PENMANSHIP, PRACTICAL & ORNAMENTAL, taught at Pelthan's writing academy, at the corner of Canal street and Exchange place. At the request of a number of pupils the art of teaching writing has received in various parts of the United States, and the increasing application for instructions in the science, as well as the practice of writing, has induced them to establish private and public classes in New York, New Orleans and Mobile, and it is their intention to afford greater facilities for the acquisition of penmanship, than are afforded by any other institution in this country. Penmanship is one of the arts, have the privilege of attending either of the others, without extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. Specimens of rapid improvement, given by persons from 8 to 50 years of age, and the terms of lessons in this city, may be seen at any hour of the day.

Ladies are taught a delicate and rapidly circulatory style; also, various styles of Ornamental Writing, suited to Ball Cards, Notice of Lectures, &c. &c.

Gentlemen are taught a free and expeditious handwriting, calculated to facilitate business transactions, by dispensing with the delay incident to deciphering the hieroglyphical scrawl of most men of business, and imparting to the clerk a style at once rapid and elegant.

The hours of attendance are so arranged as to suit the convenience of each pupil, and for the accommodation of those whose business does not admit of daily taking lessons during the day, there is a night class, beginning at 7½ o'clock.

The number of lessons is not limited, but every person who enters is desired to remain until he writes sufficiently well for any kind of business. This is the interest of both teacher and pupil.

A liberal deduction in charge made to families and to classes formed in any part of the city.

Ladies who prefer it, can receive lessons at their own residences. Ornamental writing executed with elegance.

Diplomas filled out and complimentary notes executed in the most tasteful manner.
