The State of Iowa

THE State of Iowa completed its first century of statehood December 28, 1946. Iowa was the 29th state of the Union, first free state west of the Mississippi river. On a stone in the Washington national monument is this inscription:

"Iowa, her affections like the rivers of her borders, flow to an inseparable Union."

The State Seal of Iowa displays a banner on which is the state motto: "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain."

The first century of statehood witnessed the splendid growth of the state in population and wealth, and its wholesome expansion in social and community activities. When the responsibilities of self-government were assumed, the population of the state was about 100,000; now the state has approximately two and a half million people.

Iowa was a part of the vast Province of Louisiana purchased by the United States from France. Other states had been formed in this region; but Iowa was the first state carved out and established with soil forever dedicated to human freedom. The probationary time as a territory was for eight and a half years and it had been only 13 years since the first legal settlements. Mining of lead had been engaged in by Dubuque since 1788, by favor of the Indians, and there had been feeble efforts at colonization along the river under Spanish grants; but not until 1833, following the Black Hawk war, did the home seekers secure title to their holdings.

During the first 160 years following the voyage of Joliet and Marquette down the Mississippi river in 1673, the land that is now Iowa was a favorite hunting and trapping ground for a number of tribes of Indians. Adventurers, miners, fur buyers, traders, followed the worn trails along the valleys and over the prairies.

Spanish and French monarchs had vague claims of jurisdiction over the region, but the standard of neither country had ever been set up permanently in any part of what is now Iowa. The United States closed out the French claim by purchase in 1803, after which local authority shifted frequently; namely, Indiana territory given jurisdiction, 1804; Louisiana territory organized with St. Louis capitol, 1805; Iowa included in Missouri territory, 1812; when Missouri became a state, Iowa left without government, 1821; Territory of Michigan with capitol at Detroit given jurisdiction, 1834; became the major part of Wisconsin territory, 1836; organized and named Territory of Iowa, 1838; statehood first authorized, 1845; organized as a state, 1846.

Iowa had been the home for many centuries of American red men, who succeeded an unknown race of pottery makers and mound builders, but few Indians were seen by the first explorers. A small band of friendly Indians entertained Joliet and Marquette at a camp on the Des Moines river near its mouth. A century later, the Sac and Fox federation of two Algonquin tribes had villages along the Mississippi river, where they cultivated land and had permanent homes. They had migrated originally from the Atlantic coast and before settling in Iowa had united for defense. When Illinois became a state, they were driven from their homes east of the river, and their lands bought or confiscated. Chief Black Hawk, the military leader of the Sac tribe, made heroic resistance, but was taken to Washington and kept a prisoner for a time.

The Sac and Fox federation had been chief occupant of the land along the Mississippi valley, and in 1833, following the Black Hawk war, a large part of their land in Iowa was taken by the United States and opened for settlement. The Black Hawk purchase, through which the Iowa river flows, was the beginning of Iowa, and by later acquisitions the entire state was opened for the use of the pioneers.

While the Sac and Fox federation claimed the eastern and central part of Iowa, there were other tribes having rights and making use of the hunting grounds. The Iowa tribe wandered all over the state. The Winnebagoes were given land in northeast Iowa, but later were moved north. The Pottawattamies lived along the Missouri river, and were associated with the Otoes, Omahas and others. The Sioux tribe, of the Dakotah nation, claimed all northern Iowa and not until long after statehood was their title extinguished.

The Mesquakie Indians, now living in Iowa, are a branch of the Fox tribe, who returned after removal to the south.

The United States maintained several forts in Iowa or along the borders. Fort Madison, in Lee county, was maintained for a time after 1808. Fort Armstrong was placed on Rock Island in 1816. Fort Crawford had been maintained at Prairie du Chien many years. Fort Atkinson was located on the "neutral strip" and Fort Croghan was on the Missouri. In 1834, Fort Des Moines was built at Montrose, and the second Fort Des Moines was located at the Raccoon fork of the Des Moines in 1843. Fort Clark was maintained for a brief time at Fort Dodge. The present Fort Des Moines was established as a cavalry post at the state capitol in 1900.

The site for the capital city of Iowa was first studied by Gen. Stephen W. Kearny, then a colonel in command of the first Fort Des Moines, who in 1835 brought a company of dragoons to the Raccoon forks looking for a good place to establish a military post. He was accompanied by Capt. Nathan Boone, son of Daniel, and by Lieut. Albert M. Lea, who published a description of central Iowa and made a map on which he named this the "Iowa district." From this the territory formed soon afterwards took its name.

Although there were only 22,859 people in the twenty-two counties west of the river when Iowa was set off as a territory, agitation for statehood commenced almost at once. One obstacle was the unwillingness of Congress, as then constituted, to admit any free soil state without also adding a slave state, so that the slave states would at all time have control of the senate. Several states had been so paired off for admission. The bill authorizing admission of Iowa in 1845 also provided for admission of Florida, one free and one slave state.

The people of Iowa and Congress disagreed as to the proper boundaries for Iowa, and Iowa twice rejected what was offered. Congress proposed that the western one-third of the state should not be included, but that all of southeastern Minnesota should be a part of Iowa. The Iowa people finally got the boundaries as they are now and a year and a half after admission was authorized, the final act of admission was passed and the state proclaimed, December 28, 1846.

When the territory was organized, Brevet Brig. Gen. Henry Atkinson was named territorial governor of Iowa, but declined the appointment and Robert Lucas was named and assumed the office. General Lucas had been governor of Ohio and had fought in the American wars. When the state was organized, Ansel Briggs of Jackson county, had been elected to be the first governor of the state. The general assembly met and enacted laws before the final act of admission was completed at the national capital:

Burlington had been the capital of the Territory of Wisconsin and became the first capital of the Territory of Iowa. Later this was moved to Iowa City which became the first state capital, and so remained until the year 1857 when the capital was removed to Des Moines. The capitol building at Iowa City was turned over to the State university and a temporary statehouse was occupied at Des Moines while the present state capitol was being built.

The state constitution under which Iowa had entered the Union and which had been hastily prepared in 1844 and remodeled in 1846, was discarded and a new constitution adopted in 1857, which has since been several times amended. Slavery was forbidden from the start, but voting rights were reserved for white persons until 1868. Liberal school legislation was enacted at the outset. Elections were held every year until the biennial election system was adopted in 1904.

Iowa was strongly democratic in politics as a territory and for the first eight years of the state. In 1854 the whigs elected the governor, who helped the free soil element organize the republican party, which dominated for 35 years. In 1890 a democrat became governor, because of dissensions over policy as to alcoholic drinks. Then followed eleven republican administrations, when in 1933 the democrats again seated two governors, who were followed by four republicans to the present time. In 1907 the law required that all party nominations be made at primary elections.

By 1860 the state had 674,000 people, and for the war that came soon after furnished 76,000 volunteers.

In the period 1860 to 1870, the population increased to 1,194,000 after which the growth was slower.

The land area of the state is 55,586 square miles, or 35,575,040 acres, and the water surface 561 square miles. The maximum elevation of the state above sea level is about 1,600 feet.

Literacy in Iowa is at the top, racial and labor controversies are little known, state educational and correctional institutions are well supported, and the population is fairly well divided as between urban and rural residents. Iowa schools have a nationwide reputation as among the very best in the country.

Iowa State Capitol

By Ora Williams

Former Curator, State Department of History and Archives

THE administrative, legislative and judicial functions of the State of Iowa are centralized in an imposing and substantial state capitol occupying a prominent place in a spacious park on a hill commanding the capital city of Des Moines.

In its architectural features, its lines of simple beauty, its convenient interior arrangement, and in its decoration and adornment, the Iowa State capitol compares favorably with those of other states. It has served well the needs of the state as a seat of government for more than half of the state's first century of statehood. The surrounding grounds, or park, provide a setting which in extent and attractiveness is unequaled. The state has an investment in this plant for the transaction of public business of over seven million dollars.

The governor and other elective state officials have offices in the capitol, on the first or main floor, conveniently grouped around two central halls in the form of a cross, the offices amply, but not luxuriantly, furnished with modern equipment. On this floor sits the highest judicial tribunal of the state, in the supreme court chambers, which harmonize with the dignity and importance of that body. The legislative chambers are on the second floor, while in the basement and on the third floor there are many business offices and work rooms. The law library, and many needed committee rooms, are on the second floor. The speaker of the house and the lieutenant governor have offices near the large halls for the senate and the house.

The architectural design of the capitol, rectangular in form, with great windows and high ceilings, follows the traditional pattern of the nineteenth century planning for public buildings, a modified and refined Romanesque style which gives the impression of strength and dignity combined with utility, both severely plain and handsomely decorated.

The commanding feature of the capitol is the central towering dome. It is constructed of steel and stone and is entirely covered with pure gold, which glistening in the sunlight can be seen from far distant places. The dome is surmounted by a lookout lantern, that may be reached by long and winding stairs, and it terminates in a finial that is 275 feet above the ground floor. The rotunda beneath the dome is 67 feet in diameter. Four smaller domes of simple design rise from the four corners of the capitol. The pediment over the front entrance discloses a fine piece of allegorical sculpture.

The exterior is entirely of stone, of several kinds and differing qualities, with elaborate columns and handsomely designed cornices and capitals. The substructure is of a dark and coarse-grained attractive stone quarried in Iowa. This is topped by a heavy course of vari-colored and beautifully-marked granite cut from boulders scattered by glacial action over the prairies of the state. The superstructure, or main part of the building, is of a sandstone of a delicate buff color, fine-grained in texture, secured from Missouri in quarries along the Mississippi river. The approaches to the capitol are by four sets of steps mainly of granite.

The interior finish of the capitol is of native wood—cherry, walnut, catalpa, oak and butternut. There is much fine wood carving, and the supreme court bench is especially handsome as to material and workmanship. The main floors are of tile. Wainscoting and shelving are of marble, American and foreign, and some of this is very rare and unusual. There are imposing columns in the rotunda of fine sandstone, and on the second floor of granite, and in the legislative chambers of fabricated stone.

In size the capitol is 364 feet north and south by 247 wide. The cross-halls meet in the rotunda, with a wide opening from the basement floor to the base of the dome. The house chamber is in size 79x91.4 feet, with ceiling 47.9 feet high; the senate chamber is 58x91.4 feet and 41.9 to the ceiling. Each member of the General Assembly is provided with a separate desk, 108 in the house and 50 in the senate, and the house is equipped with an electric vote recording system.

The most attractive feature of the decoration is a large oil painting on the east wall over the grand stairway that leads from first to second story. It bears the title "Westward," and is an allegorical representation of the hard journey of a frontiersman and his family, with a covered wagon drawn by four sturdy oxen, on their way from the lush fields of their homeland into the wilderness that was to become their Iowa. A convoy of lovely angels guides them and their possessions to their destiny. The picture is the work of Edwin H. Blashfield, and is a beautiful work of art, inspiring in its symbolism, and it has had the commendation of many historians and artists.

Six imposing mosaics, or paintings reproduced in stone of brilliant colors, are just above the picture "Westward." These are representative of the arts, the science and the culture of the people of the midland region. They are designed by Frederick Dielman and the craftsmanship was by skilled artists in Italy. High in the rotunda there are twelve pieces of fine statuary, and beneath these there are eight lunettes, or decorative paintings in half-circle, done by Kenyon Cox. The supreme court chamber originally had a series of magnificent symbolic paintings on canvas, but these now adorn the reception room in the state historical building. After the fire, the entire interior was decorated in modest and modern designs.

The battle flags carried by the Iowa regiments in various wars are preserved in niches on the main floor. In the west hall is a fine plaque done by Nellie V. Walker in commemoration of the work of Iowa women in the fight for civic and political equality. In the south hall is a monster photograph in colors, showing the grand review of Iowa troops on return from France.

The history of the state capitol, the choosing of the location, the construction thereof, and provision for a proper setting and surroundings, covers the whole period of statehood. Almost every step taken during the state's first century encountered opposition from selfish or sectional interests, or from pretended reasons of economy, and this was true as to the proper site near the center of the state, the size and character of the building and securing the necessary ground for the plant and equipment in which to transact the business of the state.

The wisdom of a central location in the state for the seat of government was recognized by the First General Assembly, and before the state was two months old, a resolution was adopted looking to that end. A commission was authorized to choose a site and lay out a capitol city, which was done, but the location did not meet with approval and the project was abandoned. Eight years later in 1855 the Fifth General Assembly, despite fierce opposition, by legislative act directed the location of the state capitol near the Raccoon forks of the Des Moines river. The precise place for the building was entrusted to a commission and a site was selected halfway between the abandoned old Fort Des Moines and the scene of the last Indian agency on "Keokuk's Prairie." This place was decided upon because of the generous donation by citizens of Des Moines of a nine-acre tract and several buildings for a temporary capitol which was in use for nearly thirty years.

By proclamation of Governor Grimes in 1857 the city of Des Moines became the state capitol, and near the close of that year the books and papers of the state were brought from Iowa City, the old territorial and first state capitol.

The state capitol was in process of building fifteen years. The Thirteenth General Assembly, in 1870, created a commission which selected the design, commenced work and in November, 1871, laid the cornerstone. The plan adopted was a modified composite of several designs submitted in competition. Messrs. Bell & Hackney were employed as supervising architects. Material for the foundation was purchased from Iowa quarries, as directed by law; but the stone proved unsubstantial and nearly all had to be removed.

The first building commission was discharged and a second was authorized to take charge of construction. Work proceeded under direction of a supervisor and foreman, a working force was employed by the day, and material and equipment was purchased on bids or by contract. The legislature made small appropriations every two years and the work proceeded as rapidly as funds and material would permit.

The cornerstone was relaid by the second commission on September 29, 1873, and it contains manuscripts, books, coins, money and historical material. It is simply inscribed "Iowa, A. D. 1873."

Construction had been so nearly completed that the legislative halls were occupied and many of the state offices when dedication was made in 1884. The temporary capitol was in use, however, for the supreme court and some other offices; but in 1886 the supreme court chambers were occupied. The work of the commission was brought to a close June 30, 1886. There was never a hint of misuse of public funds in connection with the construction, and a final audit of the $3,296,256 expended showed a net error of only $3.77 in computation of bills and accounts.

In 1902, in order to modernize the capitol and make needed changes and repairs, a third capitol commission was created and appropriations made for the work. While this work proceeded, there occurred a disastrous fire in the north wing on January 4, 1904, which ruined the house chamber and damaged other offices. The commission restored the building, purchased paintings and mosaics, and redecorated the entire interior.

THE STATE BANNER

On March 29, 1921, the Thirty-ninth General Assembly adopted a resolution designating a design for a flag to be known as the "State Banner."

The banner was designed by the "Iowa Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution," and consists of three vertical stripes of blue, white and red, with the blue stripe nearest the staff and the white stripe in the center depicting a spreading eagle bearing in its beak blue streamers on which is inscribed in white letters the state motto, "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain." The word "Iowa" in red letters is just below the streamers.

THE WILD ROSE, THE STATE FLOWER OF IOWA

The Wild Rose was officially designated as the flower of the state by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly in extraordinary session. The resolution was adopted May 7, 1897.

THE EASTERN GOLDFINCH, THE STATE BIRD OF IOWA

The Forty-fifth General Assembly, by a concurrent resolution adopted March 22, 1933, designated the Eastern Goldfinch (Spinus tristis tristis), as the official Iowa bird. The Goldfinch is generally designated as a wild canary.

STATE HOUSE GROUNDS

STATE HOUSE GROUNDS

The Iowa State Capitol Park

IT HAD become evident early in the present century that the state needed more room for the transaction of business properly at the state capitol, and the Thirty-fifth General Assembly authorized an enlargement of the capitol grounds. A special tax levy was made, and with the proceeds, the state purchased lots and residences and business houses adjacent to the cramped public area sufficient to embrace over 93 acres in the park. Several hundred buildings were removed or taken down at a total cost of about $3,000,000.

The most conspicuous object on the capitol grounds is the Iowa monument to the soldiers and sailors of the Civil war on ground formerly occupied by the temporary state capitol. This is a granite shaft 145 feet high, surmounted by a heroic bronze figure of "Victory"; while at the base there are four groups representing different branches of the military or naval service, and numerous historical plaques and medallion portraits of typical soldiers. The original design was by Harriet A. Ketcham and work was commenced in 1894. The plan for removal of this monument to a more appropriate location on the mall east of the capitol has never been done.

A striking monument in memory of the late Sen. Wm. B. Allison stands near by, the gift of Gen. Grenville M. Dodge. This is an allegorical design of heroic dimensions, depicting civic duties in the public service, and it is encompassed by a fountain.

A small and appropriate memorial to Christopher Columbus, erected by Iowa citizens of Italian ancestry, stands near by. West of the capitol, at the head of Locust street, is an impressive bronze statuary group depicting "The Pioneer." The cannon and mortar on the grounds are of Civil war days. The grave of Willson A. Scott, one of those who gave the state the capitol grounds, is near where he lived and is appropriately marked. A bronze cannon taken in the Spanish-American war, and the headpiece of the Battleship Iowa, are near the historical building. A granite block dedicated to the soldiers of the Spanish-American war veterans stands on the plaza east of the capitol.

The state historical department occupies one of the most beautiful public buildings of the state on ground northeast of the capitol now embraced in the capitol park. This was erected near the close of the last century as a home for the department founded by the late Charles Aldrich in 1892 some ten years after he and his wife had presented the state with their magnificent collection of autographs and other historical material. The state historical building is 260x110 feet in size and cost 375,000. In it are found not only the state's collection of historical material of every kind, the state historical and genealogical library, a wonderful portrait collection, the state museums, and the priceless state archives, but also the state traveling library, the state medical library, and the state vital statistics records. The Kasson memorial hall, a short distance away, has recently been purchased by the department for an archives work room and is partly used for that purpose.

The magnificent golden dome of the capitol, one of the largest in the world, is a landmark that can be seen for many miles. The capitol, the state historical building, and the capitol park are visited annually by thousands of people of Iowa and tourists from other states. On the grounds there are several very large native trees, and the grounds are further adorned by many shrubs, trees and flowers .

The Song of Iowa.

Air: "Der Tannenbaum."* (My Maryland.)

By S. H. M. BYERS.

1. You ask what land I love the best, I - o - wa, 'tis I - o - wa, The
2. See yon - der fields of tassel'd corn, I - o - wa, in I - o - wa, Where fair - est State of all the west, I - o - wa, O! I - o - wa. From Plen - ty fills her gold - en horn, I - o - wa, in I - o - wa. See yon - der Mis - sis - sip - pi's stream To where Mis - sou - ri's wa - ters gleam O!

how her won - drous prai - ries shine To yon - der sun - set's pur - pling line, O!

fair it is as po - et's dream, I - o - wa, in I - o - wa.
hap - py land, O! land of mine, I - o - wa, O! I - o - wa.

3 And she has maids whose laughing eyes,
Iowa, O! Iowa,
To him who loves were Paradise,
Iowa, O! Iowa.
O! happiest fate that e'er was known,
Such eyes to shine for one alone,
To call such beauty all his own,
Iowa, O! Iowa.

4 Go read the story of thy past,
Iowa, O! Iowa,
What glorious deeds, what fame thou hast!
Iowa, O! Iowa.
So long as time's great cycle runs,
Or nations weep their fallen ones,
Thou'lt not forget thy patriot sons,
Iowa, O! Iowa.

* "Der Tannenbaum," the old air to which this song is sung, was a popular German Students' song as early as 1879. It had been a Volks song long before that, even. During our Civil War, the Southerners adapted it to the song "My Maryland."

WILLIAM S. BEARDSLEY, New Virginia

Salary, $12,000 annually

Term ends January, 1951

Norma Mathis, Executive Secretary, Des Moines, Iowa.

The supreme executive power of the state is vested in the Governor, whose term of office is two years.

No person is eligible who has not been a citizen of the United States and resident of this state two years next preceding the election, and attained the age of thirty years at the time of said election.

He is commander-in-chief of the military forces of the state.

He transacts all executive business with the officers of government, civil and military.

When any office, from any cause, becomes vacant, and no mode is provided by the constitution and laws for filling such vacancy, the Governor has power to fill such vacancy.

He may convene the General Assembly in extraordinary session.

He is required to communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the state, and may make such recommendations to the body as he shall judge expedient.

In case of disagreement between the two houses with respect to the time of adjournment, the Governor has power to adjourn the General Assembly to such time as he may think proper, but no such adjournment shall be beyond the time fixed for the regular meeting of the next General Assembly.

All bills, including appropriations, must be submitted to him for approval, and a two-thirds vote of both branches of the Legislature is required to pass a bill over his veto.

The Governor has power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment. Upon conviction for treason, he has power to suspend the execution of sentence until the case shall be reported to the General Assembly. He has power to remit fines and forfeitures, and shall report to the General Assembly, at its next meeting each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, and the reasons therefor.

He appoints all principal officers of the state not elected by the people, and certain officers connected with the state government, by and with the consent of the Senate.

He signs patents for state lands, and appoints and commissions notaries public and commissioners in other states to take acknowledgments of deeds for this state.

He may demand fugitives from justice from the executives of other states, and may issue warrants, upon the request of other governors, for fugitives found in this state.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

(Office located back of Senate Chamber)

KENNETH A. EVANS, Emerson
Salary, $4,000 each session

The Lieutenant Governor is elected for a term of two years and is required to have the same qualifications, as to age and residence, as the Governor.

In case of the death, impeachment, resignation, removal from office, or other disability of the Governor, the powers and duties of that office devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor, as Acting Governor.

The Lieutenant Governor is president of the Senate, but can only vote when the Senate is equally divided. In case of his death or other disability incapacitating him from discharging the duties of his office, the same devolve upon the president pro tempore of the Senate.

He receives the same mileage and expense allowance as a member and double the compensation of a senator. He maintains an office at the capitol building only during the meetings of the General Assembly.

SECRETARY OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

MELVIN D. SYNHORST, Sioux County
Salary, $6,500 annually
Term ends December 31, 1950.

Mildred R. Veatch, Van Buren County, Deputy Secretary of State.

Mary Grimes Gill, Page County, Secretary.

Edgar C. Corry, Jr., Polk County, Corporation Counsel and Chief Clerk, Land Office.

The office of Secretary of State is established by the Constitution of Iowa. Its three principal departments are the land office, the division of corporations and trademarks, and the general or custodial office.

Through his general office the Secretary of State serves as custodian of original and official documents of the state, including the constitution, the original statutes of Iowa, authenticated journals of the General Assembly, and election records. The bonds of various elective and appointive officials are filed in this department.

The state land office maintains the records of the annexation or severance of land by the state and by incorporated cities and towns. Records of original patents issued by the state are also kept in the state land office.

Under the law of Iowa, charters of corporations for pecuniary profit, corporations not for pecuniary profit and cooperative associations are granted by the Secretary of State. Foreign corporations doing business in Iowa are required to obtain permits from that officer. Protective registration of trademarks, labels and forms of advertising is provided by the state department. These statutes are administered by the division of corporations and trademarks.

The Secretary of State is ex-officio chairman of the Iowa Real Estate commission, is an ex-officio member of the State Executive council, the State Board of Health, the State Printing Board, the State Permit board and the Employment Agency commission.

AUDITOR OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

CHET B. AKERS, Ottumwa

Salary, $6,500 annually

Term expires December 31, 1950

Frank M. Hanson, Cedar Rapids, Deputy State Auditor.

Aletha Sayler, Ottumwa, Secretary.

The Auditor of State is a constitutional official and at least once each year makes full settlement between the state and all state officers and departments and all persons receiving or expending state funds, and makes a complete audit of the books, records and accounts of every department of state. These departments include the office of the governor, the executive council, state comptroller, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general, supreme court, superintendent of printing, adjutant general, state board of control and all institutions under its control, department of health, board of education and all institutions under its control, department of public instruction, department of agriculture, highway commission, liquor commission, state fair board, state tax commission (including sales, income and chain-store tax divisions), board of railroad commissioners, banking department, conservation commission, state relief associations, and all other departments, boards and commissions.

The Auditor of State also has charge of the municipal finance department, the county accounting department, the fiscal affairs of all political subdivisions including schools and school districts and building and loan associations. He appoints the county examiners, the municipal and school examiners, and the examiners of building and loan associations, examining their reports, conferring and discussing with said examiners the affairs of the counties, cities, etc., as disclosed by the reports, advising, suggesting and recommending such changes in policy as he deems expedient. All reports by building and loan associations and all fees, except fees for incorporation, are paid to him. No building and loan association can transact business in the state without a certificate of authority from the Auditor of State.

All offices of the 99 counties are examined annually, as well as all cities and townships of municipal corporations with a population of 2,000 or more and school districts with a population of 5,000 or more, but in cities, towns and school districts the audits are optional with the governing bodies and are made upon request.

For the purpose of examining, auditing and checking, the various departments of the state may be classified roughly into three groups, viz.: all those departments, boards and commissions located in or adjacent to the state house; the state highway commission and the institutions under control of the board of control and the board of education; counties, cities, towns and schools.

The Auditor of State submits annual and biennial reports to the governor, as well as individual audit reports. The annual reports are on municipal finances, and the biennial reports on the operations of the auditor's office, and on the state and county, and building and loan affairs, are as narrative and statistical as the auditor deems necessary, and the individual audit reports contain schedules, exhibits, comparative figures, etc.

Ex officio, the Auditor of State is a member of the executive council, printing board, geological board, bonus board and department of health.

TREASURER OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

J. M. GRIMES, Clarke County

Salary, $6,500 annually

Term expires December 31, 1950

Charles H. Barber, Cerro Gordo County, Deputy.

Harriet Bohrer, Polk County, Secretary.

E. D. Killam, Warren County, Cashier.

The Treasurer of State is a constitutional official. The public revenues of the state are received and disbursed by the treasury department. A record is maintained to show the sources of all income, the funds to which such incomes apply, the dates received, and the amounts received. Disbursements are made only upon warrants issued as certified by the state comptroller. A record is kept of each warrant paid, as well as the date of issuance, date of payment, to whom paid and against which fund such warrant is drawn.

When remittance of state revenue is made by bank draft, check or money order, such items are deposited for collection in a bank or banks in the state which have previously been duly designated and approved as depositories for state funds.

The Treasurer of State also handles funds diverted under the public fund deposit guarantee acts of the Forty-first General Assembly, reimbursing losses of public funds which may be sustained on deposits in banks placed in receivership for liquidation.

The Treasurer of State is ex-officio Treasurer of the Employment Security Commission, also, member of the Board of Trustees, and custodian of funds of the newly created Public Safety Peace Officers Retirement System. Member of World War I Soldiers Bonus Board and World War II Service Compensation Board.

The Treasurer of State shall maintain in the state treasury a cash balance sufficient to pay the anticipated expenditures by the Highway commission for the ensuing month. When necessary to restore the cash balance in the state treasury, he shall draw against the motor vehicle funds collected by the treasurers of each county of the state in proportion to the amounts in their possession, a sum sufficient in the aggregate to restore said cash balance. Such drafts shall be honored by the treasurer of each county upon presentation.

Acts of the 45th General Assembly Extraordinary Session, provides for the refund of the license fee paid when gasoline is not used on the public highways.

Acts of the 51st General Assembly require the Treasurer of State to collect from distributors a license fee of 4c per gallon on all gasoline used in the State of Iowa except when used in federal and state owned cars.

The 53rd General Assembly created a Road Use Tax Fund by embracing the following: All net proceeds of registration fees of motor vehicles; all motor vehicle fuel tax or license fees; the compensation tax on motor vehicle certified carriers; all revenue derived from use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, equipment and accessories for same; ten percent of net sales tax revenue and any other funds by law credited to the Road Use Tax Fund. The fund is distributed monthly as follows: To Primary Road 42 per cent; to Secondary Road Construction Fund 35 per cent; to Farm-to-Market Road Fund 15 per cent and to the Street Construction Fund of Cities and Towns on a population basis 8 per cent.

All accounts of the treasury department are audited daily by the Auditor of State and examined quarterly under the direction of the Governor.

The Iowa Department of Agriculture was created by the Fortieth General Assembly in 1923 for the express purpose of promoting and advancing the interests of agriculture. In creating an agricultural department, the Legislature abolished a number of existing bureaus and commissions, consolidated their work by placing it under the direction of one administrative officer who was made an elective state official.

At the present time, the Department of Agriculture is responsible for the administration of fifty-two laws and employs a field force of forty-nine inspectors and nine district veterinarians.

The Iowa Department of Agriculture is a most important branch of our state government. Its functions and services vitally affect the health and welfare of every person in the state. Public health is protected by the enforcement of sanitary laws relating to the production, manufacture, processing and sale of food products. Business interests and consumers alike are protected through the elimination of unfair competition by the impartial enforcement of laws relating to the adulteration and mislabeling of foods, paints, petroleum products, insecticides, feeds, fertilizers and seeds. Agriculture is benefited by livestock disease control, farm storage of grain, the promotion of farm shows and exhibits, control of noxious weeds and insect pests, and the enforcement of labeling and standardization laws relating to agricultural feeds, seeds and fertilizers. In addition, the department, in cooperation with the federal government, is responsible for service reports concerning weather, market news, crop statistics and crop estimates and yields.

The various divisions of the department and the work of each are set forth in the following outline:

In 1878, the Seventeenth General Assembly created a board of railroad commissioners consisting of three members to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the executive council. In 1888, the Twenty-second General Assembly passed a law making the commissioners elective. In 1937, the Forty-seventh General Assembly, by House File 133, changed the name from "board of railroad commissioners" to "Iowa State Commerce Commission."

The powers and duties of the Iowa state commerce commission are: to generally supervise all railroads in the state, both steam and electric, except street railroads; to inquire into any neglect or violation of the laws of the state by any railroad corporation doing business therein; to make examinations and inspections of the physical condition, conduct and management of such railroads and report their condition to said companies; to stop and prevent railroad companies, under certain circumstances, from running or passing their trains over unsafe bridges; to adjudge changes in station houses, rolling stock and rates of fare; to pass on necessity for spur tracks to be constructed and maintained not exceeding three miles in length to an existing industry under terms and conditions approved by the commission as set out by law; to make reasonable rules for the crossing of steam and interurban railways and to require, when necessary, interlocking switches at railroad crossings; to make report on first Monday in December in each year to the governor of its doings for the preceding year accompanied with appropriate suggestions and recommendations; to receive, tabulate and report upon the annual reports filed with it by railroad companies; to examine any of the books, papers or documents of any such corporation; to examine under oath employees of such corporation; to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses; to make and fix maximum schedules of freight rates for such corporations, such schedules to be deemed reasonable until disapproved; to examine into rates in force, upon complaint that the rate charged by a railroad company, or that the maximum rates fixed by the commission are unreasonably high or discriminating, and to fix the rate again, which must not be higher than any rate established by law, such decision of the commission being prima facie evidence that the rate so made is a reasonable minimum rate; to bring suits to enforce its orders; to inquire into the management of the business of such carriers and to obtain from them full and complete information necessary to enable the commissioners to carry out the objects of the law; to hear, investigate and determine all complaints alleging unreasonable rates, unjust discrimination, undue preference, violation of the long and short haul clause, or other infractions of the commission law, and make proper orders thereupon; to establish joint through rates, upon application, over two or more connecting lines; and to have the same authority over express companies as the act confers concerning railroads.

Before a railroad company may appropriate coal, coke or oil received for shipment, it must first secure the written consent of the commerce commission.

Before any railroad company may condemn lands for additional depot grounds, or for straightening or relocating track, the permission of the commission must be obtained. Interlocking switches may be placed at grade railroad crossings or draw bridges, thus obviating the necessity of stopping trains before passing over such grade crossings or draw bridges, but before the interlocking switch may be used consent of the commission must be obtained.

The Thirty-fifth General Assembly gave to the commission the power to grant to individuals or corporations "engaged in the manufacture, sale or distribution for sale of electric current for light, power or heating purposes, the right within the state, except in cities and towns, to erect and maintain poles, wires, towers, fixtures and other necessary construction for the purpose of conducting electricity for lighting, power and heating purposes, over, along and across any public lands, highways or streams or the land of any person or persons, and to acquire the necessary interests in real estate therefor." It also provided that transmission lines proceeding under the provisions of the law should be subject to "such reasonable regulations as the commission may from time to time prescribe."

The commission is directed by an act of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly to "undertake and carry forward such investigation and preparation as shall be necessary to properly represent the interests of the state in connection with the valuation of the property of common carriers now being conducted by the interstate commerce commission."

An act of the Forty-sixth General Assembly amended by the Forty-eighth General Assembly provides that operators of grain elevators must be licensed in order to receive grain for storage. It also makes provisions for using warehouse receipts issued by the warehouseman on his own products and on products for others as collateral for financing loans. The act also provides for storage of other agricultural products, and products principally consumed on farms, in warehouses of types different to that of grain elevators which cover such products as wool, canned goods, sugar, seed, commercial feed, etc.

The Fortieth General Assembly conferred on the commission the power to issue certificates authorizing motor carriers to operate over the public highways of the state, upon a showing that the proposed service would promote "the public convenience" and authorized the board to prescribe rules and regulations for the operation of motor vehicles used by such carriers "for the protection and safety of the public." The Forty-first General Assembly revised the laws on this subject, but left their administration with the railroad commission.

The Forty-third General Assembly provided for the supervision or regulation by the commission of persons operating motor trucks principally used for the public transportation of freight for compensation, not operating over regular routes nor between fixed termini.

The Forty-fourth General Assembly provided that pipe lines shall be subject to regulation by the board under a permit issued by the board.

COMMERCE COUNSEL

The Thirty-fourth General Assembly created the office of commerce counsel, to be appointed by the Iowa state commerce commission for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the Senate. The law provides that the counsel may appoint assistants, subject to the approval of the commissioners.

The duties of the office briefly are as follows: legal advisor of the Iowa state commerce commission; investigate and present matters with reference to interstate rates, and prosecute same before the Iowa state commerce commission or before any court to which same may be taken; investigate on his own motion, or at request of the state commerce commission, all matters involving interstate rates in which the people of Iowa are interested or affected, and present same to the interstate commerce commission and prosecute to final determination; act as attorney and counsel for and represent the Iowa state commerce commission in all courts of this state or the United States, in which the validity of any order of the state commerce commission is in issue; to institute and prosecute in any of the courts any and all suits necessary for proper enforcement of any rule or order of the said Iowa state commerce commission or make defense therein wherever said rule or order may be questioned or involved.

IOWA INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

(Workmen's Compensation Service)
(Office located at 1005 Des Moines Street)

Commissioner appointed by Governor. Term of six years.

ELMER P. CORWIN, Muscatine County, Industrial Commissioner; term expires June 30, 1955.

First Deputy Commissioner, Ralph Young, Polk County.

Second Deputy Commissioner and Secretary, Charles H. Greeley, Polk County.

Claims Auditor and Assistant Secretary, William J. Scarborough, Polk County.

CORWIN, E. P., Muscatine County
Industrial Commissioner

Born on a farm near Fruitland, Muscatine county, Iowa, July 15, 1883. Educated in Muscatine county schools. Resided continuously in the same community with the exception of six years, while employed in a retail drug business. For a period of 35 years was a grower and shipper of Muscatine Island produce. Was married October 21, 1908, to Jessie E. Smith of Chariton, Iowa. They are the parents of a son and daughter, Donald F. and Marjorie La Rue, now Mrs. R. A. Weber. Member of Methodist Episcopal church, Knights of Pythias and Masonic orders, Kaaba temple—A.A.O.N.M.S., Zerapath Consistory and Eastern Star. Elected to State Senate from Muscatine and Louisa counties in 1934; reelected in 1938. Appointed industrial commissioner by Governor B. B. Hickenlooper in 1943; reappointed by Governor Wm. S. Beardsley in 1949.

The workmen's compensation law of Iowa was first enacted by the Thirty-fifth General Assembly in 1913, which made Iowa among the first states to provide compensation benefits for injuries sustained by industrial workers. Since that time many changes have been made by succeeding Legislatures increasing the benefits thereunder.

The Fifty-first General Assembly of Iowa established a second injury fund, which was primarily for the benefit of returning veterans, who were maimed by loss of members which would make it difficult for them to obtain employment, since the compensation law provides for increased benefits for the loss of a second member. Now the employer may hire a maimed individual and yet only be liable for the loss of the member he actually loses in his employment. The fund is created by the employer paying to the state treasurer $100.00 for the benefit of this fund upon the death of any employee whose injury arises out of and in the course of his employment.

The Fifty-second General Assembly enacted what is known as the Iowa occupational disease law covering 16 diseases and will now compensate employees for certain diseases which may occur by reason of the process or nature of their occupation.

The weekly benefits have been increased from $20.00 to $24.00 per week, and the hospital and medical benefits have been increased from a total of $800 to $1,000.00 for hospital benefits and $500 for medical benefits. The nursing and ambulance services are to be paid in full in addition to this increase.

Reports of all industrial injuries resulting in temporary disability of more than seven days or those injuries resulting in permanent partial or permanent total disability, or death, are made to the industrial commissioner, and all controversial questions are decided by hearings before the commissioner or his deputies, subject to appeals to the state courts.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

WILLIAM S. BEARDSLEY, Governor.

CHET B. AKERS, Auditor of State.

VIRGIL M. HANCHER, President, State University of Iowa.

CHARLES E. FRILEY, President, Iowa State College.

J. B. CULBERTSON, President, Iowa Academy of Science.

Director and State Geologist, H. Garland Hershey, Iowa City, appointed by the geological board to serve during the pleasure of the board.

---

It is the duty of the Geological Survey to gather and supply information on surface and underground water supplies of the state, coal, gypsum, sand and gravel, ceramic clays and shales, limestone and dolomite, and raw materials for making cement and rock wool. Studies are continuing on the oil and gas possibilities in Iowa, particularly in the southwestern part of the state, and the geological parts of the oil and gas law are being administered. Geological and hydrological studies of dam sites are made on some of the flood-control and recreation projects of Federal and State agencies and reports on the natural resources of such reservoir areas are frequently prepared.

Topographic mapping of the state, by quadrangles of approximately 220 square miles area, has been renewed in cooperation with the Topographic Division of the United States Geological Survey.

Collection and dissemination of data on water wells, water levels, stream flow and sediment loads, lake levels, and other hydraulic data are accomplished in cooperation with the Water Resources Division of the United States Geological Survey. Information, advice, and direct assistance in the increasing development of large water supplies are freely given to the limit of funds and personnel.

As a part of the result of its work, the Survey has published 38 volumes of annual reports and accompanying scientific papers. These publications include special reports and maps covering the geology and mineral resources of all but 6 of the 99 counties as well as special reports on mineral production of all sorts. There are also three technical papers on Iowa coal and two water supply bulletins. Geological and mineral resources maps of the state have been prepared.

There is also a large volume of unpublished material in the Survey files as a result of half a century of continuous operation. This material is used as a basis for daily up-to-the-minute reports to Federal agencies, State departments and others who request and need the available information on water supply and other natural resources of Iowa.

IOWA EMPLOYMENT SECURITY COMMISSION

CLAUDE M. STANLEY, Adams County, Republican, Chairman, Employer Representative; term expires June 30, 1953.

JOSEPH R. PEFFERLE, Polk County, Republican, Employee Representative; term expires June 30, 1951.

CARL B. STIGER, Tama County, Democrat, Public Representative; term expires June 30, 1955.

ROBERT O. WYNNE, Administrative Assistant.

The Iowa Employment Security law was enacted by the 46th General Assembly in extraordinary session in 1936. The law levies a tax upon employer payrolls of eight or more workers in commercial and industrial employment for the purpose of providing a fund from which weekly benefits are paid to workers who are unemployed through no fault of their own.

Workers who are employed by employers covered by the act build up wage credits, and upon becoming unemployed if found eligible and if suitable work is not available, are paid weekly benefits amounting to about 60 per cent of their former wage, not to exceed $22.50 per week and not to exceed 20 weeks in a year.

The rate of tax levied on payrolls in accordance with the employment record of the employer. If the employment record of an employer is favorable his contribution will be lower than the standard rate; if, however, his employment record is unfavorable his contribution rate will be higher. The plan is designed to encourage employers to provide steady employment and avoid lay-offs.

Under an agreement with the United States veterans' administration the commission administers Title V of the Servicemen's Readjustment act of 1944 as it applies within the state of Iowa. This title provides payments of readjustment allowances to veterans of World War II. Veterans who are unemployed and eligible have, since September, 1944, been paid allowances of $20 per week for a total not to exceed 52 weeks. Self-employed veterans whose net earnings do not equal $100 in a calendar month may qualify for allowances amount to the difference between their net earnings and $100.

The Iowa state employment service was organized in 1933 and was under administrative control of the state commissioner of labor. With the enactment of the employment security law in 1936 control of the employment service was given to the employment security commission.

The Iowa state employment service, through a system of 34 full-time offices and an itinerant service which extends into every county, provides a complete and effective system of registration, counseling and placement of workers which is alike of value to the employer and the worker.

Under terms of Title IV of the Federal readjustment act the employment service renders an effective job counseling and employment placement service providing veterans the maximum of job opportunity in the field of gainful employment.

All claims for benefits under the employment security law and applications for veterans' allowances are received at offices of the Iowa state employment service.

The commission administers the Iowa old age and survivor insurance law enacted by the 51st General Assembly. The law provides payment of benefits to public employees of the State of Iowa and its political subdivisions upon retirement at age 65 or to their survivors. All applications for benefits under this system are received at offices of the Iowa state employment service.

Purpose of Iowa Development Commission

The Iowa development commission is the state's promotional agency. Its duties are to collect and disseminate information on the state's industrial, agricultural and recreational opportunities.

The commission provides statistical and market analysis information for industry and carries on a continuous program of new industry promotion, advertising the state's advantages throughout the nation.

A program of general state publicity provides news, statistical information and photographs for newspapers, magazines, trade publications and radio scripts. Hundreds of inquiries about Iowa from schools, colleges, tourists and business operators in all parts of the country are answered daily by the commission staff.

Special publications on Iowa's business, recreational and agricultural opportunities are prepared by the commission and given world-wide distribution.

Speakers on Iowa are provided to schools, clubs and civic organizations. Billboards erected and maintained by the commission greet travelers at the state's borders and welcome them to Iowa.

The commission's program endeavors to include all proper promotional media for fostering and promoting the economic welfare of the state.

Commission members are appointed by the governor and serve without pay.

Member Finance Committee, State Board of Education

Born in Davenport, Iowa, and resided there continuously until his appointment to present position in 1931. Educated in public and commercial schools of Davenport; trained in banking and associated with different banks there. Was elected clerk of the district court for a period of two years; and city treasurer of Davenport for eight years. Served in the World War. Legionnaire.

Information on State Schools

The Iowa state board of education was created by chapter 170, Acts of the Thirty-third General Assembly, as the governing body for the State University, the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and the Iowa State Teachers' College. The law went into effect July 1, 1909. Two years later chapter 141, enacted by the Thirty-fourth General Assembly, placed the school for the blind under the control of the board; chapter 160, Acts of the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, 1917, transferred the control and management of the school for the deaf to the board; and chapter 110, Acts of the 52nd General Assembly, 1947, transferred the state sanatorium.

The board of education of nine members is appointed by the governor for six-year terms, subject to approval by the Senate. The board chooses from outside its own membership a finance committee of three members. The committee selects its chairman and secretary, the secretary of the committee also serving as secretary of the board, and he is in charge of the general offices and has his office at the seat of government.

Iowa School for the Blind—Vinton

Don Overbeay, Superintendent.

The aim and purpose of the Iowa School for the Blind is purely educational. The course of study includes not only the subjects leading up to and required for admission to the colleges and the universities of the state, but also subjects that aim to prepare the students for some of the occupations in which it has been demonstrated that the blind are usually successful. After a pupil of this school reaches the high school department, he is given some latitude in the choice of courses of study. Both literary and industrial work are required of all students, besides some music.

Iowa School for the Deaf—Council Bluffs

Lloyd E. Berg, Superintendent.

The Iowa School for the Deaf was established in 1855, the second such institution west of the Mississippi river. In 1839 Edmund Booth came to Iowa from Connecticut and settled at Anamosa. In 1846 he was a clerk in the Territorial Legislature, of which his brother was a member. The two induced the Legislature to appropriate money to send several deaf children to the state school in Illinois. In 1853 a private school was established in Iowa City. In January, 1855, the Iowa State Legislature passed a bill creating the Iowa State Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. From this grew the present school at Council Bluffs, the name being changed to Iowa School for the Deaf in 1888.

In character the school is just what its name implies. It cares for the mental, physical and moral welfare of boys and girls between the ages of seven and nineteen.

The State University of Iowa

President Virgil M. Hancher
Iowa State University

The pioneering vision of the First General Assembly of the State of Iowa created the State University of Iowa by an act adopted on February 25, 1847. During the century and three years since, the university's work has touched and benefited every city, village and home within the boundaries of Iowa.

The university's objectives have been three-fold: to educate in her classrooms, to advance the frontiers of knowledge through research, and to carry the wealth of knowledge from her libraries, her laboratories and her learned faculty to the people of Iowa.

Consistently, throughout her history, the university has maintained an educational program of the highest integrity as the base for all her activities and the foundation upon which a superstructure of professional, semi-professional and graduate education has been erected. The university is a member of the Association of American Universities, an association of thirty-four out of the outstanding institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada.

The university has pioneered in liberal education, for both men and women students, and today ranks with the leaders in the general education movement.

The university's objectives of teaching and research have been carefully integrated to achieve the greatest efficiency in the teaching and learning processes. Balanced living with proper attention to pleasant housing, maintenance of good health, and recreational, religious and cultural activities has been provided as no less important to a rounded college experience.

From the days when she stood on Iowa's physical wilderness, the State University of Iowa has been on the world's educational frontier. She has pioneered and advanced with her state and, with justifiable pride, points to her distinguished contributions to the advancement of knowledge and the well being of the State of Iowa.

The Campus

The university's buildings (more than 50) dot a 438-acre campus stretching for nearly a mile along the banks of the gently winding Iowa river.

Dominating the scene of the east bank of the river is the Old Capitol, first capitol of the State of Iowa. Its history and architecture symbolize the pioneer spirit of Iowa and her university. Arranged about the Old Capitol in a pentacrest and in nearby blocks are the buildings housing the departments of the college of liberal arts and commerce; to the east are the college of education, the Iowa child welfare research station and the extension division, all housed in East hall; to the north are the colleges of law, dentistry and pharmacy, the women's dormitories and Iowa Memorial union; to the south are the college of engineering, the site of the new university library, the power and water plant, and the maintenance and service buildings.

The distinctive Gothic tower of the university hospital rises above the west campus. In its immediate vicinity stand the buildings of the medical center, including the college of medicine and the state bacteriological laboratory, children's hospital, psychopathic hospital and Westlawn nurses dormitory, which also temporarily houses the Iowa hospital school for severely handicapped children. To the west and south are the athletic fields and golf course, the field house and armory; and on the west bluffs of the Iowa stand the large dormitories for men, and on the bank below at the water's edge are the hydraulic laboratories. To the north along the river's west bank are located the Law Commons, law student dormitory, the Fine Arts building and the theatre.

Temporary Buildings

These are the main permanent structures which make up the university's physical plant. Since 1946, they have been supplemented for both housing and classroom purposes with temporary barracks, quonset huts and trailers, nestled in every nook among the permanent buildings, and clustered in villages along the river's edge and on the rolling hills of the golf course.

These temporary structures have provided 1,973 housing units for students who converged upon the university, and who, but for these temporary structures, might not have had the educational opportunity they deserve. The temporary housing includes 682 family apartment units, 249 trailers for families and 1,042 places for single students.

The same influx of students which overflowed the housing available on the campus and in the city of Iowa City made necessary the supplementary, temporary classroom and storage facilities. The space added, 77,900 square feet, represents space greater than one of the campus' major four-story classroom buildings.

Permanent Construction

The university's total floor space approximates 3,000,000 square feet of nearly 70 acres. Of this amount, but 53 per cent has been constructed with appropriated funds, the remainder being financed from earnings and grants from outside sources. In the years since 1927, very little floor space has been added for educational purposes, yet the university's enrollment has increased 93 per cent.

The first major construction to be undertaken since the war is the addition to Currier hall, women's dormitory, which will add 150 to the capacity of the housing for women students.

A 58-year need of the university is to be partially met by the construction, beginning in the spring of 1949, of the first units of the university's new central library on plans now recognized as unique and labeled the "Iowa plan".

Also scheduled for construction, beginning in 1949, is a 500-bed, 10-story Veteran's Administration General hospital on a site adjacent to the university's widely recognized medical center. The campus construction proceeds under a long-term plan devised by a campus planning committee and designed to provide a highly integrated, completely efficient use of all facilities and floor space.

Courses of Study

The academic affairs of the university are conducted under two main administrative units known as the division of research and teaching and the division of health sciences and services. Within the division of research and teaching are the colleges of commerce, education, engineering, law, liberal arts, the graduate college and the summer session. The division of health sciences and services includes the colleges of dentistry, medicine and pharmacy, as well as the university hospital, children's hospital, psychopathic hospital, the state bacteriological laboratory and the hospital-school for severely handicapped children.

The university also has five schools. Of these, three—the schools of journalism, fine arts and social work—are affiliated with the college of liberal arts, and one—the school of nursing—is currently affiliated with the college of medicine, but plans are under way for its conversion to an independent college. The school of religion is not affiliated with any college.

A minimum of four years' study is required for a baccalaureate degree from the college of liberal arts with its affiliated schools, and the same time is required for a bachelor's degree from the colleges of commerce, engineering and pharmacy.

Six years of study, three in pre-professional and three in professional study, are required for degrees from the colleges of dentistry and law, while seven years are necessary, three in premedical and four in medical study, for the degree of doctor of medicine. Currently, three years of study and clinical practice are required for completion of the curriculum in the school of nursing.

Advanced degrees from the graduate college are earned under approved programs of study and research with a minimum of one year required for a master's degree and three years for the doctorate.

The various courses of study and fields of specialization and the degree conferred upon graduation are as follows:

Commerce—Accounting, banking and finance, labor and management, marketing and merchandising, secretarial training, and transportation and public utilities, leading to the degree bachelor of science in commerce.

Dentistry—Four-year course, in addition to two years of pre-dental study in the college of liberal arts, leading to the degree of doctor of dental surgery.

Postgraduate work leading to the degree of master of science, from the graduate college, is available in the fields of orthodontics, pedodontics, roentgenology and dental pathology, therapeutics and periodontia.

Education—Courses for the professional preparation of teachers at the undergraduate level are integrated with the curricula of the colleges of liberal arts and commerce and lead to degrees in those colleges. Graduate programs for teachers, principals, supervisors, superintendents, directors of student teaching, and research and teaching positions in higher education lead to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in the graduate college.

Engineering—Chemical, civil, electrical and mechanical, leading to the degree of bachelor of science in the designated curriculum; general and commercial, leading to the degree of bachelor of science without designation. In each curriculum certain specialized options may be elected; for example, industrial, aeronautical, hydraulic, sanitary, structural, communication, power, metallurgical or chemical processes.

Law—Three-year course, in addition to three years of pre-law study in the college of liberal arts, leading to the degree of bachelor of laws or the degree of juris doctor.

Liberal Arts—Art, bacteriology, botany, chemistry, classics, economics, English, geography, geology, German, history, home economics, journalism, mathematics and astronomy, music, philosophy, physical education, physics, physiology, political science, psychology, religion, romance languages (French, Spanish, Italian and Portuguese), speech and dramatic art, sociology and zoology, leading to the degree of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of music and bachelor of fine arts.

Specialized courses in the departments of chemistry and the division of physical education lead to the degree of bachelor of science in the respective fields.

Students who select courses to prepare for dentistry, law and medicine may study pre-professional subjects in the college of liberal arts for three years and enter their chosen professional school in the fourth year. If the first year of professional study is completed successfully, the student may receive a bachelor's degree from the college of liberal arts, since the college will give credit for one year of professional work in lieu of the fourth year necessary for a bachelor's degree.

Pending the formation of a new college of nursing, students in nursing who have successfully completed three years of work in the college of liberal arts and three calendar years in the school of nursing may earn a bachelor of arts degree.

School of Fine Arts—Combines departments of art, music and dramatic arts. Students enroll in the college of liberal arts and may be candidates for either the degree of bachelor of arts, bachelor of music or bachelor of fine arts.

School of Journalism—Offers study sequences through the college of liberal arts in editorial journalism, radio journalism, advertising, community journalism and pictorial journalism. Awards a certificate of journalism on basis of scholarship and concentration in the field.

School of Religion—In cooperation with the college of liberal arts offers a field of concentration leading to bachelor of arts degree. It is inter-faith in nature and professorships of Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths are maintained by the respective groups.

School of Social Work—Now offering only a two-year graduate curriculum during its first year of existence. Undergraduate subjects recommended as preparation for professional training are now in the planning stages.

Medicine—Four-year course, in addition to three years of premedical study in the college of liberal arts, leading to the degree of doctor of medicine.

The college of medicine offers postgraduate work leading to advanced degrees in the graduate college. Special training is also offered in physiotherapy, occupational therapy and radiology.

At frequent intervals each year, the college of medicine also offers postgraduate conferences designed to provide new and refresher information for practitioners in the State of Iowa.

School of Nursing—Plans are now being completed to convert this school into a college of nursing during the year 1949-50, offering, in the beginning, the regular three-year program leading to the certificate graduate nurse, a collegiate nursing program leading to the bachelor's degree in nursing, and postgraduate work for specialists in the nursing fields.

Pharmacy—Four-year course, leading to the degree of bachelor of science in pharmacy.

Graduate—Opportunity for study at the graduate level is available in all fields listed above except nursing at this time. It is also available in the fields of child welfare and hydraulic engineering. Such study leads to the degrees of master of arts, master of fine arts, master of science and doctor of philosophy.

Correspondence Study—Courses, at the college level, are offered in many of the departments through the extension division to students who cannot be in residence but wish to prepare themselves for more effective work in their respective occupations, or who wish to continue work towards degrees while out of residence.

Enrollment

Prior to World War II, the university stood among the fifteen largest colleges and universities in the country in the total number of different students of college grade enrolled annually. Its growth had proceeded apace with the general upward trend of college enrollments. The university's enrollment of 1,542 different campus students of college grade in 1900-01 rose to 9,283 in 1940-41, forty years later.

Then came the overwhelming influx of the veteran students. During the war, in 1943-44, the campus enrollment of college grade went down to a low of 4,891. Just four years later, 1948-49, the enrollment had risen to 13,354.

The record of enrollment since 1900, by ten-year intervals to 1940 and annually thereafter, is as follows:

Year	Enrollment November 1	June to June on Campus of College Grade	All types, Including Correspondence and Excluding Conferences and Short Courses
1900-01.....	1,448	1,542	1,542
1910-11.....	1,756	2,090	2,090
1920-21.....	4,027	5,345	5,345
1930-31.....	5,400	8,235	9,901
1940-41.....	6,667	9,283	10,820
1942-43.....	5,300	7,160	9,706
1943-44.....	3,183	4,891	7,957
1944-45.....	3,695	5,262	8,492
1945-46.....	4,744	8,422	10,374
1946-47.....	9,770	11,988	16,908
1947-48.....	10,239	12,571	16,109
1948-49.....	10,886	13,354	16,500 (Est.)

It is significant to note that during 1947-48 the university enrolled 25% of the college enrollment in the State of Iowa, but granted 40% of all the degrees granted by Iowa colleges. This is perhaps the best evidence of the relationship of the university to the total pattern of higher education in the State of Iowa. The university is a partner with the four-year colleges and the junior colleges of Iowa in the field of general education—the processes of training citizens for good citizenship.

Beyond that level the university provides the professional and specialized programs which provide opportunities for further study at an advanced level for the graduates of junior colleges and four-year colleges, as well as for her own students. In so doing, the university is an integral and indispensable part of the total program of higher education in the State of Iowa.

Iowa State College

President Charles E. Friley
Iowa State College

The Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, located at Ames in one of the most beautiful campus settings in the United States, ranks among the nation's great scientific and technological institutions.

It was established March 2, 1858, by the Seventh General Assembly of Iowa and designated as a land-grant institution by the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of July 2, 1862. The first students entered October 21, 1868, and the first class graduated in 1872. Since that time more than 32,000 degrees have been conferred by the college.

Iowa State College scientists have made significant contribution to development and production of atomic energy. The peacetime Iowa State College institute for atomic research is recognized as one of the seven major atomic research laboratories in the country. The atomic energy commission has allotted $4,000,000 to construct buildings for metallurgical research. A 70,000,000-volt synchrotron is being installed for the production of electrons and x-rays.

Dr. F. H. Spedding, director of the institute, was director of the war-time atomic project established at the college in February, 1942. The uranium purification process which came out of the Iowa State program is now known as the Spedding process.

Physical Facilities

The college campus totals 740 acres, with the total college domains, including experimental farms, 3,096 acres. Forty major buildings and 276 minor ones comprise the college facilities. Value of the college plant is about $24,000,000.

About 50 per cent of the college's support comes from state appropriations, 20 from federal appropriations, 20 from student fees and 10 from miscellaneous sources.

To make room for student veterans returning to school, Pammel Court has been created adjacent to the main campus. Army barracks, quonset huts and trailers, number 1,250 units, house Pammel's inhabitants.

Enrollment at the college reached an all-time high of 12,200 in 1948-49. In the 1948-49 school year 2,000 degrees and certificates were granted, a considerable number of them to students from other countries.

A comprehensive building program is now under way, estimated to cost $12,000,000.

Curricula

The college offers graduate and undergraduate work in five major fields—agriculture, home economics, science, engineering and veterinary medicine. In the undergraduate areas the degrees of bachelor of science, bachelor of architecture and doctor of veterinary medicine are offered; in the graduate areas, the degrees of master of science and doctor of philosophy.

The division of agriculture offers courses in agricultural economics and rural sociology, vocational education, agricultural engineering, technical journalism, agronomy, animal, dairy and poultry husbandry, genetics, forestry, horticulture, landscape architecture.

The division of engineering offers courses in aeronautical, agricultural, architectural, ceramic, chemical and mining, civil, electrical, general, industrial and mechanical engineering, theoretical and applied mechanics and architecture.

The division of home economics applied art, child development, foods and nutrition, diatetics, experimental cookery, home economics, journalism, education, home management, household equipment and textiles and clothing may be studied.

The division of science offers curricula in the biological, physical and social sciences with particular emphasis upon the application of these sciences to industry and commerce and to the problems of present-day civilization.

The division of veterinary medicine offers courses in anatomy, hygiene, medicine, obstetrics, pathology, physiology and pharmacology and surgery.

Units of the naval reserve officers corps, the army reserve officers corps and the air reserve officers corps are located at the college.

Extension and Research

Education is extended to Iowans through the Iowa agricultural extension service and the engineering extension service. The agricultural and home economics extension activities had their real beginning in Iowa in 1906 at which time the work was officially organized as one of the three major functions of Iowa State College.

In attendance at short courses on the campus during the year 1948-49 were 12,000 persons.

Organized research is carried on through the Iowa agricultural experiment station, the Iowa engineering experiment station, the industrial science research institute, the veterinary research institute, the institute for atomic research and the statistical laboratory.

The college operates 38 farms and land areas for experimental purposes. Most recent addition is the Ankeny Farm near Des Moines of 1,500 acres.

Through the agricultural experiment station major contributions have been made to Iowa agriculture through improved crop strains and animal production, among others. Chemical engineers in the engineering experiment station are studying uses for agricultural waste and by-products, and a study of clays by ceramic engineers is another of the station's projects. In the industrial science institute, production of organic chemicals from agricultural products and study of penicillin are but a few of the many research studies underway. Veterinarians in their research institute are continually investigating animal diseases with a view to prevention and control.

Serving all the experimental units is the statistical laboratory. Its sampling specialists gave technical help to the state department on the missions to observe the Greek elections, and to the war department on the strategic bombing survey of Europe. A master sample of farms in the United States made by the laboratory identifies approximately 300,000 farms located in nearly every county in the United States. As a result of this mapping project what probably is the most complete set of maps of the United States is on file at the college.

The college has established the Guatemala-Iowa State College tropical research center at Antigua, Guatemala, to study corn and other crops at their source of origin. Through these studies it is expected that important improvements will be made in Iowa hybrids.

Iowa State Teachers College

President Malcolm Price
State Teachers College

The need for establishing a separate professional college for the education of teachers was recognized in Iowa by the Second General Assembly. Not until the Sixteenth General Assembly were adequate appropriations made for the establishment of the present Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls. Instruction began on September 6, 1876.

Recently there has been a national trend for teachers colleges to spread out into non-teacher training areas to such an extent as to submerge their original function of teacher education. The Iowa State Teachers College continues to adhere to its primary function—that of teacher education.

In performing the function assigned to it by the State of Iowa, the college provides three definite interrelated phases in its program of teacher education.

(1) Pre-service teacher education

The pre-service program conducted on the campus provides training for all the instructional positions common to the public schools. The scope and extent of each curriculum meet the state requirements for various types of teaching certificates except for the advanced secondary certificate for which the master's degree is required. A proper balance is maintained between the general education of the student and the professional training of the individual as a teacher. As a result, a graduate possesses the broad training essential to effective citizenship plus the theoretical and practical discipline required of the teaching profession.

(2) In-service teacher education

Since continued professional growth is necessary for teachers the same as for members of the other learned professions, the college maintains an extensive in-service program of teacher education. Members of the staff are available throughout the year to work with teachers in their own school rooms, to meet with groups of teachers and administrators to make plans and solve instructional problems, to serve as professional leaders at conferences, demonstrations or workshops organized for their teachers by county and city superintendents of schools. In this manner new techniques and methods are carried to the schools of the state. During a typical year, 1,200 days of service are thus performed in a program which reaches every county in the state.

(3) Professional publications

As a professional college, the Iowa State Teachers College maintains a program of professional publications designed to be of service directly to the classroom teacher. Each publication deals with a specific area and is written by members of the staff who are best qualified to discuss the problem under consideration.

The college, through the pre-service program, educates teachers in terms of the best present day professional practice. Through the in-service program and also by means of professional publications, the college makes available to members of the profession newer methods and techniques of the profession. Through such a training program, the college seeks to perform a continuing service to the teaching profession.

Areas of Professional Education

In the preparation of teachers for the elementary grades, the pre-service curricula are already adapted to the new legislation enacted by the Fifty-first General Assembly. Although transitional curricula are still maintained these will become obsolete by September, 1952, when the minimum professional training for elementary school teachers becomes sixty semester hours, or two years of college training. After that date, two-year and four-year curricula will remain which will educate teachers for the elementary schools. The two-year curricula will continue as the principal training program for rural and town elementary schools. This curriculum prepares teachers for the rural schools, for the kindergarten-primary grades or for the grades above the primary.

The four-year or degree curriculum for teachers in the elementary school has grown steadily in the past decade and it is likely that at some time in the future it will be the important curriculum for training grade teachers. An increasing number of city schools are making the degree requirement their minimum in the employment of grade teachers. There are three elementary school majors offered at the college, (1) nursery school-kindergarten, (2) kindergarten-primary, and (3) grades above the primary. There is also a special curriculum preparing teachers for the junior high school.

The Iowa State Teachers College also prepares teachers for all instructional positions in the junior and senior high schools. The college trains high school teachers in the following subjects: Agriculture, Applied Music, Art, Band and Orchestra, Biological Science, Business Education, Chemistry, Distributive Education, Dramatics, Earth Science, Economics and Sociology, French, German, Government, History, Industrial Arts, Latin, Home Economics, Library Science, Mathematics, Physical Education for Men, Physical Education for Women, Physics, School Music, Safety Education, Science, Spanish, Speech, Vocal Music. Training for special teachers to include both grade and high school leadership is provided in Art, Music, Physical Education and Speech Correction. Preparation for high school positions requires as a minimum the completion of a four-year curriculum.

General education is provided by thirteen instructional departments comparable to other colleges and universities, such as Art, Business Education, English, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Languages, Library Science, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education for Men, Physical Education for Women, Science, and Social Science.

Professional education is provided by three closely related professional departments. The basic professional courses in education are provided by the Department of Education. Opportunities for observation and student teaching courses are the responsibility of the Department of Teaching. For observation and student teaching purposes, the college maintains a school on the campus comprising all grades from nursery school through the twelfth grade. Schools in neighboring towns and also rural schools are affiliated with the college for the purpose of providing additional student teaching facilities. Curriculum and instructional materials are available through the service of the Curriculum Laboratory. Through the coordinated effort of the three professional departments an effective training in audio-visual education is received by the prospective teacher.

The Physical Plant

The campus contains approximately two hundred and forty-four acres and there are twenty-six principal buildings. The Anna B. Lawther Hall and Bartlett Hall provide living accommodations for a total of one thousand and fifty women students. The George T. Baker Hall, the Homer H. Seerley Hall, and Stadium Hall accommodate a total of three hundred and twenty men. The Commons is designed to provide social education and recreational training for members of the student body. A complete food service is housed on the ground floor of The Commons. The student health service is maintained by a resident physician and a competent staff of nurses.

Present and Future Shortage of Teachers

There has been a critical shortage of teachers in all phases of education during the immediate postwar period. By September, 1949, the need for high school teachers will practically be met except in the special subject matter fields where the shortage will continue to exist for some time. The need for teachers for the elementary schools will become more critical by September, 1949. In the elementary schools the post-war shortage still persists and is now aggravated by the rising school enrollment due to the increased birth rate.

The Iowa State Teachers College has remained entirely a professional college engaged solely in the education of teachers in order to make the maximum contribution to the supply of teachers.

STATE TAX COMMISSION

(Office located in Des Moines Building, Sixth Avenue and Locust Street)
Appointed by the Governor. Term of six years.

GEORGE E. GILL, Republican, Sibley, Chairman; term expires June 30, 1951.

WARREN WELLS, Republican, Council Bluffs; term expires June 30, 1953.

J. FRANK HAMILTON, Democrat, Maquoketa; term expires June 30, 1955.

Secretary, Elsie L. Dachroth, Des Moines.

Duties of State Tax Commission

The state tax commission was established in 1929 and was originally known as the state board of assessment and review. The duties of the commission as fixed by law include the supervision of the assessment system of the state, and the assessment of public utilities, including railroads, telephone and telegraph lines, pipe lines, water works, transmission lines and plants producing electricity.

In addition to these duties the commission administers the individual and corporation income tax, sales and use tax, chain store tax, cigarette tax, beer and inheritance taxes and many other minor activities.

The total collection of taxes received by the tax commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1949, aggregated $88,380,524.11.

In addition to duties in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes, the commission also administers the provisions of the homestead credit act, under which more than 16 million dollars annually is now being credited upon the real estate and personal property taxes of persons entitled to homestead grants.

Under an act of the 52nd General Assembly the tax commission will also administer the military service tax credit act under which local taxing bodies will be reimbursed more than two million dollars annually for losses incurred through the exemption of property owned by persons who have been in military service.

The 52nd General Assembly gave the tax commission greatly increased authority in its supervision of local property assessments and the commission will generally supervise the inauguration of the new county and city assessor law enacted by the 52nd General Assembly.

State Permit Board

An act of the 46th General Assembly, as amended by the 48th, provides for the issuance of permits for the manufacture, sale and taxation of certain nonintoxicating liquor, with the provision that such fees and taxes shall be collected by the state tax commission. All license fees and taxes collected under this act, except class "B" and "C" permit fees, shall accrue to the state sinking funds for public deposits. Fees from class "B" and "C" permits are placed in a special fund to be used by the state permit board for the purpose of enforcing the obligations made upon them. The state permit board is constituted of the chairman of the state tax commission, who is also chairman of the board, the secretary of state and the auditor of state. The board reviews the action of any governing body in any case where a hearing has been had relative to the cancellation or revocation of a permit issued under the provisions of this act.

Start and Progress of State Highway Commission

The first law creating a state highway commission in Iowa was adopted by the General Assembly in 1904. That law simply stated that the Iowa State college should act as a state highway commission. Acting under said law, the state board of education appointed Dean Anson Marston of the engineering division, and Dean Charles F. Curtiss of the agricultural department of Iowa State college as the directors of the commission. Thomas H. MacDonald, now commissioner of public roads, was appointed by the directors as secretary and engineer for the commission. The duties of the commission at that time were to make investigations and studies of highway conditions and to advise with local authorities with respect to highway improvements.

This organization continued until 1913, when the Thirty-fifth General Assembly passed an act creating a state highway commission of three members and separated said commission from Iowa State college.

In 1927 the General Assembly passed an act which now appears as chapter 313 of the Code of 1946, creating a state highway commission of five member, all to be appointed by the governor, not more than three of whom could be from the same political party.

The law of 1927 placed the primary road system under the direct control and supervision of the state highway commission. Thomas H. MacDonald, who became secretary and engineer of the highway commission in 1904, was designated as chief engineer of the highway commission in 1913 and continued in that capacity until 1919, when he resigned and F. R. White, present chief engineer of the state highway commission, was appointed to that position.

The highway commission's duties are fourfold:

First: Construction and maintenance of primary roads;

Second: Construction of farm-to-market roads;

Third: General supervision of secondary roads;

Fourth: Engineering assistance to other departments.

The commission has entire charge of and responsibility for all construction and maintenance work on the primary road system. It pre-prepares the necessary surveys, plans and specifications for primary road improvements, lets the necessary contracts and supervises the construction work. It has charge, for the state of Iowa, of the expenditure of all federal aid road funds allotted to this state.

Outline of State Highway Commission Work

All maintenance work on the primary road system is under the supervision of the commission.

The secondary roads (all rural roads not included in the primary road system and not classified as state institutional roads under chapter 308, Code 1946) are under the supervision of the county boards of supervisors in their respective counties. However, the law places on the highway commission certain duties and responsibilities in connection with such secondary road work.

The secondary roads in each county are classified into two groups or systems—the farm-to-market road system which includes about 35,000 miles of main traveled secondary roads, and the local secondary road system which includes about 58,000 miles. Changes or modifications in the farm-to-market road system are initiated by the county board and are subject to approval by the state highway commission. It is the duty of the county to initiate projects for the construction of farm-to-market roads, to make surveys and prepare plans for the improvement of farm-to-market roads, and submit these plans to the state highway commission for approval. It is the duty of the state highway commission to advertise for bids, let construction contracts and give general supervision to the construction of farm-to-market road projects.

The law also places on the highway commission certain duties and responsibilities in connection with secondary road work paid for by the county from the county secondary road construction and maintenance funds. Secondary road construction programs proposed by the county boards must receive the commission's approval. Plans prepared by the county engineers for secondary road improvements must be submitted to the state highway commission for approval. Contracts awarded by the boards of supervisors for secondary road construction work involving a cost of $2,000.00 per mile or more, or more than $5,000.00 in the aggregate, or more than $2,000.00 for any one bridge or culvert, must be approved by the state highway commission before becoming effective.

In case two adjacent counties are unable to agree on any county line road or bridge construction of maintenance matter, either board may appeal to the state highway commission to determine said controversy.

The commission, on request, renders engineering assistance to various other state departments. This includes the making of surveys and preparation of plans and general supervision of construction and maintenance of public highways upon or adjacent to lands belonging to the state at the various educational, charitable and penal institutions, and at state parks, engineering assistance to the executive council on street improvements on and adjacent to the capitol grounds, assistance to the national guard on projects in connection with the national guard camp, and various other technical matters which may come before such other state departments.

ALEXANDER, Sterling
Insurance Commissioner

Son of Alpheus and Cora Hastings Alexander, born at Jewell, Iowa, on October 30, 1896. Graduate of Jewell high school and Drake law college. Banking experience at Jewell, and general practice of law at Webster City since 1919. Married Leota Merryman in 1924. Two daughters, Joan and Janet. Member American Legion, Kiwanis and fraternal orders. Hamilton county attorney for six years, and member of Webster City school board for four years.

The office of commissioner of insurance, as the executive head of the insurance department of Iowa, was created by chapter 146 of the laws of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly (1913) and the first commissioner took office July 1, 1914. Previous to that time, the supervision of insurance had been under the direction of the auditor of state.

The commissioner of insurance has general control, supervision, and direction over all insurance business transacted in the state, and is charged with the responsibility of enforcing all the laws of the state relating to insurance.

Under the law, all securities in which the reserves of Iowa life insurance companies are invested are required to be deposited with the commissioner and complete records are kept showing each item on deposit at all times. The amount of approved securities representing these and other incidental deposits in the hands of the commissioner on June 1, 1949, amounted to $1,018,999,093.31.

The commissioner supervises all transactions relating to the organization, reorganization, liquidation and dissolution of domestic insurance corporations. He supervises the sale in the state of all stock or other evidences of interest either by domestic or foreign insurance companies. He is the statutory receiver in the event of liquidation of any Iowa insurance company.

All foreign companies, as well as all local companies, must, before engaging in the insurance business in this state, obtain a certificate of authority from the commissioner of insurance. These certificates expire annually on April 1st, and action is taken on their renewals after analysis of complete financial statements filed covering the condition of the company as of the previous year end. All insurance agents must likewise obtain individual licenses to solicit business. In 1948 there were 830 insurance companies authorized in the state, and approximately 75,000 individual agents' licenses were issued.

The Fifty-second General Assembly enacted a statute effective October 1, 1947, which requires insurance companies to file all rates with the insurance commissioner for approval. The effective date for filing rates was January 1, 1948, and a rating division has been set up within the insurance department to handle rate filings together with supporting statistical information. The rating division will be expanded from time to time as the work load increases and statistical information becomes available.

The commissioner conducts examination of all domestic insurance organizations every two years. He may also make an examination of any foreign insurance company authorized or seeking to be authorized to do business within the state. All policy forms used by any company within the state are required to be approved by the department.

The commissioner is a member of the national association of insurance commissioners composed of the insurance supervising officials of each of the various states and meets with and cooperates with this organization in the many matters that arise involving the common interests of the separate states in insurance matters.

Securities Department

The state securities laws, designed to protect the Iowa investing public through regulation of securities dealers and qualification of securities offered for sale, are administered by the commissioner of insurance.

The commissioner also has jurisdiction over the sale of stock on the installment plan and sale of memberships or certificates of membership entitling the holder thereof to purchase merchandise, materials or services on a discount or cost-plus basis.

State Historical Activities

The State Historical department organized in 1892 by Charles Aldrich State Historical building erected in 1889 and 1908, reorganized as Iowa State department of history and archives in 1939, activities described as follows:

The dominant motif of the Iowa State department of history and archives is preserving the history of Iowa—its development from the era of many thousands of years ago, the roaming upon its prairies by the aborigines, the enjoyment here by the red men in his hunting exploits, the discovery and mining of its lead and coal deposits, the coming of the Indian trader and the pioneer, the early community settlements, the establishment of schools and churches, the organization as a territory and later admission to statehood, the building of roads and the coming of the railroads, the progress of its people and its institutions—all a glorious panorama of its history from the beginning up to the present.

In achieving this high purpose a major objective has been the gathering of historical source material—the substance from which history is written. The Iowa Historical department was founded in 1892, and quickly became an important link in the chain of educational and cultural activities of the state, occupying a field then only partially developed for systematically collecting and preserving at the seat of government the priceless materials and records of Iowa development. From small beginnings the department has grown in fifty years to fill and overflow the beautiful building erected on the state capitol grounds at an original cost of about $375,000, and in later years to acquire by purchase the Kasson Memorial building, situated at a short distance, as a temporary cataloging workshop for the immense accumulation of archival material for ultimate placement in a permanent and suitable building to be erected upon space reserved for that purpose upon the capitol grounds.

Here is a unique and unrivaled institution in which all Iowa has pride and its people visit continually, open every day, in which may be found the available Iowa materials that show how things came to be as they are, how the people lived at various stages of their progress, the quality of their thinking and their achievements here in Iowa—the classroom equipment for the practical study of life from prehistoric, primitive and pioneering times to the later days of community building.

In the museums are found a wide range of exhibits. Here are shown the tools, utensils and implements used by Iowa pioneers to conquer the wilderness and convert a hunter's paradise into a land of unparalleled productivity and industry; also the tepees and wickiups of the Indians, their canoes, weapons, pipes, domestic utensils, clothing, beadwork, industries, used in their home life; a fine museum of natural history, specimens constituting a visual education in the story of Iowa's birds, animals, insects, flowers, trees, soil, geology and the prehistoric preparatory time. Specimens of mounted animals and birds, color slides for projectors, are provided upon application for display by local schools over the state, as well as other material of educational character. Of our extinct birds, a pair of passenger pigeons are exhibited. These were once so plentiful in Iowa that 5,000 birds were once killed in Scott and Clinton counties in two days. Of Iowa's rare birds, a sandhill crane, a pair of pileated woodpeckers, an eared grebe, upland plovers, prairie chickens and ruffed grouse are shown. In the mammal collection a pair of buffalo and a young calf are excellent specimens. Moose, elk and a fawn are included.

Iowa's geologic column is represented by rock samples from every formation of the state, including also an exhibit of fossil crinoids from the Mississippian era. In the fossil coal plant series are shown some of the finest specimens in the United States. These plants were growing here two hundred and fifty million years ago.

An unrivaled collection of autograph letters and papers of authors, explorers and statesmen of the nation, representing the lifetime efforts as a collector of Charles Aldrich, the founder of the institution, became the foundation upon which has been built a manuscript division, more largely devoted to filings of the writings, addresses, documents and correspondence of eminent Iowans, supplying valuable unrecorded chapters in state history, which serves in a useful way the entire state, and is visited by research writers and consulted by many others from distant places.

The State Historical library contributes to the inestimable value of the institution. On its shelves are now upwards of 37,000 books about Iowa, or by Iowa authors, Iowa state and county histories, family records and references for research in genealogy, declared by students to be one of the finest genealogical libraries in the middle west, in constant use by people from all parts of this and other states.

From varied sources were obtained files of Iowa daily and weekly newspapers, and since the establishment of the department a systematic building of a newspaper division has been accomplished. Its catalog contains listing of the permanent files of the papers from every county, beginning with the Dubuque Visitor in 1836 and other publications of territorial days down to the present, containing graphic history of Iowa people and events as recorded by the faithful and talented editors and reporters of the century just closed. These papers are consulted almost daily by those seeking information and establishing historic and factual data regarding local and state happenings. There is no comparable source of authentic information available.

The oil portraits of distinguished Iowans, including the outstanding men and women who have contributed to Hawkeye culture, progress and prosperity, and hung in the magnificent gallery. There appear the three governors of the Territory of Iowa, most of the governors of the state, justices of the supreme court, cabinet officers from Iowa, and other eminent citizens, including writers, editors and outstanding members of the clergy.

The War History division contains some of the most precious documents held in preservation for future generations. The record of Iowa in the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, and in all other military activities since, is extensive, and includes not only many manuscripts, reports and official publications, but the enlistment and service papers of the Iowa volunteers and of members of the national guard—all rich in reminders and record of Iowa's part in five great wars. The more recent work of collecting for the state the details of the history of everything done in and by Iowa in World War II has produced a vast accumulation of valuable material. Thousands of portraits and intimate home and service records of those who have made the supreme sacrifice have been assembled; and the state, local and federal agencies have cooperated with this department to make the details as complete as they are reliable; also found here are uniforms, weapons, flags, relics and war mementoes from battlefield, war prison, ship and airfield, and from every continent and clime where Iowans have fought and died.

In the cataloging and classification of historical material, leaflets and folders embracing varied subjects have been prepared and are available upon request. In the Annals of Iowa, the historical magazine issued quarterly, appear interpretative studies and articles upon the state and its people. In the more than half century it has been published the Annals has been drawing upon the experiences of men who participated in or witnessed at close range the developments of which they write, being primarily a source book of Iowa history. As such a repository it has made available to the people of the state a vast amount of accurate data that otherwise would not have been accessible.

The Iowa public archives, or state records, comprise literally millions of items, such as census records from territorial days, the record books and correspondence files of state officers with papers and documents on which official action was had, legislative filings from territorial period so far as preserved. These records are in daily demand and use for reference and more especially in legal procedure for verification of names and for other facts. Only such material as may have administrative, legal or historical value is received for archival files, but the accumulation through the years has become so voluminous that it is taxing the facilities now available. However, through the cataloging system now employed the state archivists are more closely integrating the activities of this division with the current filing systems of the state departments contributing the records, which now constitute a back file of departmental papers and records arranged for immediate inspection at any time.

Communicable and Preventable Diseases

Preventable diseases are by their very nature of vital concern to the community and the state. Reports of various infectious diseases are received daily from physicians and health officers throughout the state. These reports are surveyed and tabulated so as to make possible a study by weeks and months of the current prevalence of disease as compared with the preceding year and period of years. Field investigations are made upon request of local health officers or other officials, to determine the nature and extent of outbreaks and to assist with control measures. The department through articles, reports, literature, talks, correspondence and graphic presentations, aims to inform the public about disease prevention.

Emphasis in the pneumonia control program is on lowering the number of deaths from this cause, through accurate laboratory diagnosis and modern treatment. Diagnostic serum is supplied without charge to hospital typing stations; sulfa drugs and serum are furnished for treatment of underprivileged patients.

The division of tuberculosis is directed by a physician with special training and experience, aided by nurses who have specialized in the study of tuberculosis. Staff members cooperate with attending physicians and health officers in the reporting of cases, in the conduct of special surveys and in measures to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

Every effort is put forth in cooperation with physicians, to obtain complete reports of venereal disease cases. This work is carried out under the direction of physicians and nurses with special training and experience. Control measures include provision for the care of indigent patients with particular reference to follow-up work and investigation of sources of infection.

The department's serum-plasma center prepares and distributes convalescent serum for prevention and control of diseases such as measles, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The serum-plasma center cooperates with many hospitals in Iowa, in the distribution of pooled plasma and serum for emergency civilian needs.

Maternal and Child Health

The activities of the division are designed to make known to those concerned, the health needs of mothers and children and how they should and can be met. These activities are directed in the fields of medicine, dentistry, and nutrition by personnel specially trained in those fields. For the war period a special service was added to provide prenatal care at home and delivery care at the University hospital for the wives of servicemen under the rank of commissioned officer who otherwise were unable to obtain it.

Public Health Nursing

The department maintains a division of public health nursing and provides a whole-time supervisory service for public health nurses and an advisory service for boards employing nurses and for associations or committees interested in public health nursing.

The public health nurse:

1. Helps to secure early medical diagnosis and treatment for the sick.
2. Renders or secures nursing care of the sick, teaches through demonstration and supervises care given by relatives and attendants.
3. Assists the family to carry out medical, sanitary and social procedures for the prevention of disease and the promotion of health.
4. Helps to secure adjustment of social conditions which affect health.
5. Provides information regarding sound public health nursing practices to the community and cooperates actively with community agencies in the improvement of health conditions.

Public Health Engineering and Industrial Hygiene

Preventing spread of disease through environment sources—that is the goal of public health engineering and industrial hygiene. Duties may be enumerated as fact-finding, advisory, educational and law enforcement, with emphasis on the first three. Engineering activities have to do with public water supplies; public sewerage, sewage and waste disposal; stream pollution; swimming pools; industrial establishments; various public health nuisances; insects and rodents; plumbing; housing, and numerous other natural and artificial facilities requiring sanitary safeguarding.

Vital Statistics

The division is charged with the collection, recording and filing reports of births, deaths, marriages and divorces. Statistical studies and analysis of these records are made and the results of these studies are released for the information of the public. The division supervises the work of the local registrars of vital statistics and cooperates closely with the bureaus of census, department of commerce, Washington, D. C.

The division issues certified copies of any of the records it has on file, for a fee of fifty cents.

If you were born in Iowa and your birth record is not on file, you can place it on file by completing a delayed birth certificate, which you may file with the county clerk in the county where you were born, or send it direct to this office.

Public Health Education

Public health education supplements the tools, skills and learning of the medical, dental, engineering and nursing professions in the prevention and control of disease. Their information is translated into many forms in order to reach the public with impact. Public health education uses motion pictures, film strips, news releases, radio program, speakers, posters, exhibits, pamphlets and other media to tell the health story.

Hospital Services

This division is charged with the duties of carrying out the provisions of the hospital survey and construction act (public law 725) passed by the 79th Congress. The 52nd General Assembly authorized the state department of health to carry out the provisions of the hospital survey and construction act (public law 725), to survey and inventory the hospitals and related facilities in the state. Also the licensing of all hospitals and nursing homes.

Division of Local Health Services

The correlation and extension of the activities of the various divisions of the state department, making their services obtainable to the entire population of the state, through the various district and county health services.

Division of Licensure and Registration

Boards of Examiners

Department Inspector

(Section 147.88, Code of 1946)

The health department inspector's duties shall consist of investigating all violations of this title, securing all available evidence and reporting to the department of health. Upon request of the state department of health, the attorney general is required to institute, in the name of the state of Iowa, proper proceedings against any person charged by the department of health with violating any of the provisions contained in Title VIII, entitled "The Practice of Certain Professions Affecting the Public Health."

NURSE EXAMINERS

(Office located in Capitol Building)

Appointed by the Governor. Term of five years.

- DOROTHY FRERIKS, R.N., Chairman, Cherokee; term expires June 30, 1952.
- ADELAIDE PETERS BEERS, R.N., Vice-Chairman, Burlington; term expires June 30, 1950.
- SISTER MARY MAURA, R.N., Cedar Rapids; term expires June 30, 1951.
- SISTER MARY STELLA, R.N., Council Bluffs; term expires June 30, 1954.
- ETTA RASMUSSEN, R.N., Cedar Rapids; term expires June 30, 1953.
- Executive Secretary, Vera M. Sage, R.N., Des Moines.
- Director of Nursing Education, Louise E. Alfsen, R.N., B.S., Des Moines.

The Iowa board of nurse examiners was made a department separate from the department of health by S.F. 50, passed by the Forty-sixth General Assembly and became effective upon publication.

The board gives the examinations required of every graduate nurse before she is entitled to practice her profession. Examinations are held in Des Moines. The examination fee is $10.00; the reciprocity fee, $20.00 and annual renewal of license, $1.00. Through its executive secretary the board keeps all records pertaining to the licensing of nurses in the state, receives all applications for licensure, collects all fees and issues all licenses. The board formulates the curriculum and standards for schools of nursing, and through its director of nursing education the accredited schools are supervised. It is the duty of the board to enforce the laws governing the practice of nursing in the state.

BOARD OF PAROLE

Term six years. Appointed by Governor.

VIRGINIA BEDELL, Dickinson County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1955.

W. E. JACKSON, Des Moines County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1951.

C. E. GODFREY, Monroe County, Democrat; term expires June 30, 1953.

RUSSELL W. BOBZIN, Secretary, Polk County.

The board of parole was established in 1907 by the Thirty-second General Assembly.

The statutes of Iowa provide: "When any person over sixteen years of age is convicted of a felony, except treason or murder, the court imposing a sentence of confinement in the penitentiary, men's or women's reformatory shall not fix the limit or duration of the same, but the term of such imprisonment shall not exceed the maximum term provided by law for the crime of which the prisoner was convicted," thus leaving to the court imposing the sentence no discretion as to the length of confinement. The board of parole is charged with the duty of investigating and studying each case, and is authorized to release on parole any prisoner, except those sentenced for life terms, after serving portion of the maximum time they deem proper. Parole rules are provided which must be observed by the man while on parole and for the violation of which he may be remanded to prison.

Member of executive board of Iowa library association.

The Forty-eighth General Assembly increased the size of this library by combining with it the library commission (founded 1900) and the economics and sociology division of the law library (founded 1911), giving to the newly created the name state traveling library. This title designates the functions of the library, namely:

To aid library development in the state through visits, conferences with library boards, library meetings and correspondence.

To lend books and reference assistance to public and association libraries, clubs, schools, organizations and individual borrowers, including blind patrons.

To collect and publish statistics of libraries of the state.

To publish the "Iowa Library Quarterly" and lists of recommended books.

To serve as a clearing house for information for the Iowa Library association.

There are 289,228 books in the library.

State Law Library

(Second Floor, Capitol Building)

The Iowa state law library, with its collection of upwards of 140,000 volumes, is one of the largest and most complete law libraries in the United States.

In addition to legal reference facilities provided for the Iowa supreme court judges, attorney general and other state officials, as well as for attorneys and the general public, the law library also includes a legislative reference bureau, which assists members of the Iowa General Assembly with research materials and bill drafting.

KENDRICK, W. R. C., Poweshiek County Iowa State Law Librarian

Appointed Iowa state law librarian July 1, 1947, for a six-year term to expire June 30, 1953.

State Medical Library

(Second Floor, Historical Building)

The Iowa state medical library was established as a department of the state library in July, 1919, and became a separate library in the reorganization of the state libraries by the Forty-eighth General Assembly in 1939.

The library serves primarily medical doctors, but is open to any resident of the state.

The library contains 37,456 accessioned volumes and receives 301 medical and scientific periodicals annually, having over 100,000 unbound periodicals. The main work of the medical library is its mailing service, whereby proper material is selected and placed in the mail the same day doctors request literature by mail, phone or telegram.

The library also has a small museum of old medical instruments and collects items of medical historical interest.

THROCKMORTON, Jeanette Dean, M.D.,

MERIT SYSTEM COUNCIL

(Office in Insurance Exchange Building, Fifth street and Grand avenue)

Appointed by the Governor. Term of three years.

N. T. CHADDERTON, Marshalltown, Chairman; term expires December 31, 1949.

J. C. BLODGETT, Cedar Rapids; term expires December 31, 1950.

GERARD SCHULTZ, Indianola; term expires December 31, 1951.

D. R. COTTRELL, Director.

Participating Agencies: State Department of Health.
 State Department of Social Welfare;
 Iowa Employment Security Commission.
 State Service for Crippled Children.
 Iowa Mental Health Authority.

The Iowa merit system council serves as the central personnel office for those state agencies who receive certain federal funds. It provides progressive and uniform personnel practices to about 1,800 individuals who work in about 200 different classifications in the five agencies served.

The "regulations for the merit system," as adopted by the above agencies, provide, in part:

"A merit system council shall be appointed by the governor . . . The council shall be composed of three members, who shall be public-spirited persons of recognized standing and of known interest in the improvement of public administration and in the impartial selection of efficient government personnel. No member of the council shall have held political office or have been an officer in a political organization during the year preceding his appointment nor shall he hold such office during his term. No member of the council shall have been an employee of the agencies within one year prior to his appointment.

"Members of the council shall serve for a term of three years or until successors have been appointed by the governor . . . In appointing a successor to a member of the council, the governor shall make his selection from a panel of three names presented to him through joint action of the participating agencies. A member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall be appointed for the remainder of such term. Members of the council may be reappointed at the expiration of their term of office.

"It shall be the duty of the council within the scope of these regulations:

- (a) to establish general policies for the administration of merit examinations and the hearing of personnel appeals as provided in article XIV (of the regulations);
- (b) to hear such appeals or to establish impartial bodies to hear such appeals on its behalf;
- (c) to appoint a merit system supervisor with the approval of the participating agencies, to advise with him in formulating procedures for the conduct of merit examinations, and to inspect and review his activities for the purpose of assuring conformity with these regulations and the policies of the council;
- (d) to review the classification and compensation plans and to advise with the state agencies on their adoption and subsequent revisions;
- (e) to make recommendations to the agencies relative to their internal personnel practices to assure conformity with these regulations;
- (f) to approve a budget for submittal to the state agencies covering all costs of merit-system activities as covered by these regulations;

- (g) to promote public understanding of the purposes, policies and practices of the merit system. As a means thereto, the council shall examine into and make a written report to the governor and to the state agencies at least annually on the operations of the merit system, including the conduct of examinations, the establishment of registers, certifications from registers, promotions, salary advancements, dismissals, demotions, transfers and separations, and the maintenance of the classification and compensation plans. Such reports shall be filed with the governor and the state agencies and shall be open to public inspection."

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN BASIC SCIENCES

Appointed by the Governor. Term of six years.

Chairman H. EARL RATH, Ph.D., Cedar Falls; term expires June 30, 1953.

FREDERIC F. SMITH, A.M., Storm Lake; term expires June 30, 1953.

BENJAMIN H. PETERSON, Ph.D., Secretary, Cedar Rapids; term expires July 4, 1951.

U. A. HAUBER, Davenport; term expires July 4, 1951.

CHESTER H. WERKMAN, Ames (Interim Appointment).

LELAND P. JOHNSON, Des Moines; term expires June 30, 1955.

The basic science law enacted by the 46th General Assembly establishes a state board of examiners in the fundamental sciences underlying the practice of the healing arts, providing for its organization and powers, and that certification by such board following examination in the six basic sciences of anatomy, physiology, chemistry, pathology, bacteriology and hygiene is prerequisite to eligibility for examination for a license to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathy, osteopathy and surgery, and chiropractic. It establishes uniform educational standards in the fundamental sciences for all applicants for license to diagnose and treat human ailments. The act does not apply to dentists, dental hygienists, nurses, pharmacists, optometrists, embalmers, podiatrists, barbers or cosmetologists practicing within the limits of their respective professions, or Christian scientists.

The personnel of the board consists of six members learned in the basic sciences, having no degrees in the healing arts. The members of the board receive as compensation $10.00 per diem for the time actually employed and necessary expense incurred in the discharge of their duties which is paid out of funds in the state treasury received as fees from applicants for examination.

The board meets in Des Moines and there conducts the examinations in the basic sciences four (4) times each year, respectively on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October. The examination fee is $10.00.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WELFARE

MRS. MARY HUNCKE, Polk County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1953.

H. SAM LOVE, Adair County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1951.

L. L. CAFFREY, Howard County, Democrat; term expires June 30, 1955.

R. H. WHITLATCH, Marion County, Secretary.

The board of social welfare was created by act of the Forty-seventh General Assembly in 1937. The Forty-eighth General Assembly amended the original law by enacting legislation relating to membership, salary, terms of office and removal from office of its members. The board, bipartisan in membership, is vested with authority to administer old age assistance, aid to the blind, child welfare, aid to dependent children and emergency relief.

The board of social welfare has authority to administer state and federal funds appropriated by the federal social security law and the Iowa Legislature for old age assistance, aid to the blind, child welfare services, aid to dependent children and emergency relief.

Under the terms of the law, county social welfare boards, also bipartisan, are appointed by the county boards of supervisors. The county welfare boards receive applications for assistance from needy aged and blind in the various counties and make recommendations for assistance to the state board. Further enactment of the Forty-eighth General Assembly provided for the administration of funds made available to the counties for emergency relief, and relating to relief labor and the powers and duties of the boards of supervisors in connection therewith. The county boards also cooperate with the state board in giving service to neglected and dependent children.

The board of social welfare is required to cooperate with the federal government according to the provisions of the federal social security law, to make reports to the federal social security board on administration of assistance, and the federal children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor on its services to children.

The division of child welfare will carry on services to children in the State of Iowa except those performed by the institutions under the jurisdiction of the board of control.

Commissioner of Public Safety

Born in Irwin, Iowa, September 9, 1910. Attended Irwin, Iowa, high school. Graduated from the law college of the State University of Iowa in 1935. Admitted to Iowa bar in June, 1935. In charge of a civilian conservation corps camp in Minnesota from 1936 to 1940. Later headed a CCC supervisor's school in St. Paul. Entered the army as a first lieutenant in 1941 and was assigned to Lowry Field where he served as a squadron adjutant and later as staff judge advocate. Served overseas for 25 months in Australia, the Dutch East Indies, New Guinea and the Philippines in command of an anti-aircraft unit. Discharged from the army with the rank of colonel. Married but without children. Appointed commissioner of public safety by Governor Robert Blue, January, 1947.

Duties of State Safety Commission

The Iowa department of public safety was created by the Forty-eighth General Assembly in 1931 by consolidating several bureaus and divisions under one executive head designated as commissioner of public safety. One of the obvious purposes of the Legislature in the creation of this department was to facilitate the cooperation and coordination of the law enforcement agencies of counties, cities and towns.

As a result of such coordination, the Iowa highway accident fatality rate was lower in 1948 than in any other year in the state's history. By accomplishing a substantial reduction in the accident rate from the year 1946, over 250 lives and $11 million in property damage and personal injury costs were saved.

The work of the department may best be explained by setting forth the activities of the several divisions as follows:

Division of Highway Patrol

S. N. JESPERSEN, Polk County, Chief.

CLARENCE SHIRER, Butler County, Chief Examiner.

The Iowa highway safety patrol was created by the Forty-sixth General Assembly with a personnel of fifty-three men which was expanded by the Forty-seventh General Assembly to one hundred twenty-eight men. This number was increased to one hundred sixty by the Fifty-first General Assembly.

The original duties of the Iowa highway safety patrol were to enforce all provisions of the motor vehicle laws relating to the regulation of motor vehicles and laws of the road, with power to arrest without warrant any person or persons committing or attempting to commit within their presence or view a breach of peace or other violation of the law. The Forty-eighth General Assembly broadened the scope of their powers by providing that they shall have and exercise all the powers of any peace officer of the state. There are, however, certain restrictions on the exercise of their general powers, which restrictions, as well as duties, is enumerated in full in chapter 80 of the Code of Iowa, 1946.

Members of the highway safety patrol give examinations to applicants for operators' and chauffeurs' licenses, conduct hearings in connection with suspension and revocation of operators' and chauffeurs' licenses, and investigate serious accidents occurring upon the highways of the state.

General activity of the highway safety patrol has increased sharply in the past two years. In 1948, patrolmen contacted more than 160,000 drivers on the highways. This is 15 per cent of Iowa's driving population. More than 25,000 of these motorists had experienced car trouble and were assisted by the patrol. In 320 emergency cases, first aid was rendered by patrolmen.

Patrolmen issued nearly 18,000 warning tickets last year compared to only 312 in 1946 and 5,757 in 1947. The warning ticket does not immediately penalize the motorist though it is marked on his driving record. A series of these warnings to a particular driver within a reasonable period is basis for license suspension.

Notification of illegal or faulty equipment tickets issued by the patrol last year numbered 82,000 compared to 50,000 in 1947. Issuance of this ticket requires the motorist to put his vehicle in safe driving condition.

The 27,555 summons tickets written by the patrol last year marked only a slight increase over 1947. Fines derived from this source, however, increased by well over $100,000. The highway patrol recovered stolen property valued at $340,000 last year. Another $90,000 in privately owned property was saved by use of the fire extinguisher by patrolmen.

In the last six months of 1948, the 23 license examining teams of the patrol renewed more than 288,000 drivers' licenses. This is one-fourth of all driver licenses that must be renewed in Iowa. In three months during the same period the teams also renewed 100,000 chauffeurs' licenses and issued 30,000 instruction permits. A vision test was given to all license applicants.

The patrol traveled more than 7 million duty miles in 1948, an increase of more than one million miles over 1947. Average patrol strength during the last year was 157 men as compared to 150 in 1947 and 138 in 1946.

Division of Criminal Investigation

R. W. NEBERGALL, Story County, Chief.

The division of criminal investigation is a specialized bureau which cooperates with and supplements the work of local officers of the State of Iowa. It is not a local policing unit but serves the law enforcement officers of counties and municipalities as a central agency to which all may come for help on difficult criminal investigations. It is also charged with responsibility for certain matters involving the internal security of the State of Iowa. In addition, it is called upon to investigate matters involved in the functioning of state government and cooperates with the various elective and appointive officers of the state in all such matters.

There are three main subdivisions of the division of criminal investigation; namely, the investigative section, the identification section and the technical laboratory.

The investigative section is concerned with the work of the special agents of the division. Upon receiving a request for aid from a duly authorized law enforcement officer, a special agent is given a definite assignment by Chief Nebergall to assist that officer in the investigation of the specific case. Daily reports are required from all special agents and these are carefully studied and reviewed with the special agent before an arrest is made. Investigations conducted by special agents of this division range from cases involving murder, rape, robbery, extortion, bank robbery, etc., on down through the entire category of major crime.

In the identification section is a huge storehouse of information. Here are kept the fingerprints of all criminals, a civilian fingerprint file for personal identification, files of modus operandi of various classes of criminals including their photographs, a criminal record file which reflects in chronological order each arrest and sentence of the subject and a card index file including the name and all aliases known to have been used by the subject.

The fingerprint files in this division constitute the clearing house of criminal records for the State of Iowa. Under Iowa law sheriffs and police departments are required to fingerprint those arrested for commission of specified types of law violations and to forward copies of such fingerprints to this division. Fingerprints have long been recognized as the only infallible method of personal identification known to man. As the fingerprint cards are received they are classified and searched against the master fingerprint file. If they are identified with a previous record, a complete transcript of that subject's criminal record, as contained in the files of the division, is immediately forwarded to the agency which submitted the fingerprints.

The technical laboratory of the division of criminal investigation is a modern crime laboratory which utilizes the aid of science in the solution of crime mysteries which frequently could not be solved in any other way. One of the important services rendered by the laboratory to local officers is the comparison of handwritings, particularly in fraudulent check cases; however, the problems are many and varied. They may involve a question of fraudulent alteration of a document, the restoration of faded or obliterated writings, comparison of typewritten material, or possibly a comparison of inks or papers. Requests are frequently made for a comparison of writing or printing on anonymous or poison pen letters.

Photography is an important tool of the modern, trained investigator and the technical laboratory is equipped to handle any photographic problem from "shooting" the crime scene to the use of ultra-violet light in photographing for permanent record invisible stains, invisible writings and alterations on documents, latent fingerprints on multi-colored surfaces, etc. The sciences of biology, chemistry and physics also play important parts in the work done in the technical laboratory. This work includes spectographic examinations, firearms identification, microscopic examinations, lie detector tests, examination of tool marks, restoration of obliterated serial numbers on metal and rubber objects and the examination of glass fractures, to mention only a few.

The services of this bureau, including testimony of the special agents and technicians in court, are services of this department of state government which are available without charge to all duly constituted law enforcement agencies and the courts of this state upon their request.

Division of Police Radio Communication

CHARLES J. NORD, Cass County, Director.

The division of radio communications of the Iowa department of public safety is charged with the operation of the state police radio system consisting of police radio stations at Des Moines, Cedar Falls, Storm Lake, Atlantic, Fairfield and Maquoketa. Automatic repeater stations are located at Essex, Ladora, Van Wert, Belmond, Ossian, Burlington, Orange City and near Moorhead. This division is also responsible for the installation, maintenance and servicing of the two-way radio equipment in the one hundred eighty highway patrol and bureau of investigation cars. The services of the police radio system are available to all officers of the state and special routine orders for the special agents of the division of criminal investigation and members of the division of highway patrol are referred to the radio communications division for immediate delivery by two-way radio.

During the year ending December 31, 1948, the radio system broadcast 3,798 items of stolen cars, wanted persons, runaways, etc., of which 3,232 have been cancelled as recovered, apprehended or located, showing the effectiveness of radio in police work. In addition 4,462 messages directed to specific officers or departments were originated, 6,926 dispatches were made to one-way cars, 303,910 contacts were established with two-way cars, 70,000 checks on automobile and drivers' licenses were made, 4,462 messages relayed to departments outside state system.

Division of Fire Protection and Investigation

JOCK T. COOK, Acting Fire Marshal.

The principal duties of the state fire marshal are to cause immediate investigation to be made of the cause, origin and circumstances of every fire occurring within the state, when so requested by any official with proper authority; to determine if any buildings or structures, by reason of want of proper repair or by reason of age and dilapidated conditions are especially liable to fire and to order their repair or removal; to inspect liquefied gas systems and order correction of improper installations; to inspect buildings with relation to fire escapes and exits, and order correction made as may be necessary; to require teachers in public and private schools to have at least one fire drill a month and to instruct the pupils at least four times a year in the causes and dangers of fires.

For the purpose of enforcing the orders of the fire marshal suitable penalties and fines are provided and he and his deputy are empowered to administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. If the state fire marshal shall be of the opinion that there is evidence sufficient to charge any person with the crime of arson or criminal conduct in connection with any fire, he shall cause such person to be arrested.

Reports are required to be made to the fire marshal by all chiefs of fire departments of each and every fire, and where there is no established fire department the report is to be made by mayors and by township clerks outside the incorporated cities and towns.

Division of Motor Vehicle Registration

L. B. CHASE, Polk County, Director.

The motor vehicle registration division of the department of public safety has jurisdiction over the licensing of motor vehicles of itinerant merchants, official and non-resident vehicles.

Residents of the State of Iowa license their motor vehicles at the county treasurers' offices in the counties in which they live. Official vehicles and vehicles that are domiciled and operated in the state that are owned by non-residents are licensed by the department at the state house.

The 1948 registration receipts are as follows:

Automobiles .....	$10,038,572.96
Commercials .....	6,247,080.43
Motorcycles .....	45,458.51
Trailers .....	461,484.97
Transfers .....	209,616.00
Transfer penalties .....	9,160.00
Additional fees .....	284,063.37
Duplicate certificates .....	7,930.00
Total Collections (in counties) .....	$17,303,366.24
Departmental .....	423,365.57
Total .....	$17,726,721.81

The law provides that the money received from motor vehicle registrations shall be distributed as follows: Three per cent of the gross fee and penalties thereon to the general fund of the state, the balance, less the collection fee of fifty cents retained by the county treasurer on each registration and less the one per cent received by the department as a reimbursement fund from which to pay refunds, goes to the primary road fund of the state.

Itinerant merchants are licensed by the department at the state house, and automobile dealers are licensed by the automobile dealers division, which is a part of the motor vehicle registration division.

Safety Responsibility and Drivers License Division

K. F. NEU, Cerro Gordo County, Director.

The 52nd General Assembly passed the motor vehicle financial and safety responsibility act which brought into being a new office in the public safety department called safety responsibility and accident records. Safety responsibility was combined with accident records and began operation as a single coordinated unit on October 1, 1947. The work of accident records is to tabulate all motor vehicle accidents and highway patrol summons and warning tickets. Statistical reports are made regularly relative to all accidents occurring on the highways of this state.

The over-all purpose of safety responsibility and accident records is to administer the financial and safety responsibility act which requires: (1) any motorist involved in a reportable accident to post proof with the safety department of his financial ability to pay for the damages arising from that accident, and (2) any motorist convicted of operating a vehicle without a license or convicted of a traffic violation involving suspension or revocation of his license or failure to satisfy judgment resulting from an accident to post proof of financial responsibility for the future before he may again receive a driver's license.

The primary functions of the chauffeur's license division of the department of public safety are: (1) the issuance of operators' licenses to those qualifying under the law, either through examinations conducted by the highway patrol, or through regular renewal; (2) the enforcement of statutory provisions governing suspension, revocation and denial of operators' licenses, enacted for the removal from the highway of those persons who are physically or mentally incompetent to operate a motor vehicle with safety, and those persons whose driving actions seem to indicate a disregard of the value of their operating privileges; (3) the maintenance of an accumulative permanent record of each driver showing all violations, restrictions, accidents, or suspensions or revocations against his driving record.

Division of Safety Education

FRANK B. ULISH, Webster County, Acting Director.

The division of safety education was created by the Forty-eighth General Assembly for the purpose of promoting highway safety education. The division cooperates with the national, state and county safety councils in various safety activities and renders other valuable service in promotion of safety upon our highways.

A safety film library and exchange is maintained by this division. Field men for safety education travel to all parts of the state delivering lectures, radio talks, showing films, giving demonstrations and drivers' tests, and aiding in local safety promotions. Field representatives are also available for consultation with schools on safety programs and driver education and training, and with city officials on their traffic problems. The office of safety education also undertakes to keep the people of Iowa informed on accident trends, new traffic legislation and safety measures. Extensive mailing lists are maintained in this office for the distribution of posters, pamphlets and printed safety material to all schools and to organizations interested in promoting safety.

Division of Dealers' Licenses

J. F. CARLSON, Pocahontas County, Director.

An act passed by the 47th General Assembly establishing the motor vehicle dealer's license division for the purpose of prohibiting and preventing irresponsible, unreliable or dishonest persons from engaging in business of selling, bartering or otherwise dealing in motor vehicles and to encourage reliable persons to engage in the business of selling motor vehicles. In order to become a licensed dealer in Iowa, a person must meet the requirements in the act and before entering into business of selling motor vehicles at retail, he must secure a license as provided by the act. At the present time there are 2,603 motor vehicle dealers, 134 motorcycle dealers, and 418 operators and transportors in Iowa.

THE INDIANS IN IOWA

The Mesquakie Indians who are residents and voters in Iowa number around 500. Iowa was for many years cherished home of their ancestors and friends.

They own, as a tribe or family, 3,600 acres of land in the Iowa river valley in Tama county. This is their collective farm, bought by them with their own money, managed and cultivated by them, on which they live, where they study and have their religious services. The State of Iowa many years ago by law gave them authority to own tribal land and property and the title is held in trust for them. They pay taxes and those who are qualified are voters.

They have a genuine democratic government for themselves, elect a council of managers and the council has a chief or president. They have a school and all the younger people can write the English language. Some of the older ones have never learned other than their own language, which is used by all of them.

The Mesquakie tribe is of the Algonquin family. They formerly lived on the Atlantic coast, then moved westward through New York and Canada, and in Wisconsin in the early fur trading days, they formed a federation with their kinsmen, the Sacs, or Saukies. The Mesquakies were called by the traders Reynards or Foxes and their name means the "people of the red earth." A century ago they lived in several camps along the Mississippi river, then moved into the Des Moines valley, followed the agency and army to Raccoon forks, and departed from Des Moines when Iowa was admitted as a state.

Some of the Mesquakies so loved their homes in Iowa that they gave up their government payments and returned from their southwestern reservations. The state gave them permission to live in Iowa as a tribe and with money received in settlement with the government they bought their present lands.

On their Tama county farm they live in comfortable houses and dress, in the main, as their white neighbors. Formerly the head men resisted efforts at educating the young, but now they go to school and are apt scholars. They keep up their wickiups, not to live in, but for their visits and ceremonies. They also have one large tribal hall in which they hold their religious ceremonies regularly, several services each week, conducted in their own language by their own leaders and preserving their own forms of worship.

They are quite skillful in various industries—weaving, basket making, bead work and in leather. One-third of the land is cultivated but the remainder is largely rough pasture land. The tribe has a tractor, but uses horses for farm work, and there are cows, hogs and chickens.

Information on State Fair

For more than 90 years, the Iowa State Fair has been gaining steadily in size, prestige and public service. Today, it is nationally recognized as America's greatest agricultural and livestock fair. Situated in the heart of the world's wealthiest agricultural empire, it is the focal point each year for exhibitors of the finest livestock and farm produce. In attendance, too, it stands in the front rank of the great educational and entertainment expositions on the North American continent.

The Iowa State Fair, the original "State Fair" of a best-selling novel and of two hit motion pictures, is held in Des Moines each year. It runs for 10 days, starting in late August and sometimes carrying into the first few days of September. Attendance each year runs near or over 500,000.

The livestock show, largest of its kind in America, attracts from 6,000 to 7,000 of the finest farm animals from 20 leading agricultural states. The 4-H and F.F.A. shows, statewide congresses of farm young people's organizations and their livestock and projects, add to the fame of the fair. Other major educational features include the corn and small grain show, farm machinery exposition, flower and garden show, art salon, photographic salon, school exposition, women's exposition, harness and saddle horse show, culinary and needlework departments, fish and game show, hall of science, automobile show and homes exposition.

From the huge State Fair grandstand, one of the finest amphitheaters in the nation, fairgoers witness an eight-day series of spectacles and events including national championship auto races, midwest circuit horse races, thrill day stunts, musical extravaganzas, fireworks and circus acts.

The first and second Iowa State Fairs were held in Fairfield, Iowa, in 1854 and 1855. From 1856 to 1879, the State Fair moved from city to city. It was held in Muscatine in 1856 and 1857; Oskaloosa, 1858 and 1859; Iowa City, 1860 and 1861; Dubuque, 1862 and 1863; Burlington, 1864-1866; Clinton, 1867 and 1868; Keokuk, 1869, 1870, 1874 and 1875; and Cedar Rapids, 1871, 1873 and 1876-1878.

In 1879 the State Fair moved to Des Moines to stay. In 1884 the Legislature appropriated $50,000 to purchase a state fairgrounds, on condition that the city of Des Moines raise an equal amount for buildings and facilities. The city concurred, and Iowa thus became the second state in the Northwest to acquire a permanent site for its fair.

In 1923 the General Assembly changed the former method of fair administration by providing for an Iowa department of agriculture and a state fair board, and giving this board the duty of managing the fair and the custody of the fairgrounds. Under this law, the fair board comprises one director from each congressional district. These directors, together with the president and vice-president of the fair, are elected at the annual midwinter session of the state agricultural convention. Immediately after that convention, the state fair board elects its secretary and its treasurer.

All operating expense, maintenance and other costs of the fair are paid out of fair receipts, except where the Legislature may deem it advisable to make a special appropriation for such purposes. The law provides that the state will not be liable for any expenses or liabilities incurred by the fair.

Since 1902 the Legislature has appropriated $1,130,050 for the construction of permanent buildings on the fairgrounds, purchase of additional land and for necessary improvements. In recent years, however, the State Fair has used only its own revenues for these purposes. Altogether, since 1902, the fair itself has expended approximately $1,634,000 for maintenance and improvements from actual profits of the fair. The latest major building project financed by fair funds is the new fireproof 4-H Girls' dormitory, on which construction was begun in the spring of 1949. Premiums, amounting to over $145,000 a year, are also provided by the fair for winners in exhibits and contests.

How the State Fair has grown during its nine decades of progress can best be shown by comparing statistics on the first fair of 1854 and the average figures for the 1947 and 1948 fairs:

	1854 Total	1947-48 Average
Area of land .....	6 acres	378 acres
Attendance .....	8,500	492,389
Premiums .....	$1,171	$145,000
Livestock shown .....	275	7,000
Cattle .....	69	2,078
Horses and mules.....	148	573
Swine .....	11	2,564
Sheep .....	...	847
Poultry .....	27	2,528
Machinery and implements.....	43 exhib.	50 acres

For nearly a century, the State Fair has played an important part in the agricultural progress of Iowa. Features and exhibits are keyed, each year, to new trends in farming and livestock production. Through its thousands of exhibits, it gives visitors an unparalleled opportunity to study, compare and learn. By every standard of measure, the Iowa State Fair has been making new progress each year since World War II—and helping, more than ever, to make Iowa the greatest farm and livestock state in the nation.

The state printing board has charge of all matters pertaining to state printing, including printing for institutions and officials outside of Des Moines. Contracts for all work and material are let on competitive bids. The laws of the state are very explicit in directing the manner of advertising for and securing bids on all items.

The superintendent of printing is appointed by the board. He is ex officio secretary of the board and its executive officer. The law directs that the manuscript of every report or document, book, booklet, bulletin or anything to be printed shall be transmitted to the superintendent of printing as soon as it is ready for printing, and he shall edit, revise, condense and arrange the same for printing. He has the custody of and attends to the distribution and sale of the code, session laws, supreme court reports and public documents; supervises the compilation and publication of the legislative bill index, and the official register. Also the journals of the House and Senate are indexed under his supervision.

Dispatcher of State Automobiles

The state car dispatcher shall purchase all new motor vehicles for all branches of the state government; authorize the establishment of motor pools consisting of state-owned cars under his supervision. The state car dispatcher shall cause all state vehicles marked by a sign in a conspicuous place showing state ownership, except police used cars.

The state car dispatcher's duties further include: the assignment to a state officer, employee, state office, department, bureau or commission, one or more required motor vehicles for part or full time use; the authority to revoke said assignment; make periodical inspection of said vehicles; maintain a record system of total number of miles driven, cost per mile of each, record of all purchases of gasoline, lubricating oil, grease and other incidental expense in connection with operation of vehicle, quantity and price of each purchase, including cost and nature of all repairs on vehicle; maintain a cost history card of each motor vehicle, costs reduced to a cost-per-mile basis; the monthly billing back to departments for reimbursement of their proportionate share of operation, etc.

During the year 1947, 356 motor vehicles were purchased by this division of the Executive Council and 270 cars and trucks were sold.

During the year 1948, 343 motor vehicles were purchased by this division of the Executive Council and 322 cars and trucks sold.

State House Telephone Exchange

Working under the executive council this department handles local and long distance calls for the Capitol building and for state department offices located in buildings on Des Moines Street, East 12th and Court Avenue, East 9th and Penn, and East 7th and Court Avenue.

Among the hundreds of calls answered daily are requests for the proper departments, calls for wanted information or for various department personnel. In the winter months there are many calls for road information (one day's record was 487). During legislative sessions a very heavy increase, in local and and long distance calls, is handled.

State House Postoffice

Gilbert H. Randle, Sr., Postmaster.

The state house postoffice has a personnel of eight employees, consisting of postmaster, two meter machine operators, two mail carriers, truck driver, helper and clerk.

The postoffice keeps an open running account for sixty-seven (67) state departments and divisions. There are three (3) delivery and pick-up trips made daily by the mail truck to each out-of-building state department, which trips total sixty-three (63) miles a day.

IOWA NATURAL RESOURCES COUNCIL

Office in State House

Members—

H. GARLAND HERSHEY, Chairman, Iowa City.
 MRS. ADDISON PARKER, Vice-Chairman, Des Moines.
 J. HAROLD ENNIS, Secretary, Mt. Vernon.
 LAWRENCE C. CRAWFORD, Iowa City.
 ROSWELL GARST, Coon Rapids.
 CHRIS H. JENSEN, Audubon.
 EWALD G. TROST, Fort Dodge.

G. L. Ziemer, Director.
 Martha Rud, Secretary.

The Fifty-third General Assembly declared it to be the policy of the state to correlate and vest the powers of the state in a single agency with the duty and authority to establish and enforce an appropriate, comprehensive, state-wide plan for the control of water and for the protection of surface and underground waters of the state, recognizing and including in such plan the resultant effect thereof on other resources of the state; and created the Iowa Natural Resources Council as the agency of state government to promote the policies set forth in the Act, and to represent the State of Iowa in all matters within the scope of the Act.

The functions and duties of the Resources Council include the establishment of a comprehensive state-wide program of flood control; and a comprehensive state-wide program for the conservation, development and use of the waters of the state.

The Resources Council has been designated as the agency with which the Federal governmental agencies carry on relations for cooperation in cases involving investigations and studies for works or improvements for navigation or flood control affecting the state.

The Resources Council receives, reviews and determines the issuance of permits for the erection of any structure, dam, obstruction, deposit or excavation in or on any floodway and has the power to abate as a nuisance any of the foregoing which adversely affect flood control.

The Resources Council is composed of seven members who are electors of the State of Iowa and appointed by the governor with the approval of two-thirds of the members of the senate. They serve on a part time per diem basis and are appointed for six year terms.

Private Colleges and Universities

In addition to its three state institutions of higher learning, Iowa has a large number of colleges and universities which are material factors in making this state stand first in literacy and intelligence. There are few places in Iowa more than 40 to 50 miles distant from some institution of higher learning well fitted by curriculum and faculty to teach those things which lead to the higher and better life and provide the education that makes for culture and higher citizenship.

Among the colleges of Iowa which are fully accredited and offer four-year courses are the following:

IOWA WESLEYAN, MOUNT PLEASANT

Iowa Wesleyan college, at Mt. Pleasant, is the oldest college in Iowa, having a continuous history from the time it was founded as Mt. Pleasant Collegiate institute in 1844. The college has always been under the control of the Methodist Episcopal church. The name was changed to Iowa Wesleyan university in 1849 and to Iowa Wesleyan college in 1911.

GRINNELL COLLEGE, GRINNELL

Grinnell college, at Grinnell, is the second oldest in the state. It was founded in 1846 by the "Iowa Band" (a group of young ministers who came to Iowa as missionaries in 1843) as Iowa college, at Davenport, and was opened to students in 1848. Grinnell college was founded in Grinnell in 1855 and four years later Iowa college of Davenport was merged with it. It is privately endowed, non-sectarian and co-educational.

COE COLLEGE, CEDAR RAPIDS

Coe college, at Cedar Rapids, had its beginning in 1851, when the Rev. Winston Joens opened a school in his home for 16 young people of Cedar Rapids. In 1866 it became Parsons seminary and the first building, now a part of Old Main, was built. Since February 2, 1881, the present name of Coe has been used. In 1919 Leander Clark college was absorbed.

CORNELL COLLEGE, MOUNT VERNON

Cornell college, at Mount Vernon, was opened November 14, 1853, as the Iowa conference male and female seminary, but was renamed in 1855. The annual Shakespearean school play produced in March and the annual music day festival are outstanding events. The Chicago Symphony orchestra has presented an annual concert at the music festival for 40 years.

CENTRAL COLLEGE, PELLA

Central college, at Pella, was opened in 1853, a Baptist church institution. Dominie Scholte donated a large plot of ground where the first building, Old Central, was erected. In the Civil war the entire male student body, 122, enlisted in the Union army. About 20 years ago the control passed to the Dutch Reformed Church of America.

SIMPSON COLLEGE, INDIANOLA

Simpson College, at Indianola, was established in 1860, operated by the Methodist Episcopal church. First known as Indianola seminary, it was renamed the Indianola male and female seminary in 1861. Six years later the name became Simpson Centenary college, honoring Bishop Matthew Simpson. Since 1884 the name has been Simpson college.

LUTHER COLLEGE, DECORAH

Luther college, at Decorah, founded in 1861 as a college for men, became coeducational in 1936, amalgamating with the Decorah College for women. It is controlled by the Evangelical Lutheran church. Koren library contains a notable collection of Norwegian Americana and the Norwegian American Historical Museum, maintained by the college, is devoted to the preservation and culture of Norwegian pioneers in America.

PARSONS COLLEGE, FAIRFIELD

Parsons college, at Fairfield, was founded in 1875, under the endowment fund provided in the will of Lewis C. Parsons (1793-1855). It is controlled by the Presbyterian church. The first class was graduated in 1880.

WILLIAM PENN COLLEGE, OSKALOOSA

William Penn college, at Oskaloosa, operated under the auspices of the Society of Friends, was opened in September, 1873. Following the destruction of the first building by fire in 1916, several new buildings were erected on a 30-acre campus near the original site.

BUENA VISTA COLLEGE, STORM LAKE

Buena Vista college is located at Storm Lake. The Fort Dodge Presbytery founded the school in 1884 at Fort Dodge, but later accepted Storm Lake's offer of eight acres of land and $25,000 for buildings, dedicating the new school July 8, 1891.

WESTERN UNION COLLEGE, LE MARS

Western Union college, at LeMars, was founded in 1890 and is under the control of the Evangelical church. Seven buildings are grouped on a 15-acre campus.

MORNINGSIDE COLLEGE, SIOUX CITY

Morningside college, at Sioux City, was founded by the Methodist Episcopal church, by merging the University of the Northwest of Sioux City and the Charles City college in 1894. It has five modern buildings on a 23-acre campus.

KLETZING COLLEGE, UNIVERSITY PARK

Kletzing college, at University Park, was organized in 1905 as the Central Holiness university, later changing its name to John Fletcher in honor of that friend of John Wesley. The official name became Kletzing-McLaughlin Memorial Foundation college in 1943 in honor of Henry Frick Kletzing and George Asbury McLaughlin, two of the founding officers and teachers. An interdenominational, coeducational, liberal arts college offering courses leading to the B.A. degree, and accredited by the State of Iowa.

LORAS COLLEGE, DUBUQUE

Loras college, a Catholic church institution, at Dubuque, developed from St. Raphael's seminary founded in 1838. The school is under the immediate supervision of the archbishop of the Dubuque diocese. The college has one of the largest private libraries in the state, over 70,000 volumes. It was formerly called Columbia college.

ST. AMBROSE COLLEGE, DAVENPORT

St. Ambrose college at Davenport is another Catholic institution which is deservedly popular. It was founded in 1882, under the auspices of the Roman Catholic bishop of Davenport.

UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE, DUBUQUE

The University of Dubuque was founded in 1852 and conducts a Presbyterian Theological seminary in addition to its college of liberal arts.

The school was first known as the German Theological School of the Northwest, but in 1870 it became affiliated with the Presbyterian church.

UPPER IOWA UNIVERSITY, FAYETTE

Upper Iowa university, at Fayette, was organized in 1857 as Fayette seminary. It was formerly sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal church. In addition to the college of liberal arts there are schools of music and business. The museum is particularly praiseworthy, containing many fine prehistoric specimens.

DRAKE UNIVERSITY, DES MOINES

Drake university, at Des Moines, was established in 1881, named after Governor Francis Marion Drake of Centerville. The school is under the auspices of the Disciples of Christ church. It embraces colleges of education, fine arts, commerce and finance, Bible, liberal arts, law and pharmacy. The university law library contains some 17,000 volumes, while the general library has 71,000. George J. Carpenter was the first chancellor, as the president was then known.

BRIAR CLIFF COLLEGE, SIOUX CITY

Briar Cliff college, a four-year college for women, is conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis of the Holy Family of Dubuque, Iowa. The college began its first scholastic year September 18, 1930.

CLARKE COLLEGE, DUBUQUE

Clarke college grew from an academy for women founded in 1843 by Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary. A college department was opened in 1901.

MARYCREST COLLEGE, DAVENPORT

Marycrest college is a corporate unit of St. Ambrose college, formerly known as the women's division. Founded in 1939, it is conducted by the Sisters of the Humility of Mary.

WARTBURG COLLEGE, WAVERLY

Wartburg college is a four-year coeducational liberal arts college controlled and supported by the American Lutheran church. It is a merger of the Wartburg college, which was formerly located at Clinton, Iowa, and of St Paul-Lutheran college, St. Paul, Minnesota. The merger and relocation took place in 1935.

Iowa Schools for Deaf and Blind

IOWA SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

LESLIE M. HAYES, Superintendent

Under the administration of the state board of education, the School for the Blind is maintained at Vinton and the School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs.

The Iowa School for the Blind was opened at Iowa City on April 5, 1853, with one pupil. The second entered the following day. By the end of the year nineteen students were enrolled. In August, 1862, the school was moved to its present location at Vinton. The attendance at the last report was 150, ranging in age from five to twenty-one.

The Iowa School for the Blind is an educational institution which offers complete educational opportunity to visually handicapped boys and girls from the kindergarten through the high school. In many respects the sessions follow the same line of those found in the school for the sighted.

In addition to the academic subjects, special emphasis is placed on music, industrial arts and physical education. After satisfactorily completing the four-year high school course, students are equipped to enter college, and those who do so attain records that compare favorably with those of sighted students.

The school is governed by the state board of education and is supported by appropriations of the State Legislature. There is no charge for tuition, maintenance or school supplies. The school is in session for a nine-month period. The student body includes not only people without sight but those with partial sight.

In September, 1943, a sight-saving department was established to take care of the needs of pupils whose visual acuity is between 20/200 and 20/70. Students in this department use large type print instead of Braille and do their school work in rooms that are equipped with special lighting, sight-saving desks, green chalk boards and other special equipment for the partially seeing.

IOWA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF

LLOYD E. BERG, Superintendent

The Iowa School for the Deaf was founded in 1855, and was first located at Iowa City and then moved to Council Bluffs in 1870. In 1902, fire completely destroyed the main building, which housed the executive quarters and dormitories for pupils. A substantial fire-proof structure now stands in its place, where sufficient room is provided for 325 pupils. The school represents a capital investment for the state of $1,000,000 and occupies 210 acres, with eight fine buildings and beautiful grounds. There is a separate building to accommodate seventy-five of the youngest pupils. The school affords an education for children of the state, too deaf to make progress in the hearing schools. The entrance age is five years and students are required to remain in school until nineteen years of age unless excused for good cause. The work embraces thirteen years with training largely through writing, speech, lip-reading and through the use of hearing aids where possible. The course of study provides a strong elementary education together with a substantial vocational training. The philosophy of the school is to bring the child with impaired hearing as near the normal as possible. Pupils of the school become skilled workmen and graduates, with remarkably few exceptions, are self-supporting, useful citizens of the state. Among the vocations taught are baking, shoe regairing, book binding, printing, cabinet making and upholstering. Instruction in rhythm is also given, and a well-rounded course in almost everything which will make life more pleasant for those bereft of their hearing.

Iowa Cares for Children and Veterans

The state board of control has jurisdiction over 15 state institutions, of which six are for the mentally unfit and three are for criminal offenders. The remaining six are divided as follows: two training schools, designed as correctional institutions: one for boys, at Eldora; one for girls, at Mitchellville; two orphanages, at Toledo and Davenport; the soldiers' home at Marshalltown, and the state sanatorium for tuberculosis at Oakdale.

Training School for Girls, Mitchellville

The training school for girls was established in 1868, to be located on property in Lucas county, leased from a Society of Friends, or Quakers. The first admission was April, 1873. In 1880 the present training school, at Mitchellville, was located, taking over the Lucas county plant.

Girls between the ages of ten and eighteen are admitted, on commitment from district, juvenile and municipal courts or on transfer from other institutions by the board of control.

Under competent instruction and supervision, girls are taken through the twelfth grade of regular public school work, and are taught all necessary branches of home economics.

Farming and gardening are carried on, with good results.

The present superintendent is Mrs. John L. Carter.

Juvenile Home, Toledo

The state maintains a juvenile home, or orphanage, at Toledo. Dependent, destitute, homeless and neglected children are admitted and given care until they are 21 years of age, most of them being placed in good private homes, under the supervision of women state agents.

The buildings are substantial and kept in a home manner as far as possible. Generally the children are happy and contented and make good progress in their school work.

Iowa Annie Wittenmyer Home, Davenport

The second state orphanage is known as the Iowa Annie Wittenmyer Home and is located at Davenport.

The first child was admitted July 4, 1864. Dependent, neglected and abandoned children are admitted upon court order or personal application of parent or guardian, approved by court or board of supervisors.

The children are given scholastic and industrial advantages; with moving pictures, all manner of games and sports, picnics and the like, to make life more pleasant.

The present superintendent is Harvey E. Daines.

Iowa Soldiers' Home, Marshalltown

The board of control also manages the Iowa Soldiers' home at Marshalltown, founded in 1887.

Life is lived pleasantly by the soldiers, with plenty of amusements, moving pictures, billiards and pool, cards, horseshoe pitching and all manner of games and light sports. The nearby river permits fishing and boating and families are kept together by the presence of the veterans' wives. The men and women take frequent furloughs, to visit relatives and friends. Upon their return they seem more than ever satisfied.

The present commandant is Leslie E. Switzer.

Iowa Cares for Its Mentally Ill

---

On February 27, 1861, the first patient was received at the state hospital at Mount Pleasant, generally said to be the first institution of its kind west of the Mississippi river.

For the past 29 years Iowa has had four institutions to care for its mentally afflicted, those at Independence, Clarinda and Cherokee having been added. These are now know as state hospitals for insane.

Four Hospitals for Mental Cases

In the order of their establishment Independence comes second, the first patient having been admitted there on May 1, 1873; Clarinda is third, December 13, 1888; Cherokee, fourth, August 18, 1902.

Two Homes for Feeble-Minded

The reports of these four state hospitals do not begin to tell the entire story of what Iowa is doing for its mentally deficient and unfit. The state board of control has jurisdiction over two other institutions belonging to this same general classification: The Glenwood State school at Glenwood, which received its first patient on September 1, 1867; and the hospital for epileptics and school for feeble-minded, at Woodward, which received its first patient on September 3, 1917.

Each of these six institutions is open to general visitors within certain prescribed hours each day, and parents at any time. To the limit of funds available they are well kept, sanitary and attractive, the buildings at each place being surrounded by large grounds, nicely landscaped and properly tended. While the atmosphere at all is depressing, entertainment is arranged for as many as can mentally enjoy it.

Iowa Tuberculosis Sanatorium

---

The state sanatorium for tuberculosis was established in 1908, at Oakdale, six miles from Iowa City and 21 miles from Cedar Rapids. The care and treatment are splendid and the beneficial results are manifest.

Patients are admitted on certification by attending physicians. The cost of patients is charged to the counties where they live. Those who can do so are asked to reimburse the counties.

The sanatorium has the facilities and services of the hospital of the State University at its easy disposal, which is of inestimable value. It is under the jurisdiction of the state board of education.

Dr. Wm. M. Spear is the present superintendent.

Iowa Penal Institutions

State Penitentiary at Fort Madison

The prison at Fort Madison is more than 100 years old. It was established in 1839, the year after Iowa became a territory, and seven years before it became a state.

Under the able guidance of the board of control and recent wardens, the Fort Madison penitentiary has achieved high rank among the nation's penal institutions. Outbreaks have been few and escapes infrequent. A parole system enables the men of highest intelligence and best records to work on the prison farms, away from the enclosure, and even to go to the state's various other institutions under the board of control (state hospitals and schools) to work and live on an honor system.

The inmates as far as is possible are kept at work, according to their terms of sentence, many being fitted for industries at which they can support themselves after release. Each prisoner is interviewed, upon admittance, by the chaplain and the warden, in an effort to see what work he should be put to and what can best be done to reclaim him.

The inmates have recreation and amusement opportunities. Headphone radios are installed in the cells and good programs are furnished from a central control. A good library is well patronized; athletics and moving pictures make life more bearable. Baseball, kittenball, tennis, boxing, wrestling, horseshoe pitching, football and basketball give ample opportunity to most of the men to keep in good physical trim.

Under the law all condemned prisoners are executed at Fort Madison. The present warden is Col. P. A. Lanson.

Men's Reformatory at Anamosa

The men's reformatory is located at Anamosa, where the first prisoner was admitted on May 13, 1873. Originally intended for first and youthful offenders, and the criminally insane, within recent years prisoners have been transferred from Fort Madison as conditions demand.

Grain and livestock farming are carried on here on a large scale. A large modern canning plant is operated here as an industry. Most of the vegetables for the other state institutions are canned here. Other industries include the manufacture of soap, clothing, automobile number plates, road signs and cheese.

The prisoners are kept at work, according to the sentences imposed on them, but they have ample recreation and amusement facilities, including various sports and games, radio programs and moving pictures. Part of the reformatory yard, or enclosure, is flooded during the winter, permitting ice skating.

The warden of the men's reformatory is Foss Davis.

Women's Reformatory at Rockwell City

Women over 18 years old, convicted of offenses which carry a term of more than 30 days, are sent to the women's reformatory at Rockwell City. The first prisoner was received on May 2, 1918.

The fact that many short-term offenders are sent to Rockwell City, instead of being kept in county jails, makes the per capita cost of maintenance large. The women are given an opportunity to attend school and have various entertainments and amusements, including movies, dances, lectures and recitals, home talent plays and picnics.

The superintendent is Mrs. Helen M. Talbot.

Training School for Boys, Eldora

The training school for boys, at Eldora, was opened March 31, 1868. This school is for incorrigible and delinquent boys, sent there upon court order. The school has farms upon which are learned, by practical work, the various phases of farming and gardening. In addition there are industrial shops, tailor, blacksmith, automobile, shoe, printing, sewing room, bakery, machine shop, plumbing, carpenter, mason and painting.

Competent schools are presided over by efficient teachers. Athletics, debates, home talent plays, a fine band, moving pictures, a good library and other opportunities are provided to improve mind and body.

The present superintendent is Hollis L. Miles.

Aid to the Blind

The Iowa aid-to-the-blind act was passed by the Forty-seventh General Assembly and became effective July 4, 1937. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946, total assistance and benefits were paid in the amount of $535,437.17.

The total paid out by the state for old age assistance in May, 1949, was $2,313,621. For aid to the blind the amount paid out was $63,125. For aid to dependent children the amount paid out was $290,301. This gives one the information of just about what Iowa is paying out each month under the program of old age assistance, aid to blind and aid to dependent children.

Monthly assistance is paid on the first of the month for assistance during the month. Burial expense, remedial eye treatment and aid to blind and aid to dependent children medical care are paid on the basis of claims filed and the amounts are reported quarterly. Old age assistance medical care is provided on a prepayment basis and is included as a part of the regular monthly grants as reported above.

Grand Army of the Republic

The Grand Army of the Republic is a patriotic and fraternal organization of the survivors of the military and naval forces of the Civil war who served between April 12, 1861, and April 9, 1865.

Iowa was one of the first states of the Union to attempt organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, receiving as a department its first charter on July 12, 1866. Its permanent reorganization dates from January 23, 1879.

Of Grand Army posts in Iowa, in its provisional period there were some 135 posts with over 500 members; under reorganization there were over 520 posts chartered. Membership stood at its peak in 1890, when 20,324 veterans belonged to 435 posts.

Six veterans of the Civil war served as governors of Iowa: Colonel William M. Stone of Knoxville, 1864-1868; Colonel Samuel Merrill of McGregor, 1868-1872; Colonel Cyrus C. Carpenter of Fort Dodge, 1872-1875; Captain Joshua G. Newbold of Mount Pleasant, 1877-1878; Captain Buren R. Sherman of Vinton, 1882-1886; Lieutenant Colonel Francis M. Drake of Centerville and Des Moines, 1896-1898.

To the Grand Army of the Republic goes the credit for having instituted Memorial day, with all the tender and reverent patriotism which that occasion always reveals, and for having kept alive, in history and story, the brave deeds performed upon many a battlefield by many a gallant soldier. To them goes the credit of having preserved the Union at a critical period in its history. Their average age when they fought the war was nineteen.

Iowa in World War I

The total number of men registered in Iowa for service, and possible service, during World War I, was 523,478. This grand total was divided as follows:

Class of June 5, 1917, aged 21 to 31, both inclusive.....	217,914
Class of June-August, 1918, age 21.....	21,671
Class of September 12, 1918, ages 18 to 45, not previously registered .....	283,893
Total.....	523,478

The total number of officers, men and women from Iowa in World War I service is placed at 114,213, divided as follows:

- In the army, 96,726 enlisted men, 4,975 officers, 611 nurses.
- In the marines, 1,044 enlisted men, 30 officers.
- In the navy, 10,211 enlisted men, 525 officers, 40 nurses, 42 yeomen.
- Cadets at West Point, 20.

These Iowa soldiers came from every walk of life. The adjutant general reported to the governor that, of the men drafted in Iowa, 51.7 per cent were farmers and farm laborers.

Iowa in World War II

The total number of men in Iowa registered under the selective training and service act of 1940, as amended, was 882,542, divided as follows:

Date of Registration	Age Group Liable for Military Service	Number Registered
Oct. 16, 1940.....	21-35 .....	292,388
July 1, 1941.....	21 (since Oct. 16, 1940).....	14,974
Feb. 16, 1942.....	21 (since July 1, 1941) and 36-45.....	156,758
June 30, 1942.....	18-20 .....	53,228
Dec. 11, 1942.....	18 (since June 30, 1942).....	*89,479
Thereafter persons were required to register within 5 days after reaching the 18th anniversary of the dates of their birth.
		606,827

*Total persons registered upon attaining the age of 18 years on and after Dec. 11, 1942, up to and including March 31, 1947.

April 27, 1942.....	45-64.....	275,715
---------------------	------------	---------

This registration was for the purpose of uncovering persons, 45 through 64 years of age, who possessed critical skills required in war production or civilian activities vital to the successful prosecution of the war effort. This age group was not vulnerable to military service.

The number of officers and enlisted men and women from Iowa in World War II is placed at 262,638. No distinction is made as between persons who entered service through induction or enlistment. Although no specific figures are available, it is estimated that persons served in the various components as follows:

Army .....	73%	Marine Corps.....	3.5%
Navy .....	22%	Coast Guard.....	1.5%

United Spanish War Veterans

From the veterans of the Spanish-American and Philippine wars grew the organization of United Spanish War veterans. The Iowa department maintains headquarters in room 4, in the north corridor, basement floor, with the Grand Army of the Republic, State House, Des Moines. Its functions are to maintain records of organization and personnel, arrange for department meetings, look after the interests of its members in governmental affairs, such as pensions and hospitalization, and to develop the spirit of comradeship among the members of the organization.

The American Legion in Iowa

The American Legion was born in Paris, March 15, 1919. The Legion was launched formally at St. Louis, May 8, 1919, by World War veterans from nearly every state in the Union, who had been selected by temporary secretaries named at the request of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who acted under instructions from the Paris caucus.

The first Iowa state convention was held in Des Moines, September 4, 1919. The first national convention of delegates from the newly organized state departments was held in Minneapolis on Armistice day, 1919.

The American Legion Auxiliary of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Legionnaires was organized in 1921. The Iowa department was launched at Sioux City.

La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, a national fraternal order of Legionnaires, was organized in 1921.

Hanford MacNider established the Iowa Legionnaire with Frank Miles, a wartime sailor and former city editor of the Des Moines Capital, as editor on March 4, 1921. He was succeeded as editor on April 1, 1946, by A. F. Faber.

The Disabled American Veterans in Iowa

The Disabled American Veterans, commonly known as the D. A. V., was organized nationally in 1920 by groups of disabled veterans then undergoing vocational training courses, and chartered by Congress in 1932, to render service to, for and by disabled veterans. The D. A. V. has, ever since its inception, been the spokesman for the disabled war veterans of America, in Congress and before its various committees, as well as before the Veterans' Administration and its local regional offices and facilities.

During 1920 and 1921 the first three chapters of the Iowa department were organized in the vocational training centers at Des Moines, Iowa City and Ames. The department of Iowa D. A. V. held its first state convention in 1922 at Iowa City.

Iowa Veterans of Foreign Wars

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, department of Iowa, was granted its charter by the national organization on May 28, 1921. Its objects are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational; to preserve and strengthen comradeship among its members and to assist worthy comrades; to perpetuate the memory and history of its dead; and to assist their widows and orphans; to maintain true allegiance to the government of the United States and fidelity to its constitution and laws. V. F. W. is composed only of American men who have served honorably in the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard of the United States, in hostile waters or on foreign soil during any foreign war, insurrection or expedition.

Veterans of Foreign Wars has an auxiliary of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, and fraternal orders consisting of Cooties of V. F. W. members, and Cootiettes and Lady Bugs of auxiliary members.

American Veterans of World War II

The American Veterans of World War II, commonly known as the AMVETS, were organized nationally in September, 1944, at Kansas City, Missouri. The AMVETS were granted a national charter by an act of Congress and President Truman signed the measure on July 23, 1947. AMVETS is the only nationally chartered World War II veterans organization.

AMVETS got their start in Iowa at Atlantic, Iowa, in 1944, and were incorporated as the Iowa department of AMVETS on May 22, 1945. The first state convention was held in Des Moines in 1947. AMVETS were recognized as a nationally chartered World War II veterans' organization by the Iowa Legislature in March, 1949, and entered as such in the Iowa Code.

The AMVETS principles are (1) to promote world peace, (2) to perpetuate the American way of life, (3) to help the veteran help himself.

The AMVETS have a national and state auxiliary comprised of the wives, mothers and sisters of World War II veterans.

SUPERIOR COURTS

The Iowa statutes provide that any city of 4,000 population, or over, may establish a superior court. There are at present three such courts, located as follows: Cedar Rapids, Keokuk and Oelwein. The judges are elected for terms of four years and receive an annual salary, which is paid quarterly, the first two quarters being paid from the city treasury and the last two quarters from the county treasury of the county in which court is located. Salary of judge, $2,400 per annum in cities up to 25,000 population; $3,000 in cities of 25,000 up to 45,000, and $4,250 in cities of 45,000 or more.

The judges appoint a shorthand reporter, whose compensation is fixed by order of the court not exceeding $8.00 per day for the time actually employed.

The officers of Superior Courts in Iowa are as follows:

JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT

CLERKS OF THE SUPERIOR COURT

REPORTERS OF THE SUPERIOR COURT

Cedar Rapids.....Mrs. Imogene B. Emery

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Any city, whether organized under a special charter, commission form of government or the general law for the incorporation of cities or towns, now or hereafter having a population of 5,000 or more, as shown by the last preceding state or United States census, may establish a municipal court. All civil townships in which said city or any part thereof is located shall constitute the municipal court district and its jurisdiction is coextensive with the territorial limits of the county in which the court is located.

The salary of municipal court judges is $3,500 in cities with population less than 30,000; $4,000 with population from 30,000 to 75,000; $4,200 with population 75,000 or over. Compensation of court reporter is fixed by the judge at not to exceed $8.00 per day. Salary of clerk is $1,800, $2,200 or $2,600, according to population of the city as above indicated.

The officials of the Municipal Courts in the seven Iowa cities which have these judiciaries are as follows:

The Government of Iowa

Prepared for the Iowa Official Register by the State Historical Society of Iowa.

The government of the State of Iowa is based upon a constitution adopted by the people and upon statute laws enacted from time to time by the General Assembly. Iowa has had two state constitutions, the first approved in 1846, the second one in 1857. The present constitution has been amended a number of times.

The Electorate—All men and women who have lived in Iowa for six months and in the county in which they claim residence for sixty days are entitled to vote if they are citizens of the United States and are twenty-one years of age or over. Persons convicted of infamous crimes and those declared idiotic or insane are, however, disfranchised. The right of women to vote in Iowa is based upon the nineteenth amendment to the United States constitution.

Election Days—The regular elections for national, state, district and county officers are held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November of the even-numbered years. Candidates, with a few exceptions, are nominated at the primary election held on the first Monday in June preceding the general election. Provision is also made for nominations by petition or convention. Political parties must use the primary for nominating candidates, but in case no candidate receives the necessary thirty-five per cent at the primary, a convention may nominate.

The Legislative Department

General Assembly—The legislative authority of the State of Iowa is vested by the constitution in a General Assembly which consists of a Senate and a House of Representatives. The terms of both senators and representatives begin on the first day of January following their election. Regular sessions are held biennially, commencing on the second Monday of January of the odd-numbered years. Special sessions of the General Assembly may be called by the proclamation of the governor.

House of Representatives—The House of Representatives consists of one hundred and eight members, elected for two years. Each of the ninety-nine counties is entitled to one representative and each of the nine counties having the largest population elects an additional representative. Any person who has resided in the state for one year and has the qualifications of a voter is eligible for election as a representative. Women were admitted to the General Assembly by an amendment to the state constitution adopted in 1926. The House of Representatives elects a speaker and other officers.

Senate—The Senate consists of fifty members, elected by districts for a term of four years. A senatorial district contains from one to three counties, according to population, and elects one senator. According to the constitution, approximately one-half the senators are to be elected at each alternate biennial election, but due to changes in the districts, the terms of twenty-one senators now expire at the end of each alternate legislative biennium and those of twenty-nine in the intervening years. Senators must be twenty-five years of age and have the other qualifications required of representatives.

The Executive Department

Elective Officers—The constitution of Iowa makes provision for a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of state and treasurer of state, who are elected for terms of two years at the regular biennial elections in the even-numbered years. In addition, the General Assembly has made provision for a secretary of agriculture, elected for two years; a board of commerce commissioners of three members, and a superintendent of public instruction, chosen for four years.

Governor—The supreme executive power of the state is vested in the governor. It is his duty to see that the laws are enforced, to supervise the official business of the state, to make recommendations to the General Assembly, and to appoint various officers and boards. He has the power to call special sessions of the Legislature and to veto acts passed by the General Assembly, but a majority of two-thirds of each house may pass a bill over his veto. To qualify as governor, a person must have been a citizen of the United States and a resident of the state for at least two years and must be thirty years of age or over at the date of election.

Lieutenant Governor—The lieutenant governor succeeds the governor in case of his death, resignation or disability. His chief function is to act as president of the Senate.

Appointive Officers—In addition to the executive officers mentioned, all of whom are elected, there are a number of appointive officers, including the comptroller, the superintendent of banking, the insurance commissioner, the labor commissioner, the adjutant general, the commissioner of public health and the industrial commissioner, all appointed by the governor, usually with the approval of the Senate. The governor also appoints, with the approval of the senate, the members of a number of administrative boards, including the state board of education, the board of control of state institutions, the state tax commission, the board of parole, the state board of conservation, the liquor control commission, the state highway commission and the unemployment compensation commission.

Executive Council—The executive council is an ex officio board made up of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and secretary of agriculture.

State Printing Board—The state printing board has three ex officio members—the secretary of state, auditor and attorney general—and two members appointed by the governor. This board appoints the superintendent of printing.

The Judicial Department

The judicial department of the State of Iowa is vested by the constitution in a supreme court, district courts and such other inferior courts as the General Assembly shall provide.

Supreme Court—The supreme court at present consists of nine justices, elected for terms of six years, approximately one-third being elected at each regular biennial election. The senior in time of service is chief justice for six months until each judge has served in that capacity. The supreme court appoints a reporter of the supreme court who is also the code editor, and a clerk. Both appointments are for four years.

Attorney General—The constitution also provides for an attorney general who is elected at the regular biennial election for a term of two years. He represents the state in legal matters, gives advice to state officers, and has, in addition, some administrative functions.

Judicial Districts—The State of Iowa is divided by law into twenty-one judicial districts, composed of from one to nine counties. Each district elects from two to six judges, there being at present sixty-nine district judges in the state. One of the district judges presides over the district court sessions in each county. A county attorney and a clerk of the court are elected by the voters in each county.

Inferior Courts—The General Assembly has provided also for other inferior courts. Each township is authorized to elect two justices of the peace who hear cases involving minor offenses and hold preliminary hearings on more serious charges. Municipal courts, superior courts, police courts and mayors' courts are authorized in cities and towns under various restrictions. Municipal courts are optional in cities having a population of five thousand or more and superior courts in cities with four thousand or over. Both municipal and superior court judges are elected for four-year terms.

Municipal Courts—If a city of the first class has neither a municipal nor a superior court, the council shall appoint a police judge in commission governed and city manager cities and may provide for the election of a police judge in such cities under the general law. In all municipalities having none of these special courts, the mayor acts as the police judge.

Jury Trials—Jury trials are the rule for trials of serious cases, but under certain conditions may be waived or denied. Petit juries consist of twelve persons who must be "electors," except in some courts of restricted jurisdiction where the number of jurors may be six persons.

Local Government in Iowa

County Officials—The State of Iowa is divided into ninety-nine counties, the boundaries of which may not be changed unless the change is approved by the voters of each county concerned. A board of supervisors consisting of three, five or seven members is the chief administrative agency in the county. They appoint a county engineer. In addition, an auditor, who is the clerk of the board of supervisors, a sheriff, county attorney, recorder, treasurer, coroner and clerk of the district court are elected biennially by the voters. A county superintendent of schools is chosen every three years by a convention composed of representatives of the school districts.

Local Functions—The Iowa county is a quasi-political corporation which collects municipal, school, county and state taxes, enforces state laws, has charge of poor relief and certain other welfare activities, and shares with the state highway commission the management of the roads and bridges in the county. Townships, which in earlier days were effective units of local government within the counties, have lost almost all their functions, except for the election of justices of the peace in which many townships default.

City Government—The laws of Iowa also authorize the incorporation of cities and towns. These municipalities derive their authority from the General Assembly and have only the powers specifically granted to them. Four cities and towns are governed by special charters granted before the adoption of the present constitution which forbids such acts of incorporation. Seven cities have the commission form of government; three have adopted the city manager plan by popular election; and a few others have a city manager by ordinance. Members of the commission are elected by the voters. The city manager in cities adopting that plan by a popular vote is appointed by a commission.

Municipal Classes—All other municipalities are under the general law. They are classified according to population into cities of the first class, having over 15,000 population; cities of the second class, having from 2,000 to 15,000 population; and towns having less than 2,000 population. All these municipalities have the mayor-council form of government, both the mayor and the members of the council being elected by the voters for two-year terms. A treasurer, assessor and park commissioners, and in some cities a police, superior or municipal court judge, are also elected.

City Councils—The council is the law-making body in municipal government and it is also the chief administrative agency. The mayor presides over the council, although he is not a member, and has the power to veto acts of the council subject to a two-thirds majority vote over his veto. He supervises municipal activities and in cities and towns which do not have a municipal, superior or police court, he serves as police judge. He also appoints certain officers, including the marshal or chief of police, the city health officer, and members of the police and fire board. The city solicitor and clerk, and in some cases the engineer and members of the zoning board of adjustment are chosen by the council.

Taxation

Tax Sources—Taxation is probably the most important governmental power. The present tax system of Iowa is based largely on property, sales, income and corporation taxes, although there are taxes on inheritance, poll taxes and sales or license taxes on gasoline, cigarettes, beer and chain stores.

Tax Levies—Property is assessed by the county assessors. Assessments are subject to revision by local boards of review and by the state tax commission. The various mill levies for state, county, school and municipal purposes are computed by the county auditor on the assessed valuation and the tax money is paid to the county treasurer who distributes it to the proper fund. Levies for county school or municipal purposes are, in most cases, limited by state law.

Calendar of Official Dates

Code 1946, section 541.85, provides that the following designated days ". . . Presidential or Special—Precinct caucuses, county conventions and state conventions of each political party are held in the years presidents are elected and usually during the months of March and April on call of the state chairman of the political parties.

Tax Assessments

Section 427.13 of the 1946 Code of Iowa, states that all property, not specifically exempted by statute, is taxable.

Personal property is listed each year for taxation purposes; real estate was listed in 1949 and is to be listed in each fourth year thereafter.

In each year in which real estate is not listed, all new buildings erected since the last previous assessment must be listed and the valuation added to the valuation of the real estate on which the buildings are situated.

The statutes of Iowa require all property to be listed at 60% of its actual value.

County Board of Review. The board of review shall meet on the first Monday in May, in the office of the county assessor and shall sit from day to day until their duties are completed which shall not be later than the first day of June.

It shall adjust assessments by raising or lowering the assessments of any person, partnership, corporation or association as to any of the item of their assessments in such manner as to secure the listing of property at taxable value.

It shall also add to the assessment rolls any taxable property not included therein, assessing the same in the name of the owner thereof.

All meetings of the board of review are public.

Taxpayers who are not satisfied with the valuation of their property as may be listed by the assessor may appear before said board of review and state their grievances. Failure of any taxpayer to appear before the board or to file a written statement setting out their grievances, the taxpayer will lose his rights of hearing or his right to appeal to the district court.

Levies. The board of supervisors fixes the county tax levies at the September meeting. School corporations make their levies and certify them to the office of the county auditor on or before the fifteenth day of August. Cities and towns also certify their tax levies within the same time. Township trustees make, and the clerks certify, the township levies within the same time.

The state tax commission fixes the rates necessary to meet the state appropriations and certifies them to the county auditors.

All taxes are due and payable January 1st of each year. The first installment of taxes becomes delinquent April 1st and a penalty of three-fourths of one per cent per month attaches. The second installment of taxes becomes delinquent October 1st and a penalty of three-fourths of one per cent per month attaches.

Tax sales are held on the first Monday in December of each year. Prior to tax sale, an advertising fee of 30 cents attaches and in case of sale, 50 cents is added for each tax sale certificate.

Redemption. For redemption from tax sale, four per cent penalty is added to the sum paid by the purchaser at tax sale and all subsequent taxes paid by him under sale. Also six per cent interest is added from time of payment until time of redemption, together with 25 cents for redemption certificate.

Tax sales run three years before purchaser is entitled to a tax deed. Purchasers at a scavenger tax sale are entitled to a deed after one year.

Taxes a Lien on Real Estate. Taxes due from any person upon personal property are a lien upon any or all real estate owned or afterwards acquired by such persons. As against the purchaser, taxes are a lien against real estate on and after December 31st of the year in which they were assessed and levied.

Military Exemptions. The following should receive the attention of soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who have participated in the several wars in which this country was engaged, subsequent to and including the war with Mexico, who are entitled to exemption from taxes. The exemptions are as follows:

$1,800 assessed value to any soldier, sailor or marine of the war with Spain, Indian wars, Chinese relief or Philippine insurrection.

The property, to the same extent, of the wife of any such soldier, sailor or marine, where they are living together and he has not otherwise received the benefits above provided; and the property, to the same extent of the widowed mother, remaining unmarried, of any such soldier, sailor or marine where the said widowed mother is dependent upon any such soldier, sailor or marine for support and he has not otherwise received the benefits above provided; also the property to the same extent of the widow, remaining unmarried, or minor child or children of any of the persons entitled to exemption.

The above exemptions are to be made from any property and the exemption is to be allowed during the time such persons remain the owners of the property upon which exemption is granted.

The law also requires that the person claiming any of the above exemptions must be a resident of and domiciled in the state of Iowa.

Homestead Tax Credit Law. Every home owner in the State of Iowa, who resides upon his homestead six months out of the year, is entitled to a homestead tax credit upon his taxes.

The amount of credit to which he is entitled depends upon the value of his homestead and the millage rate of credit allowed by the Iowa state tax commission.

No home owner can receive a credit upon his taxes upon any value in excess of $2,500 and the Iowa state tax commission cannot refund in excess of 25 mills upon such valuation. In other words, no home owner can receive in excess of $62.50 refund.

Under this law, a home owner is:

- (1) One who holds fee simple title to the homestead.
- (2) A person occupying a homestead as a surviving spouse.

- (3) A person occupying property under contract of purchase where it can be shown that not less than ten per cent of the purchase price named in the contract has been paid and that such contract has been made a matter of record in the office of the county recorder.
- (4) A person occupying a homestead under devise or by operation of inheritance laws.
- (5) A person occupying property under deed which conveys a divided interest to other blood relatives or legally adopted children.

Under this homestead tax credit law, a dwelling house is defined as any building which is occupied wholly or in part by the owner as a home.

In rural districts it cannot exceed 40 acres and in towns and cities it cannot exceed a $2,500 valuation.

A homestead may contain one or more contiguous lots or tracts of ground with buildings upon it, which is used in good faith as a homestead.

Home owners desiring to avail themselves of the benefits of this law must file application for such tax credit with the assessor or the county auditor each year between January first and up to and including July first. This application is for taxes payable in the succeeding year.

Special on Schools: House File No. 224 passed by the 53rd General Assembly is an act appropriating money for general aid to schools. Section 5 of the act is as follows:

"Sec. 5. The school levy in each of the ensuing bienniums shall be based upon the school levy of the preceding year reduced by an amount equivalent to the increased state aid to that district provided by this act over and above the amount appropriated by the Fifty-second (52nd) General Assembly after reflecting any increase or decrease in cost of operation caused by: (1) change in enrollment, (2) tuition, (3) number of persons employed, (4) normal repairs, (5) cost of fuel, (6) salary schedule, (7) rents and new items of expenditure."

What this law really does is to "freeze" school taxes to be certified in 1949 and 1950 for general operating purposes to the levy certified for the same purposes in the preceding year less the additional general school aid appropriated by H. F. 224. This is a mandatory requirement, but the act permits certain adjustments under items 1 to 7 inclusive. School boards should study this law so as to be able to make out their budgets more accurately.

Budgets Prepared and Submitted

Preparation—All taxing districts except townships must at least twenty days prior to August 15 each year prepare a budget of anticipated expenditures and estimated amount to be raised by taxation by funds. Rural schools post budget estimate ten days before dates of hearing. Other taxing districts subject to the budget law publish their budgets in a newspaper. (C. '46, §24.9.)

Certification—After hearing and decision of local board, budgets are certified to the county auditor not later than August 15. (C. '46, §24.17.)

Submitted to State Comptroller—As soon as taxes are certified by each local board and have been computed by the county auditor he shall forward a copy of each budget, together with a summary of all budgets, to the state comptroller. (C. '46, §24.18.)

County Budget—On or before December 31 of each year, each county is required to appropriate in detail anticipated expenditures for every office or department for each and every purpose for which expenditures are authorized or demanded. The budget in detail must be completed and adopted by January 31 of the year to which it applies. This procedure is appropriating in detail the budget certified in August by funds (C. '46, §§344.1, 344.2.)

City and Town Budgets—Cities and towns may adopt and levy a consolidated tax when certifying their budget in August, and prior to the beginning of their next fiscal year may apportion said consolidated tax in detail to the funds embraced therein in a ratio suitable to their requirements. The consolidated plan is optional with cities and towns. (C. '46, §404.11.)

State—On or before September first, next prior to each biennial legislative session, all departments and establishments of the government shall transmit to the state comptroller estimates of their expenditure requirements for each fiscal year of ensuing biennium * * *. (C. '46, §8.23.)

The comptroller shall prepare and file in his office, on or before the first day of December of each even-numbered year, a state budget report * * *. C. '46, §8.6, ¶17.)

Not later than February 1 of the year of each biennial legislative session, the governor shall transmit to the Legislature a document to be known as a budget, setting forth his financial program for each of the fiscal years of the ensuing biennium * * *. (C. '46, §8.21.)

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF IOWA

INTRODUCTION

Iowa was organized as a separate Territory by an act of Congress approved on June 12, 1838, but it was not until 1844 that steps were taken to secure admission into the Union. A constitutional convention met at Iowa City in October, 1844. The Constitution drafted by this convention was twice submitted to the voters of the Territory of Iowa and twice rejected by them, largely because of dissatisfaction with the boundaries of the proposed State.

A second constitutional convention met at Iowa City in May, 1846. The Constitution drafted by this convention was ratified by a majority of 456 votes at an election held on August 3, 1846, and Iowa was admitted as a State on December 28, 1846.

The Constitution of 1846, however, contained a number of provisions which were found to be unsatisfactory in practice. One of these was the prohibition of banking institutions. As a result of this dissatisfaction, the legislature in 1855 provided for an election on the question of calling a convention to revise or amend the Constitution of 1846. The vote was 32,390 for a convention and 14,162 against a convention. Delegates were elected on November 4, 1856, and the convention met at Iowa City on January 19, 1857.

The delegates drafted a new constitution which was submitted to the people at an election held on August 3, 1857, and ratified by a vote of 40,311 to 38,681. This Constitution went into effect by proclamation of the governor on September 3, 1857.

The Constitution of 1857 has, since that time, remained the fundamental law of the State of Iowa; but it has been amended a number of times.

THE CONSTITUTION<sup>1</sup>

WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF IOWA, grateful to the Supreme Being for the blessings hitherto enjoyed, and feeling our dependence on Him for a continuation of those blessings, do ordain and establish a free and independent government, by the name of the STATE OF IOWA, the boundaries whereof shall be as follows:

Beginning in the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River, at a point due East of the middle of the mouth of the main channel of the Des Moines River, thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River, to a point on said river where the Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri—as established by the Constitution of that State—adopted June 12th, 1820—crosses the said middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River; thence Westwardly along the said Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri, as established at the time aforesaid, until an extension of said line intersects the middle of the main channel of the Missouri River; thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Missouri River to a point opposite the middle of the main channel of the Big Sioux River, according to Nicollet's Map; thence up the main channel of the said Big Sioux River, according to the said map, until it is intersected by the parallel of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes North latitude; thence East along said parallel of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes until said parallel intersects the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River; thence down the middle of the main channel of said Mississippi River to the place of beginning.

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. All men are, by nature, free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights—among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

SEC. 2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people, and they have the right, at all times, to alter or reform the same, whenever the public good may require it.

SEC. 3. The General Assembly shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; nor shall any person be compelled to attend any place of worship, pay tithes, taxes, or other rates for building or repairing places of worship or the maintenance of any minister, or ministry.

<sup>1</sup>The text of the Constitution was taken directly from the original manuscript copy preserved in the office of the Secretary of State. Compiled, edited, and documented by Benjamin F. Shambaugh and Ruth A. Gallaher, of the State Historical Society of Iowa. All words, phrases, and sections which have been eliminated from the Constitution or rendered inoperative by amendment appear in italics. Material added to the Constitution by amendment is enclosed within brackets. Besides being indicated in their proper place in the text, the amendments are also printed in full in chronological order following the Constitution.

SEC. 4. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office, or public trust, and no person shall be deprived of any of his rights, privileges, or capacities, or disqualified from the performance of any of his public or private duties, or rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity, in consequence of his opinions on the subject of religion; and any party to any judicial proceeding shall have the right to use as a witness, or take the testimony of, any other person not disqualified on account of interest, who may be cognizant of any fact material to the case; and parties to suits may be witnesses, as provided by law.

SEC. 5. Any citizen of this State who may hereafter be engaged, either directly, or indirectly, in a duel, either as principal, or accessory before the fact, shall forever be disqualified from holding any office under the Constitution and laws of this State.

SEC. 6. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation; the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen, or class of citizens, privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens.

SEC. 7. Every person may speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. No law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech, or of the press. In all prosecutions or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury, and if it appears to the jury that the matter charged as libelous was true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted.

SEC. 8. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable seizures and searches shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but on probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons and things to be seized.

SEC. 9. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate; but the General Assembly may authorize trial by a jury of a less number than twelve men in inferior courts; but no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.

SEC. 10. In all criminal prosecutions, and in cases involving the life, or liberty of an individual the accused shall have a right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; to be informed of the accusation against him, to have a copy of the same when demanded; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for his witnesses; and, to have the assistance of counsel.

SEC. 11. All offences less than felony and in which the punishment does not exceed a fine of one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days, shall be tried summarily before a Justice of the Peace, or other officer authorized by law, on information under oath, without indictment, or the intervention of a grand jury, saving to the defendant the right of appeal; and no person shall be held to answer for any higher criminal offence, unless on presentation or indictment by a grand jury<sup>2</sup>, except in cases arising in the army, or navy, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger.

SEC. 12. No person shall after acquittal, be tried for the same offence. All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable, by sufficient sureties, except for capital offences where the proof is evident, or the presumption great.

SEC. 13. The writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, or refused when application is made as required by law, unless in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

SEC. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power. No standing army shall be kept up by the State in time of peace; and in time of war, no appropriation for a standing army shall be for a longer time than two years.

SEC. 15. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war except in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 16. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the evidence of two witnesses to the same overt act, or confession in open Court.

SEC. 17. Excessive bail shall not be required; excessive fines shall not be imposed, and cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted.

SEC. 18. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation first being made, or secured to be made to the owner thereof, as soon as the damages shall be assessed by a jury, who shall not take into consideration any advantages that may result to said owner on account of the improvement for which it is taken.

[The General Assembly, however, may pass laws permitting the owners of lands to construct drains, ditches, and levees for agricultural, sanitary or mining purposes across the lands of others, and provide for the organization of drainage districts, vest the proper authorities with power to construct and maintain levees, drains and ditches and to keep in repair all drains, ditches, and levees heretofore constructed under the laws of the State, by special assessments upon the property benefitted thereby. The General Assembly may provide by law for the condemnation of such real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and maintenance of such drains, ditches and levees, and prescribe the method of making such condemnation.]<sup>2</sup>

SEC. 19. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action, on mesne or final process, unless in case of fraud; and no person shall be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

SEC. 20. The people have the right freely to assemble together to counsel for the common good; to make known their opinions to their representatives and to petition for a redress of grievances.

SEC. 21. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall ever be passed.

SEC. 22. Foreigners who are, or may hereafter become residents of this State, shall enjoy the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment and descent of property, as native born citizens.

SEC. 23. There shall be no slavery in this State; nor shall there be involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crime.

SEC. 24. No lease or grant of agricultural lands, reserving any rent, or service of any kind, shall be valid for a longer period than twenty years.

SEC. 25. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others, retained by the people.

[SECTION 26. No person shall manufacture for sale, or sell, or keep for sale, as a beverage any intoxicating liquors whatever, including ale, wine and beer. The General Assembly shall by law prescribe regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition herein contained, and shall thereby provide suitable penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.]<sup>4</sup>

ARTICLE II.

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE

SECTION 1. Every white<sup>5</sup> male<sup>6</sup> citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of this State six months next preceding the election, and of the County in which he claims his vote sixty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or hereafter may be authorized by law.

SEC. 2. Electors shall, in all cases except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest on the days of election, during their attendance at such election, going to and returning therefrom.

SEC. 3. No elector shall be obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, except in time of war, or public danger.

SEC. 4. No person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident of this State by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place, or station within this State.

SEC. 5. No idiot, or insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, shall be entitled to the privilege of an elector.

SEC. 6. All elections by the people shall be by ballot.

[The general election for state, district, county and township officers shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.]<sup>7</sup>

[SEC. 7. The general election for state, district, county and township officers in the year 1916 shall be held in the same month and on the same day as that fixed by the laws of the United States for the election of presidential electors, or of president and vice-president of the United States; and thereafter such election shall be held at such time as the General Assembly may by law provide.]<sup>8</sup>

ARTICLE III.

OF THE DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

SECTION 1. The powers of the government of Iowa shall be divided into three separate departments—the Legislative, the Executive, and the Judicial; and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any function appertaining to either of the others, except in cases hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

<sup>4</sup>This amendment was proposed by the General Assembly in 1830; readopted in 1882; ratified at a special election held on June 27, 1882; and certified adopted on June 28, 1882. On April 21, 1888, the Supreme Court of Iowa, in deciding Koehler and Lange v. Hill, held, that, owing to certain irregularities, the amendment had not been legally submitted to the voters and hence was not a part of the Constitution—60 Iowa 543.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

SECTION 1. The Legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives; and the style of every law shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa."

SEC. 2. The sessions of the General Assembly shall be biennial, and shall commence on the second Monday in January next ensuing the election of its members; unless the Governor of the State shall, in the meantime, convene the General Assembly by proclamation.

SEC. 3. The members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen every second year, by the qualified electors of their respective districts, on the second Tuesday in October, except the years of the Presidential election, when the election shall be on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November,<sup>9</sup> and their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election, and continue two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 4. No person shall be a member of the House of Representatives who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, be a free white<sup>10</sup> male<sup>11</sup> citizen of the United States, and shall have been an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding his election, and at the time of his election shall have had an actual residence of sixty days in the County, or District he may have been chosen to represent.

SEC. 5. Senators shall be chosen for the term of four years, at the same time and place as Representatives; they shall be twenty-five years of age, and possess the qualifications of Representatives as to residence and citizenship.

SEC. 6. The number of Senators shall not be less than one third, nor more than one half the representative body; and shall be so classified by lot, that one class, being as nearly one half as possible, shall be elected every two years. When the number of Senators is increased, they shall be annexed by lot to one of the other of the two classes, so as to keep them as nearly equal in numbers as practicable.

SEC. 7. Each house shall choose its own officers, and judge of the qualification, election, and return of its own members. A contested election shall be determined in such manner as shall be directed by law.

SEC. 8. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to transact business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

SEC. 9. Each house shall sit upon its own adjournments, keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same; determine its rules and proceedings, punish members for disorderly behavior, and, with the consent of two thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same offense; and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the General Assembly of a free and independent State.

SEC. 10. Every member of the General Assembly shall have the liberty to dissent from, or protest against any act or resolution which he may think injurious to the public, or an individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question, shall, at the desire of any two members present, be entered on the journals.

SEC. 11. Senators and Representatives, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same.

SEC. 12. When vacancies occur in either house, the Governor, or the person exercising the functions of Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

SEC. 13. The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions, as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy.

SEC. 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be sitting.

SEC. 15. Bills may originate in either house, and may be amended, altered, or rejected by the other; and every bill having passed both houses, shall be signed by the Speaker and President of their respective houses.

SEC. 16. Every bill which shall have passed the General Assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve, he shall sign it; but, if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the same upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it; if, after such reconsideration, it again pass both houses, by yeas and nays, by a majority of two thirds <sup>9</sup>Although there has been no specific repeal of any part of this section, the dates of election have been changed, first by the amendment of 1884, and later by the amendment of 1916.

<sup>11</sup>The word "male" was stricken from this section by an amendment adopted in 1926. of the members of each house, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within three days after it shall have been presented to him, Sunday excepted, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly, by adjournment, prevent such return. Any bill submitted to the Governor for his approval during the last three days of a session of the General Assembly, shall be deposited by him in the office of the Secretary of State, within thirty days after the adjournment, with his approval, if approved by him, and with his objections, if he disapproves thereof.

SEC. 17. No bill shall be passed unless by the assent of a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly, and the question upon the final passage shall be taken immediately upon its last reading, and the yeas and nays entered on the journal.

SEC. 18. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be attached to and published with the laws, at every regular session of the General Assembly.

SEC. 19. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, and all impeachments shall be tried by the Senate. When sitting for that purpose, the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members present.

SEC. 20. The Governor, Judges of the Supreme and District Courts, and other State officers, shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor or malfeasance in office; but judgment in such cases shall extend only to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit, under this State; but the party convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment, according to law. All other civil officers shall be tried for misdemeanors and malfeasance in office, in such manner as the General Assembly may provide.

SEC. 21. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term, except such offices as may be filled by elections by the people.

SEC. 22. No person holding any lucrative office under the United States, or this State, or any other power, shall be eligible to hold a seat in the General Assembly; but offices in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, or the office of justice of the peace, or postmaster whose compensation does not exceed one hundred dollars per annum, or notary public, shall not be deemed lucrative.

SEC. 23. No person who may hereafter be a collector or holder of public monies, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or be eligible to hold any office of trust or profit in this State, until he shall have accounted for and paid into the treasury all sums for which he may be liable.

SEC. 24. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law.

SEC. 25. Each member of the first General Assembly under this Constitution, shall receive three dollars per diem while in session; and the further sum of three dollars for every twenty miles traveled, in going to and returning from the place where such session is held, by the nearest traveled route; after which they shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by law; but no General Assembly shall have power to increase the compensation of its own members. And when convened in extra session they shall receive the same mileage and per diem compensation, as fixed by law for the regular session, and none other.

SEC. 26. No law of the General Assembly, passed at a regular session, of a public nature, shall take effect until the fourth day of July next after the passage thereof. Laws passed at a special session, shall take effect ninety days after the adjournment of the General Assembly by which they were passed. If the General Assembly shall deem any law of immediate importance, they may provide that the same shall take effect by publication in newspapers in the State.

SEC. 27. No divorce shall be granted by the General Assembly.

SEC. 28. No lottery shall be authorized by this State; nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.

SEC. 29. Every act shall embrace but one subject, and matters properly connected therewith; which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title.

SEC. 30. The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws in the following cases:

- For the assessment and collection of taxes for State, County, or road purposes;
- For laying out, opening, and working roads or highways;
- For changing the names of persons;
- For the incorporation of cities and towns;
- For vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys, or public squares;
- For locating or changing county seats.

In all the cases above enumerated, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general, and of uniform operation throughout the State; and no law changing the boundary lines of any county shall have effect until upon being submitted to the people of the counties affected by the change, at a general election, it shall be approved by a majority of the votes in each county, cast for and against it.

SEC. 31 No extra compensation shall be made to any officer, public agent, or contractor, after the service shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into; nor, shall any money be paid on any claim, the subject matter of which shall not have been provided for by pre-existing laws, and no public money or property shall be appropriated for local, or private purposes, unless such appropriation, compensation, or claim, be allowed by two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly.

SEC. 32. Members of the General Assembly shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear, or affirm, (as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of Senator, (or Representative, as the case may be), according to the best of my ability." And members of the General Assembly are hereby empowered to administer to each other the said oath or affirmation.

Sec. 33. The General Assembly shall, in the years One thousand eight hundred and fifty nine, One thousand eight hundred and sixty three, One thousand eight hundred and sixty five, One thousand eight hundred and sixty seven, One thousand eight hundred and sixty nine, and One thousand eight hundred and seventy five, and every ten years thereafter, cause an enumeration to be made of all the white<sup>12</sup> inhabitants of the State.<sup>13</sup>

Sec. 34. The number of senators shall, at the next session following each period of making such enumeration, and the next session following each United States census, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, accordingly to the number of white<sup>14</sup> inhabitants in each.

Sec. 35. The Senate shall not consist of more than fifty members, nor the House of Representatives of more than one hundred; and they shall be apportioned among the several counties and representative districts of the State, according to the number of white<sup>15</sup> inhabitants in each, upon ratios to be fixed by law; but no representative district shall contain more than four organized counties, and each district shall be entitled to at least one representative. Every county and district which shall have a number of inhabitants equal to one-half of the ratio fixed by law, shall be entitled to one representative and any one county containing in addition to the ratio fixed by law one half of that number, or more, shall be entitled to one additional representative. No floating district shall hereafter be formed.

Sec. 36. At its first session under this Constitution, and at every subsequent regular session, the General Assembly shall fix the ratio of representation, and also form into representative districts those counties which will not be entitled singly to a representative.<sup>16</sup>

[SECTION 34. The Senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the several senatorial districts, established by law and at the next session of General Assembly held following the taking of the state and national census, they shall be apportioned among the several counties or districts of the state, according to population as shown by the last preceding census, (but no county shall be entitled to more than (1) Senator).<sup>17</sup>

[SEC. 85. The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and eight members. The ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state as shown by the last preceding state or national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative, but each county having a population in excess of the ratio number, as herein provided of three fifths or more of such ratio number shall be entitled to one additional representative, but said addition shall extend only to the nine counties having the greatest population.

[SEC. 36. The General Assembly shall, at the first regular session held following the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the taking of such census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representatives, as hereinbefore required.]<sup>18</sup>

SEC. 37. When a congressional, senatorial, or representative district shall be composed of two or more counties, it shall not be entirely separated by any county belonging to

SEC. 58. In all elections by the General Assembly, the members thereof shall vote viva voce and the votes shall be entered on the journal.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The Supreme Executive power of this State shall be vested in a Chief Magistrate, who shall be styled the Governor of the State of Iowa.

SEC. 2. The Governor shall be elected by the qualified electors at the time and place of voting for members of the General Assembly, and shall hold his office two years from the time of his installation, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

SEC. 3. There shall be a Lieutenant Governor, who shall hold his office two years, and be elected at the same time as the Governor. In voting for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, the electors shall designate for whom they vote as Governor, and for whom as Lieutenant Governor. The returns of every election for Governor, and Lieutenant Governor, shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government of the State, directed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall open and publish them in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly.

SEC. 4. The persons respectively having the highest number of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be declared duly elected; but in case two or more persons shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for either office, the General Assembly shall, by joint vote, forthwith proceed to elect one of said persons Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, as the case may be.

SEC. 5. Contested elections for Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, shall be determined by the General Assembly in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. No person shall be eligible to the office of Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, who shall not have been a citizen of the United States, and a resident of the State, two years next preceding the election, and attained the age of thirty years at the time of said election.

SEC. 7. The Governor shall be commander in chief of the militia, the army, and navy of this State.

SEC. 8. He shall transact all executive business with the officers of the government, civil and military, and may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 9. He shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed.

SEC. 10. When any office shall, from any cause, become vacant, and no mode is provided by the Constitution and laws for filling such vacancy, the Governor shall have power to fill such vacancy, by granting a commission, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the General Assembly, or at the next election by the people.

SEC. 11. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the General Assembly by proclamation, and shall state to both Houses, when assembled, the purpose for which they have been convened.

SEC. 12. He shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient.

SEC. 13. In case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, the Governor shall have power to adjourn the General Assembly to such time as he may think proper; but no such adjournment shall be beyond the time fixed for the regular meeting of the next General Assembly.

SEC. 14. No person shall, while holding an office under the authority of the United States, or this State, execute the office of Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, except as hereinafter expressly provided.

SEC. 15. The official term of the Governor, and Lieutenant Governor, shall commence on the second Monday of January next after their election, and continue for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The Lieutenant Governor, while acting as Governor, shall receive the same pay as provided for Governor; and while presiding in the Senate, shall receive as compensation therefor, the same mileage and double the per diem pay provided for a Senator, and none other.

SEC. 16. The Governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. Upon conviction for treason, he shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the General Assembly at its next meeting, when the General Assembly shall either grant a pardon, commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and shall report to the General Assembly, at its next meeting, each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, and the reasons therefor; and also all persons in whose favor remission of fines and forfeitures shall have been made, and the several amounts remitted.

SEC. 17. In case of the death, impeachment, resignation, removal from office, or other disability of the Governor, the powers and duties of the office for the residue of the term, or until he shall be acquitted, or the disability removed, shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor.

SEC. 18. The Lieutenant Governor shall be President of the Senate, but shall only vote when the Senate is equally divided; and in case of his absence, or impeachment, or when he shall exercise the office of Governor, the Senate shall choose a President pro tempore.

SEC. 19. If the Lieutenant Governor, while acting as Governor, shall be impeached, displaced, resign, or die, or otherwise become incapable of performing the duties of the office, the President pro tempore of the senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the President of the Senate, for any of the above causes, shall be rendered incapable of performing the duties pertaining to the office of Governor, the same shall devolve upon the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

SEC. 20. There shall be a seal of this State, which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him officially, and shall be called the Great Seal of the State of Iowa.

SEC. 21. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the people of the State of Iowa, sealed with the Great Seal of the State, signed by the Governor, and countersigned by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 22. A Secretary of State, Auditor of State and Treasurer of State, shall be elected by the qualified electors, who shall continue in office two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified; and perform such duties as may be required by law.

ARTICLE V. JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The Judicial power shall be vested in a Supreme Court, District Courts, and such other Courts, inferior to the Supreme Court, as the General Assembly may, from time to time, establish.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of three Judges, two of whom shall constitute a quorum to hold Court.

SEC. 3. The Judges of the Supreme Court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State, and shall hold their court at such time and place as the General Assembly may prescribe. The Judges of the Supreme Court so elected, shall be classified so that one Judge shall go out of office every two years; and the Judge holding the shortest term of office under such classification, shall be Chief Justice of the Court, during his term, and so on in rotation. After the expiration of their terms of office, under such classification, the term of each Judge of the Supreme Court shall be six years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified. The Judges of the Supreme Court shall be ineligible to any other office in the State, during the term for which they have been elected.

SEC. 4. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only in cases in chancery, and shall constitute a Court for the correction of errors at law, under such restrictions as the General Assembly may, by law, prescribe; and shall have power to issue all writs and process necessary to secure justice to parties, and exercise a supervisory control over all inferior Judicial tribunals throughout the State.

SEC. 5. The District Court shall consist of a single Judge, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of the District in which he resides. The Judge of the District Court shall hold his office for a term of four years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified; and shall be ineligible to any other office, except that of Judge of the Supreme Court, during the term for which he was elected.

SEC. 6. The District Court shall be a court of law and equity, which shall be distinct and separate jurisdictions, and have jurisdiction in civil and criminal matters arising in their respective districts, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 7. The Judges of the Supreme and District Courts shall be conservators of the peace throughout the State.

SEC. 8. The style of all process shall be, "The State of Iowa", and all prosecutions shall be conducted in the name and by the authority of the same.

SEC. 9. The salary of each Judge of the Supreme Court shall be two thousand dollars per annum; and that of each District Judge, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum, until the year Eighteen hundred and sixty; after which time they shall severally receive such compensation as the General Assembly may, by law, prescribe; which compensation shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected.

SEC. 10. The State shall be divided into eleven Judicial Districts; and after the year Eighteen hundred and sixty, the General Assembly may re-organize the Judicial Districts and increase or diminish the number of Districts, or the number of Judges of the said Court, and may increase the number of Judges of the Supreme Court; but such increase or diminution shall not be more than one District, or One Judge of either Court at any one session; and no re-organization of the districts, or diminution of the number of Judges, shall have the effect of removing a Judge from office. Such re-organization of the districts, or any changes in the boundaries thereof, or increase or d'minution of the number of Judges, shall take place every four years thereafter, if necessary, and at no other time.<sup>19</sup>

[At any regular session of the General Assembly, the State may be divided into the necessary judicial districts for district court purposes, or the said districts may be re-organized and the number of the districts and the judges of said courts increased or diminished; but no re-organization of the districts or diminution of the judges shall have the effect of removing a judge from office.]<sup>20</sup>

SEC. 11. The Judges of the Supreme and District Courts shall be chosen at the general election; and the term of office of each Judge shall commence on the first day of January next, after his election.

SEC. 12. The General Assembly shall provide, by law, for the election of an Attorney General by the people, whose term of office shall be two years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 13. The qualified electors of each judicial district shall, at the time of the election of District Judge, elect a District Attorney, who shall be a resident of the district for which he is elected, and who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.<sup>21</sup>

[SECTION 13. The qualified electors of each county shall, at the general election in the year 1886, and every two years thereafter elect a County Attorney, who shall be a resident of the county for which he is elected, and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.]<sup>22</sup>

SEC. 14. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the carrying into effect of this article, and to provide for a general system of practice in all the Courts of this State.

[The grand jury may consist of any number of members not less than five, nor more than fifteen, as the General Assembly may by law provide, or the General Assembly may provide for holding persons to answer for any criminal offense without the intervention of a grand jury.]<sup>23</sup>

ARTICLE VI. MILITIA.

SECTION 1. The militia of this State shall be composed of all able-bodied whites<sup>24</sup> male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, except such as are or may hereafter be exempt by the laws of the United States, or of this State, and shall be armed, equipped, and trained, as the General Assembly may provide by law.

SEC. 2. No person or persons conscientiously scrupulous of bearing arms shall be compelled to do military duty in time of peace; provided, that such person or persons shall pay an equivalent for such exemption in the same manner as other citizens.

SEC. 3. All commissioned officers of the militia, (staff officers excepted,) shall be elected by the persons liable to perform military duty, and shall be commissioned by the Governor.

ARTICLE VII. STATE DEBTS.

SECTION 1. The credit of the State shall not, in any manner, be given or loaned to, or in aid of, any individual, association, or corporation; and the State shall never assume, or become responsible for, the debts or liabilities of any individual, association, or corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.

SEC. 2. The State may contract debts to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts, direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the General Assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and the money arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

SEC. 3. All losses to the permanent, School, or University fund of this State, which shall have been occasioned by the defalcation, mismanagement or fraud of the agents or

<sup>23</sup>This was the third of the amendments adopted in 1884. It was not assigned specifically to any place in the Constitution. This place seems as logical as any.

officers controlling and managing the same, shall be audited by the proper authorities of the State. The amount so audited shall be a permanent funded debt against the State, in favor of the respective fund, sustaining the loss, upon which not less than six per cent, annual interest shall be paid. The amount of liability so created shall not be counted as a part of the indebtedness authorized by the second section of this article.

SEC. 4. In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in war; but the money arising from the debts so contracted shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

SEC. 5. Except the debts hereinbefore specified in this article, no debt shall be hereafter contracted by, or on behalf of this State, unless such debt shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of the contracting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election it shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each County, if one is published therein, throughout the State, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

SEC. 6. The Legislature may, at any time, after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may, at any time, forbid the contracting of any further debt, or liability, under such law; but the tax imposed by such law, in proportion to the debt or liability, which may have been contracted in pursuance thereof, shall remain in force and be irrevocable, and be annually collected, until the principal and interest are fully paid.

SEC. 7. Every law which imposes, continues, or revives a tax, shall distinctly state the tax, and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

ARTICLE VIII. CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. No corporation shall be created by special laws; but the General Assembly shall provide, by general laws, for the organization of all corporations hereafter to be created, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. The property of all corporations for pecuniary profit, shall be subject to taxation, the same as that of individuals.

SEC. 3. The State shall not become a stockholder in any corporation, nor shall it assume or pay the debt or liability of any corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.

SEC. 4. No political or municipal corporation shall become a stockholder in any banking corporation, directly or indirectly.

SEC. 5. No act of the General Assembly, authorizing or creating corporations or associations with banking powers, nor amendments thereto shall take effect, or in any manner be in force, until the same shall have been submitted, separately, to the people, at a general or special election, as provided by law, to be held not less than three months after the passage of the act, and shall have been approved by a majority of all the electors voting for and against it at such election.

SEC. 6. Subject to the provisions of the foregoing section, the General Assembly may also provide for the establishment of a State Bank with branches.

SEC. 7. If a State Bank be established, it shall be founded on an actual specie basis, and the branches shall be mutually responsible to reach other's liabilities upon all notes, bills, and other issues intended for circulation as money.

SEC. 8. If a general Banking law shall be enacted, it shall provide for the registry and countersigning by an officer of State, of all bills or paper credit designed to circulate as money and require security to the full amount thereof, to be deposited with the State Treasurer, in United States stocks, or in interest paying stocks of States in good credit and standing, to be rated at ten per cent, below their average value in the City of New York, for the thirty days next preceding their deposit; and in case of a depreciation of any portion of said stocks, to the amount of ten per cent, on the dollar, the bank or banks owning such stock shall be required to make up said deficiency by depositing additional stocks; and said law shall also provide for the recording of the names of the stockholders in such corporations, the amount of stock held by each, the time of any transfer, and to whom.

SEC. 9. Every stockholder in a banking corporation or institution shall be individually responsible and liable to its creditors, over and above the amount of stock by him or her held, to an amount equal to his or her respective shares so held for all of its liabilities, accruing while he or she remains such stockholder.

SEC. 10. In case of the insolvency of any banking institution, the bill-holders shall have a preference over its other creditors.

SEC. 11. The suspension of specie payment by banking institutions shall never be permitted or sanctioned.

SEC. 12. Subject to the provisions of this article, the General Assembly shall have power to amend or repeal all laws for the organization or creation of corporations, or granting of special or exclusive privileges or immunities, by a vote of two-thirds of each branch of the General Assembly; and no exclusive privileges, except as in this article provided, shall ever be granted.

ARTICLE IX.

EDUCATION AND SCHOOL LAWS.

1ST. EDUCATION.

SECTION 1. The educational interest of the State, including Common Schools and other educational institutions, shall be under the management of a Board of Education,<sup>25</sup> which shall consist of the Lieutenant Governor, who shall be the presiding officer of the Board, and have the casting vote in case of a tie, and one member to be elected from each judicial district in the State.

SEC. 2. No person shall be eligible as a member of said Board who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, and shall have been one year a citizen of the State.

SEC. 3. One member of said Board shall be chosen by the qualified electors of each district, and shall hold the office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. After the first election under this Constitution, the Board shall be divided, as nearly as practicable, into two equal classes, and the seats of the first class shall be vacated after the expiration of two years; and one-half of the Board shall be chosen every two years thereafter.

SEC. 4. The first session of the Board of Education shall be held at the Seat of Government, on the first Monday of December, after their election; after which the General Assembly may fix the time and place of meeting.

SEC. 5. The session of the Board shall be limited to twenty days, and but one session shall be held in any one year, except upon extraordinary occasions, when, upon the recommendation of two thirds of the Board, the Governor may order a special session.

SEC. 6. The Board of Education shall appoint a Secretary, who shall be the executive officer of the Board, and perform such duties as may be imposed upon him by the Board, and the laws of the State. They shall keep a journal of their proceedings, which shall be published and distributed in the same manner as the journals of the General Assembly.

SEC. 7. All rules and regulations made by the Board shall be published and distributed to the several Counties, Townships, and School Districts, as may be provided for by the Board, and when so made, published and distributed, they shall have the force and effect of law.

SEC. 8. The Board of Education shall have full power and authority to legislate and make all needful rules and regulations in relation to Common Schools, and other educational institutions, that are instituted, to receive aid from the School or University fund of this State; but all acts, rules, and regulations of said Board may be altered, amended or repealed by the General Assembly; and when so altered, amended, or repealed they shall not be re-enacted by the Board of Education.

SEC. 9. The Governor of the State shall be, EX OFFICIO, a member of said Board.

SEC. 10. The Board shall have no power to levy taxes, or make appropriations of money. Their contingent expenses shall be provided for by the General Assembly.

SEC. 11. The State University shall be established at one place without branches at any other place, and the University fund shall be applied to that institution and no other.

SEC. 12. The Board of Education shall provide for the education of all the youths of the State, through a system of Common Schools, and such schools shall be organized and kept in each school district at least three months in each year. Any district failing, for two consecutive years, to organize and keep up a school as aforesaid may be deprived of their portion of the school fund.

SEC. 13. The members of the Board of Education shall each receive the same per diem during the time of their session, and mileage going to and returning therefrom, as members of the General Assembly.

SEC. 14. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but no rule, regulation, or law, for the government of Common Schools or other educational institutions, shall pass without the concurrence of a majority of all the members of the Board, which shall be expressed by the yeas and nays of the final passage. The style of all acts of the Board shall be "Be it enacted by the Board of Education of the State of Iowa."

<sup>25</sup>Under the provisions contained in Section 15 of this part of Art. IX, the Board of Education was abolished by act of the legislature in 1864.—Laws of Iowa, 1864, Ch. 52. This act by the General Assembly rendered Sections 1 to 14 of the first part of Art. IX inoperative and obsolete, although they have not been repealed.

SEC. 15. At any time after the year One thousand eight hundred and sixty three, the General Assembly shall have power to abolish or re-organize said Board of Education, and provide for the educational interest of the State in any other manner that to them shall seem best and proper.

2ND. SCHOOL FUNDS AND SCHOOL LANDS.

SECTION 1. The educational and school funds and lands, shall be under the control and management of the General Assembly of this State.

SEC. 2. The University lands, and the proceeds thereof, and all monies belonging to said fund shall be a permanent fund for the sole use of the State University. The interest arising from the same shall be annually appropriated for the support and benefit of said University.

SEC. 3. The General Assembly shall encourage, by all suitable means, the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral, and agricultural improvement. The proceeds of all lands that have been, or hereafter may be, granted by the United States to this State, for the support of schools, which may have been, or shall hereafter be sold, or disposed of, and the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the new States, under an act of Congress, distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several States of the Union, approved in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty one, and all estates of deceased persons who may have died without leaving a will or heir, and also such per cent. as has been or may hereafter be granted by Congress, on the sale of lands in this State, shall be, and remain a perpetual fund, the interest of which, together with all rents of the unsold lands, and such other means as the General Assembly may provide, shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of Common schools throughout the State.

SEC. 4. The money which may have been or shall be paid by persons as an equivalent for exemption from military duty, and the clear proceeds of all fines collected in the several Counties for any breach of the penal laws, shall be exclusively applied, in the several Counties in which such money is paid, or fine collected, among the several school districts of said Counties, in proportion to the number of youths subject to enumeration in such districts, to the support of Common Schools, or the establishment of libraries, as the Board of Education shall from time to time provide.

SEC. 5. The General Assembly shall take measures for the protection, improvement, or other disposition of such lands as have been, or may hereafter be reserved, or granted by the United States, or any person or persons, to this State, for the use of the University, and the funds accruing from the rents or sale of such lands, or from any other source for the purpose aforesaid, shall be, and remain, a permanent fund, the interest of which shall be applied to the support of said University, for the promotion of literature, the arts and sciences, as may be authorized by the terms of such grant. And it shall be the duty of the General Assembly as soon as may be, to provide official means for the improvement and permanent security of the funds of said University.

SEC. 6. The financial agents of the school funds shall be the same, that by law, receive and control the State and county revenue for other civil purposes, under such regulations as may be provided by law.

SEC. 7. The money subject to the support and maintenance of common schools shall be distributed to the districts in proportion to the number of youths, between the ages of five and twenty-one years, in such manner as may be provided by the General Assembly.

ARTICLE X.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

SECTION 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendment shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election, and shall be published, as provided by law, for three months previous to the time of making such choice; and if, in the General Assembly so next chosen as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to, by a majority of all the members elected to each House, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people, in such manner, and at such time as the General Assembly shall provide; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution of this State.

SEC. 2. If two or more amendments shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted in such manner that the electors shall vote for or against each of such amendments separately.

SEC. 3. At the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and in each tenth year thereafter, and also at such times as the General Assembly may, by law, provide, the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution, and amend the same?" shall be decided by the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly; and in case a majority of the electors so qualified, voting at such election, for and against such proposition, shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly, at its next session, shall provide by law for the election of delegates to such Convention.

ARTICLE XI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECTION 1. The jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace shall extend to all civil cases, (except cases in chancery, and cases where the question of title to real estate may arise,) where the amount in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars, and by the consent of parties may be extended to any amount not exceeding three hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. No new County shall be hereafter created containing less than four hundred and thirty-two square miles; nor shall the territory of any organized county be reduced below that area; except the County of Worth, and the counties west of it, along the Northern boundary of this State, may be organized without additional territory.

SEC. 3. No county, or other political or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, in the aggregate, exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property within such county or corporation—to be ascertained by the last State and county tax lists, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.

SEC. 4. The boundaries of the State may be enlarged, with the consent of Congress and the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, shall, before entering upon the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, and also an oath of office.

SEC. 6. In all cases of elections to fill vacancies in office occurring before the expiration of a full term, the person so elected shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term; and all persons appointed to fill vacancies in office, shall hold until the next general election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 7. The General Assembly shall not locate any of the public lands, which have been, or may be granted by Congress to this State, and the location of which may be given to the General Assembly, upon lands actually settled, without the consent of the occupant. The extent of the claim of such occupant, so exempted, shall not exceed three hundred and twenty acres.

SEC. 8. The seat of Government is hereby permanently established, as now fixed by law at the City of Des Moines, in the County of Polk; and the State University, at Iowa City, in the County of Johnson.

ARTICLE XII.

SCHEDULE.

SECTION 1. This Constitution shall be the supreme law of the State, and any law inconsistent therewith, shall be void. The General Assembly shall pass all laws necessary to carry this Constitution into effect.

SEC. 2. All laws now in force and not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall remain in force until they shall expire or be repealed.

SEC. 3. All indictments, prosecutions, suits, pleas, complaints, process, and other proceedings pending in any of the courts, shall be prosecuted to final judgment and execution; and all appeals, writs of error, certiorari, and injunctions, shall be carried on in the several courts, in the same manner as now provided by law; and all offenses, misdemeanors, and crimes that may have been committed before the taking effect of this Constitution, shall be subject to indictment, trial and punishment, in the same manner as they would have been, had not this Constitution been made.

SEC. 4. All fines, penalties, or forfeitures due, or to become due, or accruing to the State, or to any County therein, or to the school fund, shall inure to the State, county, or school fund, in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 5. All bonds executed to the State, or to any officer in his official capacity, shall remain in force and inure to the use of those concerned.

SEC. 6. The first election under this Constitution shall be held on the second Tuesday in October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, at which time the electors of the State shall elect the Governor and Lieutenant Governor. There shall also be elected at such election, the successors of such State Senators as were elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and members of the House of Representatives, who shall be elected in accordance with the act of apportionment, enacted at the session of the General Assembly which commenced on the first Monday of December one thousand eight hundred and fifty six.

SEC. 7. The first election for Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, Attorney General, District Judges, Members of the Board of Education, District Attorneys, members of Congress, and such State officers as shall be elected at the April election, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, (except the Superintendent of Public Instruction,) and such county officers as were elected at the August election, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty six, except Prosecuting Attorneys, shall be held on the second Tuesday of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; PROVIDED, That the time for which any District Judge or other State or County officer elected at the April election in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, shall not extend beyond the time fixed for filling like offices at the October election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.

SEC. 8. The first election for Judges of the Supreme Court, and such County officers as shall be elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, shall be held on the second Tuesday of October, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty nine.

SEC. 9. The first regular session of the General Assembly shall be held in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, commencing on the second Monday of January of said year.

SEC. 10. Senators elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, shall continue in office until the second Tuesday of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine, at which time their successors shall be elected as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 11. Every person elected by popular vote, by a vote of the General Assembly, or who may hold office by executive appointment, which office is continued by this Constitution, and every person who shall be so elected or appointed, to any such office, before the taking effect of this Constitution, (except as in this Constitution otherwise provided,) shall continue in office until the term for which such person has been or may be elected or appointed shall expire; but no such person shall continue in office after the taking effect of this Constitution, for a longer period than the term of such office, in this Constitution prescribed.

SEC. 12. The General Assembly, at the first session under this Constitution, shall district the State into eleven Judicial Districts, for District Court purposes; and shall also provide for the apportionment of the members of the General Assembly, in accordance with the provisions of this Constitution.

SEC. 13. This Constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in the several election districts in this State. The ballots at such election shall be written or printed as follows: Those in favor of the Constitution, "New Constitution—Yes." Those against the Constitution, "New Constitution—No." The election shall be conducted in the same manner as the general elections of the State, and the poll-books shall be returned and canvassed as provided in the twenty-fifth chapter of the code, and abstracts shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State, which abstracts shall be canvassed in the manner provided for the canvass of State officers. And if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast at such election for and against this Constitution are in favor of the same, the Governor shall immediately issue his proclamation stating that fact, and such Constitution shall be the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and shall take effect from and after the publication of said proclamation.

SEC. 14. At the same election that this Constitution is submitted to the people for its adoption or rejection, a proposition to amend the same by striking out the word "white" from the article on the Right of Suffrage, shall be separately submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection in the manner following—Namely: A separate ballot may be given by every person having a right to vote at said election, to be deposited in a separate box; and those given for the adoption of such proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word 'White' be stricken out of the Article on the Right of Suffrage? Yes." And those given against the proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word 'White' be stricken out of the Article on the Right of Suffrage? No." And if at said election the number of ballots cast in favor of said proposition shall be equal to a majority of those cast for and against this Constitution, then said word "White" shall be stricken from said Article and be no part thereof.<sup>28</sup>

SEC. 15. Until otherwise directed by law, the County of Mills shall be in and a part of the sixth Judicial District of this State.

[SEC. 16. The first general election after the adoption of this amendment shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and general elections shall be held biennially thereafter. In the year one thousand nine hundred and six there shall be elected a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, attorney general, two judges of the supreme court, the successors of the judges of the district court whose terms of office expire on December 31st, one thousand nine hundred and six, state senators who would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, and members of the house of representatives. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court which would otherwise expire on December 31st, in odd numbered years, and all other elective state, county and township officers whose terms of office would otherwise expire in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and members of the general assembly whose successors would otherwise be chosen at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The terms of offices of senators whose successors would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The general assembly shall make such changes in the law governing the time of election and term of office of all other elective officers as shall be necessary to make the time of their election and terms of office conform to this amendment, and shall provide which of the judges of the supreme court shall serve as chief justice. The general assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and also on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven, and biennially thereafter.]<sup>27</sup>

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF IOWA 1857-1942

AMENDMENTS OF 1868<sup>28</sup>

- 1st. Strike the word "white" from section one of article two thereof.
- 2d. Strike the word "white" from section thirty three of article three thereof.
- 3d. Strike the word "white" from section thirty four of article three thereof.
- 4th. Strike the word "white" from section thirty five of article three thereof.
- 5th. Strike the word "white" from section one of article six thereof.

AMENDMENT OF 1880<sup>29</sup>

Strike out the words "free white" from the third line of section four (4) of article three (3) of said constitution, relating to the legislative department.

AMENDMENT OF 1882<sup>30</sup>

Add as section 26 to article I of said Constitution the following: Section 26. No person shall manufacture for sale, or sell, or keep for sale, as a beverage, any intoxicating liquors whatever, including ale, wine and beer. The General Assembly shall by law prescribe regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition herein contained, and shall thereby provide suitable penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

<sup>29</sup>This amendment was proposed by the General Assembly in 1878; readopted by the General Assembly in 1880; ratified by the voters at the election on November 2, 1880; and proclaimed adopted in December 3, 1880.—Laws of Iowa, 1878, Joint Resolution No. 8, p. 178, 1880, Joint Resolution No. 6, p. 214.

<sup>30</sup>This amendment was proposed by the General Assembly in 1880; readopted by the General Assembly in 1882; ratified at a special election held on June 27, 1882; and certified adopted on July 23, 1822. On April 21, 1883, the Supreme Court of Iowa, in Koehler and Lange v. Hill, decided that the amendment, because of irregularities, had not been legally submitted to the voters and was, therefore, not legally adopted.—Laws of Iowa, 180, Joint Resolution No. 8, p. 215, 1882, Joint Resolution No. 8, p. 178; 60 Iowa 543.

AMENDMENTS OF 1884<sup>21</sup>

Amendment 1. The general election for state, district, county and township officers shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.

Amendment 2. At any regular session of the General Assembly, the State may be divided into the necessary Judicial Districts for District Court purposes, or the said Districts may be reorganized and the number of the Districts and the Judges of said Courts increased or diminished; but no reorganization of the Districts or diminution of the Judges shall have the effect of removing a Judge from office.

Amendment 3. The grand jury may consist of any number of members not less than five, nor more than fifteen, as the General Assembly may by law provide, or the General Assembly may provide, for holding persons to answer for any criminal offense without the intervention of a grand jury.

Amendment 4. That section 13 of article 5 of the Constitution be stricken therefrom, and the following adopted as such section.

SECTION 13. The qualified electors of each county shall, at the general election in the year 1886, and every two years thereafter elect a County Attorney, who shall be a resident of the county for which he is elected, and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

AMENDMENTS OF 1904<sup>22</sup>

Add as section 16, to article XII of the Constitution, the following:

SEC. 16. The first general election after the adoption of this amendment shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and general elections shall be held biennially thereafter. In the year one thousand nine hundred and six there shall be elected a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, attorney general, two judges of the supreme court, the successors of the judges of the district court whose terms of office expire on December 31st, one thousand nine hundred and six, state senators who would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, and members of the house of representatives. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court which would otherwise expire on December 31st, in odd numbered years, and all other elective state, county and township officers whose terms of office would otherwise expire in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and members of the general assembly whose successors would otherwise be chosen at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The terms of offices of senators whose successors would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The general assembly shall make such changes in the law governing the time of election and term of office of all other elective officers as shall be necessary to make the time of their election and terms of office conform to this amendment, and shall provide which of the judges of the supreme court shall serve as chief justice. The general assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and also on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven, and biennially thereafter.

That sections thirty-four (34) thirty-five (35) and thirty-six (36) of article three (3) of the constitution of the State of Iowa, be repealed and the following be adopted in lieu thereof.

SECTION 34. The Senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the several senatorial districts, established by law and at the next session of the general assembly held following the taking of the state and national census, they shall be apportioned among the several counties or districts of the state, according to population as shown by the last preceding census.

SEC. 35. The House of Representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and eight members. The Ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state as shown by the last preceding state or national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative, but each county having a population in excess of the ratio number, as herein provided of three fifths or more of such ratio number shall be entitled to one additional representative, but said addition shall extend only to the nine counties having the greatest population.

SEC. 36. The General Assembly shall, at the first regular session held following the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the taking of such census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representatives, as hereinbefore required.

<sup>22</sup>These amendments were proposed by the General Assembly in 1902; readopted by the General Assembly in 1904; ratified by the voters at the general election on November 8, 1904; and certified adopted on November 29, 1904.—Laws of Iowa, 1902, Joint Resolutions Nos. 2 and 5, p. 198, 1904 Joint Resolutions Nos. 1 and 2, pp. 207, 208.

AMENDMENT OF 1908<sup>33</sup>

That there be added to Section eighteen (18) of Article one (1) of the constitution of the State of Iowa, the following.

"The General Assembly, however, may pass laws permitting the owners of lands to construct drains, ditches, and levees for agricultural, sanitary or mining purposes across the lands of others, and provide for the organization of drainage districts, vest the proper authorities with power to construct and maintain levees, drains and ditches and to keep in repair all drains, ditches, and levees heretofore constructed under the laws of the state, by special assessments upon the property benefitted thereby. The General Assembly may provide by law for the condemnation of such real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and maintenance of such drains, ditches and levees, and prescribe the method of making such condemnation."

AMENDMENT OF 1916<sup>34</sup>

To repeal Section seven (7) of Article two (2) of the constitution of Iowa and to adopt in lieu thereof the following, to-wit:

"The general election for state, district, county and township officers in the year 1916 shall be held in the same month and on the same day as that fixed by the laws of the United States for the election of presidential electors, or of president and vice-president of the United States; and thereafter such election shall be held at such time as the general assembly may by law provide."

AMENDMENT OF 1926<sup>35</sup>

Strike out the word "male" from Section four (4) of Article three (3) of said constitution, relating to the legislative department.

AMENDMENT OF 1928<sup>36</sup>

That the period (.) at the end of said Section thirty-four (34) of Article three (3) of the constitution of the State of Iowa be stricken and the following inserted:
 ", but no county shall be entitled to more than one (1) senator."

AMENDMENT OF 1936<sup>37</sup>

Amend Article three (III) by repealing Section thirty-three (33) relating to the state census.

AMENDMENT OF 1942

That Article seven (VII) of the Constitution of the State of Iowa be amended by adding thereto, as Section eight (8) thereof, the following:

"All motor vehicle registration fees and all licenses and excise taxes on motor vehicle fuel, except cost of administration, shall be used exclusively for the construction, maintenance and supervision of the public highways exclusively within the state or for the payment of bonds issued or to be issued for the construction of such public highways and the payment of interest on such bonds."

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.—We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions from within.—He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States: for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies, without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their acts of pretended Legislation:—For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from Punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offenses:—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Government:—For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with Power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He had abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince, whose

<sup>1</sup>The Declaration of Independence was adopted by the Continental Congress on July 4, 1776. character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.—

WE, THEREFORE, the REPRESENTATIVES of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.—And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES<sup>1</sup>

We the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

Article. I.

Section 1. All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the Age of twenty-five Years, and been seven Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.<sup>2</sup>

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. [counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed.]<sup>3</sup> The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first Meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such Manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty Thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall issue Writs of Election to fill such Vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall chuse their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Section 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six Years; and each Senator shall have one Vote.<sup>4</sup>

[The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislatures.]

Immediately after they shall be assembled in Consequence of the first Election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three Classes. The Seats of the Senators of the first Class shall be vacated at the Expiration of the second Year, of the second Class at the Expiration of the fourth Year, and of the third Class at the Expiration of the sixth Year, so that one third may be chosen every second Year; and if Vacancies happen by Resignation, or otherwise, during the Recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary Appointments until the next Meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such Vacancies.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>1</sup>The Constitution of the United States was adopted by a convention of delegates from the thirteen States on September 17, 1787, and transmitted to the Congress of the Confederation which in turn submitted it to the States for ratification on September 28, 1787. It was ratified by the required nine States by June 21, 1788, and went into effect on March 4, 1789.

The text of the Constitution and the first nineteen amendments are taken from Documents Illustrative of the Formation of the Union of the American States, published by the United States government in 1927. Compiled, edited, and documented by Benj. F. Shambaugh and Ruth A. Gallaher of the State Historical Society of Iowa. Words, phrases and sections which have been rendered inoperative by amendment appear in italics. The material added to the Constitution by amendment is enclosed within brackets. Besides being indicated in their proper place in the text, the amendments are also printed in full following the Constitution.

<sup>3</sup>The preceding provisions in italics were rendered inoperative by a part of Section 2 of Amendment XIV, which is inserted within the brackets. According to the Fourteenth Amendment the number of representatives from any State is to be reduced if the right to vote is denied the male citizens over twenty-one years of age, but this provision has never been enforced.

[When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.]

No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.<sup>6</sup>

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall chuse their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

Section 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different Day.<sup>7</sup>

[The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.]

Section 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behavior, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any Civil office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

Section 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives: but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by Yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return, in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

Section 8. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect Taxes, Duties, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Duties, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes;

To establish an uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries;

To constitute Tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offences against the Law of Nations;

To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years;

To provide and maintain a Navy;

To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining, the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock-Yards, and other needful Buildings;—And

To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers, vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

Section 9. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

No Capitation, or other direct, Tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

[The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.]<sup>9</sup>

No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another; nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no Person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince, or foreign State.

Section 10. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

No state shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Controul of the Congress.

No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any agreement or Compacts, with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

[All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.]<sup>9</sup>

Article. II.

Section 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected as follows: Each State shall appoint, in such Manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an Office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate, shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; A quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice Presidents.<sup>10</sup>

The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

[The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate; The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.<sup>11</sup> The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.]<sup>12</sup>

[The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.]<sup>13</sup>

No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.<sup>14</sup>

In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall take the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section 2. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the Supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law; but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

Section 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public commissioned Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

Section 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

<sup>13</sup>The three paragraphs within the brackets were added by Sections 1, 3, and 4 of Amendment XX.

Article. III.

Section 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

Section 2. The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between Citizens of different States;—between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

[The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any foreign State.]<sup>15</sup>

In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be a Party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

Section 3. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in Levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No Person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attained.

Article. IV.

Section. 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

Section 2. The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

No person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.<sup>16</sup>

Section 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Section 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

Article. V.

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislatures of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of it's equal Suffrage in the Senate.

Article. VI.

All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

[The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.]<sup>17</sup>

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

Article. VII.

The Ratification of the Conventions of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

AMENDMENTS<sup>18</sup> TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Article I

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Article II

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

Article III

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Article IV

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

Article V

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall he be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

Article VI

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

Article VII

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

Article VIII

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

Article IX

The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

Article X

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

Article XI

The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any Foreign State.<sup>10</sup>

Article XII

The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate;—The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;—The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose, immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representatives from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President. The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.<sup>20</sup>

Article XIII

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.<sup>21</sup>

Article XIV

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the Executive and Judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss of emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.<sup>22</sup>

Article XV

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.<sup>23</sup>

Article XVI

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.<sup>24</sup>

<sup>20</sup>Amendment XII was proposed by Congress on December 12, 1803, and on September 25, 1804, the Secretary of State proclaimed it to have been duly ratified. This amendment superseded the third paragraph of the first section of Article II. The words in italics were rendered inoperative when Amendment XX changed the date of inauguration.

<sup>21</sup>Amendment XIII, the first of the three Civil War amendments, was proposed by Congress on February 1, 1865, and its ratification was proclaimed by the Secretary of State on December 18, 1865.

<sup>22</sup>Amendment XIV was proposed by Congress on June 16, 1866, and the Secretary of State proclaimed its ratification on July 28, 1868. This amendment changed the provision for apportioning representation in the third paragraph of the first section of Article I. It also added disqualifications for various offices. Section 4 was an addition to Article VI.

<sup>23</sup>Amendment XV was proposed by Congress on February 27, 1869, and the Secretary of State proclaimed its ratification on March 30, 1870.

Article XVII

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.<sup>25</sup>

Article XVIII

Section 1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

Section 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.<sup>26</sup>

Article XIX

The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Article XX

Section 1. The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

Section 2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3d day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Section 3. If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice-President shall have qualified.

Section 4. The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice-President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.

Section 5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.

Section 6. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.<sup>28</sup>

Article XXI

Section 1. The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

<sup>25</sup>Amendment XVII was proposed by Congress on May 16, 1912, and proclaimed duly ratified on May 31, 1913. It is a substitute for the first two paragraphs in Section 3 of Article I.

<sup>26</sup>Amendment XVIII was proposed by Congress on December 17, 1917, and proclaimed duly ratified on January 29, 1919. It was repealed by Amendment XXI, adopted in 1933.

<sup>27</sup>Amendment XIX was proposed by Congress on June 5, 1919, and proclaimed duly ratified on August 26, 1920. It is, in effect, an addition to the Fifteenth Amendment.

<sup>28</sup>Amendment XX was proposed by Congress on March 2, 1932, and was proclaimed duly ratified on February 6, 1933. It superseded provisions in Section 4 of Article I and Section 1 of Article II.

Section 2. The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or Possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.<sup>29</sup>

PROPOSED CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Section 1. The Congress shall have power to limit, regulate, and prohibit the labor of persons under eighteen years of age.

Section 2. The power of the several States is unimpaired by this article except that the operation of State laws shall be suspended to the extent necessary to give effect to legislation enacted by the Congress.<sup>30</sup>

<sup>29</sup>Amendment XXI was proposed by Congress on February 20, 1933, and proclaimed duly ratified on December 5, 1933. It was submitted for ratification by convention and not to the State Legislatures.

<sup>30</sup>The proposed Child Labor Amendment was proposed by Congress on June 4, 1934. Up to June 1, 1939, it had been ratified by 28 States.
