

TAMMANY IS SATISFIED

MR. GILROY INTERVIEWED AT NEW-ORLEANS.

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY AND HARD
WORK ELECTED MR. CLEVELAND—
TAMMANY BELIEVES HE WILL BE A
DEMOCRAT—THE SOCIETY SAFE IN THE HANDS OF RICHARD CROKER.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Mayor-elect Gilroy of New-York City arrived here this morning and took quarters for a few days at the St. Charles Hotel. He gave THE TIMES's correspondent a cordial reception. Naturally he was asked as to the Democratic victory, and responded readily and rapidly.

"It was a very great victory," said he, "but the victors ought not to crow. They ought to be magnanimous. What is my opinion as to the causes of the victory? I think it was owing to three reasons:

"First, the Force bill. New-York received some object lessons on that subject under Davonport. In the South the future liberty of the people depended upon the success of the Democracy, so that the country was united in its opposition to the measure.

"The second reason was the tariff and the absurd inequalities of the McKinley bill.

"The third factor was that Democratic harmony existed in New-York City, and that influenced every Democratic constituency in the country. The belief was broadcast that without New-York Cleveland could not be elected, and without Democratic harmony New-York could not be carried. The fact that there was harmony, stimulated and encouraged all the friends of Democracy throughout the land."

"What of the future?"

"The Democratic Party assumes a great responsibility in obtaining full control of all the departments of the Government for the first time in, perhaps, half a century. With great power comes great responsibility, and the future of the party depends upon the wisdom and prudence of those who will have charge of the administration of the Government.

"One great advantage which the Democracy will derive from the election of Grover Cleveland at this time is the fact that he is not new to the office, and his experience will prove of the highest value."

"Do you think that he will pursue a different course as to appointments?"

"I prefer not to answer that question, as it involves a discussion as to Mr. Cleveland's former acts, and I do not wish to discuss it. I am satisfied that he will be a Democrat, and that whatever he thinks best for the future success of the party will be cheerfully done."

"Tammany did her share of the harmonizing?"

"To no one is Democratic harmony so much due as to Richard Croker."

"Were there any Mugwumps this time?"

"There did not appear to be any around in New-York this election. If any of them voted for Cleveland and not for me it was not apparent in the result. The Democratic Mugwumps were all Democrats and the Republican Mugwumps were all Republicans."

"What is the general feeling of the Northern Democracy toward the South?"

"The feeling is one of the closest friendship. If the South has friends anywhere in the North they are in the Democratic Party. There is every disposition to aid in building up the interests of the South. The interests of the South are the interests of the whole country, and whatever injuries one section serves to injure all.

The Democratic Party will be more than liberal and generous as to its treatment of the South. Besides that the South will have a large representation in the Government, and will have something to say on her own account.

"As to your own future policy as Mayor of New-York?"

"I have not given that matter a thought."

"How about Tammany's future?"

"The opposition to Tammany has about died out, and the grounds for future criticism will depend upon Tammany itself. Many have come into the Tammany camp to scoff and have remained to pray. They will be given no cause to leave.

"As long as Croker is in the lead there will be no trouble about the future. Prudence and moderation are his watchwords, and they mean success."

"You credit organization for a part of Democratic success?"

"Yes, Sir. The result shows that with organization the Democratic Party is almost invincible. Without organization it would easily have been defeated. The party is better organized to-day than ever before in its history."
