Paris, Sth January. An extract of a letter from Warsaw, published this evening in the Messager, runs thus:

"The whole talk of the day, among us, is about a new King from the French stock. The throne of the Piasts the Jagellons and the Sobiaki, is a glorious throne. Why should Louis Philip refuse to give us one of his Sons! Were it even the youngest? It is the wish of the na tion. What a splendid alliance between two mations linked by so many reminiscences as France and Poland are! The early presence of a French Chargé d'Affaires is ardently wished for in Warsaw." Whilst such is the expression of feelings, in Warsaw, in favor of our popular roy. alty; in Brussels, it is in the very bosom of Congress, that the expediency of conferring the crown on a French Prince is agitated, and the refusal emenates from our cabinet.
