Dear Freddy:

Was surprised and pleased to get your letter and as a result I am somewhat ashamed for not writing earlier; but a million and one things always seem to interfere. If it isn't school work (it usually isn't), it is rushing and I think that is the worst offender. It is only going to last until next Thrus. but until then I'm either going crazy or remain just a little queer as I am now. After you've spent exactly 30 meals asking freshmen where they live, where they are from and so forth, you'd be almost as bad off mentally; and my writing is peculiar. I can truthfully lay all the blame on just one thing "Rushing."

As you like East, well that's fine as somehow I couldn't imagine you out at Marywood, not that you aren't the type, but it seems to me that the supervisor wouldn't appeal. According to Tom, East is awfully hard, his grades show it, so I imagine you'll be burning the midnight oil constantly.

Law Boyd and some of the other Alpha guys yesterday and they all seemed to be ^{forward} busy, and I'm sure that it couldn't be from studying. What's George's idea in going back to the Rapids, there must be some added attraction.

Eddie Sandweh and Jack Beckwith had a big party last night, dates and all, and as a result this morning neither one of them is feeling so hot. Eddie also had a birthday party Thursday which was a knockout, both literally and practically, but as I'm in training I had to miss it perhaps better for my self after all.

Got a letter from "Lours" Heath and he was out for lightweight football and apparantly awfully tired. Must not be in shape, maybe this night life with Jess can explain it all. He's going to bet all his "dough" on Michigan against Cornell, he should win if he doesn't maybe they can lay off a few brawls.

I'll bet Central has a good team, but not through any efforts of mine, maybe the "rooters" will pull them through. We have our first game next week; you aren't coming down for it are you? You spoke about the Ohio game, why don't you make it a week-end, I'm sure we could find something to do, unless you'll be taken up by the A.D. Phi's.

I've rambled on indefinitely, so I'd better stop. Glad to hear from you and hope to hear again right soon, unless you have to take in "Morning Glory" for the "nth" time.

As ever
Johnny

Pardon the change in ink, and interruption, it was Eddie's fault, he demanded his pen and forced me to listen to his description of the wonderful date he had last night.
