

Commissioner.

EVERY JOHNSTON.
NEW YORK, NOV. 18.—The most important event in the history of the State of New York is the election of John Johnson, of Albany, to the Senate. He was elected by a large majority, and will be a valuable member of the Legislature.

The following is the only return from the State of New York, which was received by the Secretary of State on the 17th instant:

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

In three states out of the Union, the Democrats won the election. In Mississippi, the Republicans were defeated, and the Legislature in the hands of the Democrats. In Alabama, the Republicans were defeated, and the Legislature in the hands of the Democrats. In Louisiana, the Republicans were defeated, and the Legislature in the hands of the Democrats.

The most important of these elections was undoubtedly the one in the Empire State, and the result is looked upon with anxiety and apprehension by the whigs, with some apprehension by their opponents. The latter reason for the future from the past, they have achieved an almost undisputed victory, among the electors, they believe that New York will form no exception to the general rule.

Let us see how the Empire State has been decided for the last four years.

To Mr. V. B. Tracy's election New York had given a strong support. The Democrats had a majority of 15,000.
