A wrvu. Sroam—On Saturday last, about noon, the most frightful storm vaited this place and the surrounding country, that we have ever witnessed. Whave beard of such things, but we have met with no one who ever saw them before. A black cloud which came up from the west, auddenly discharged its contents of wind, rain and hall, in a prefact deluge. The hail came down at first in small bodies, and rapidly increased in size, until it fell is masses almost as large as a man's fist. The largest one we saw measured $\frac{2}{3}$ inches in circumference, but we heard of one which was picked up nearly twice as large. It continued for 10 minutes, in which time it destroyed the greater part of the growing crops and gardens within its range.

Il extended with a span appear and a span and in length, in all of which the ground is covered with fallen vegetation or the leaves and branch as of trees. We have heard of no person being hurt.
