Friday, and the next day,悉 wore the uniform of the "Garrison."

Madeline Theodore, the operatic singer, came to the meeting, and the ladies of the city, in their dresses, were in full sympathy with the cause of freedom.

It is now evident that the Whigs have done all they can to support the cause of the slaves, and will do all they can to reverse their acts.

We would meet again in these parts, but the time has come when the Whigs have already met and chosen Delegates.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

Whig party.

They are our whist brothers, who,

though good, take no interest in the

ADVERTISING BY THE HERALD.

Mr. George D. Scott, a young man of great promise, has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of

the public.

He is a young man

of great promise,

and has

been engaged to

conduct the

newspaper

in the interest of</