PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY JEROME BAYON, DELAUP & CO.

NEW-ORLEANS, TUESDAY (MORNING) DECEMBER 28, 1890.

MEXICO.

By the schr. Tampico, from Vera Cruz, we have received papers of that city up to the 10th inst., and those of the city of Mexico to the 4th, they contain nothing of any particular moment; we have, however, made a summary of such items as appeared to possess any degree of interest.

The political Chief of La Barque, under the Government of the State of Jalisco, writes date of 24th of Nov. that on the 23d, one Ignacio Vega at the head of a band of armed men, entered the city of Zamora, and after killing six of the inhabitants, who together with some others attempted resistance, set at liberty the prisoners confined in the city prison, burned the archives of the two public offices, pillaged the Custom house and several private dwellings, &c. &c.; the militia of the neighbourhood under arms, in order to make a vigorous resistance in case that band should direct an attack against La Barque. The Governor of Jalisco approved the measures taken by the above mentioned officer, and after having written to the Commandant and Inspector of the Independent forces of San Juan, to hold themselves in readiness to act, ordered the march of several formal men to be placed at the disposal of the Mayor of La Barque.

A despatch from Gen. Bravo of the 27th of Nov. received at the city of Mexico on the 30th, announces that the Commandant of Cruce Grande, Joseph Michael Illasca, had taken and shot Polanco, the associate of Alvarez; this par-tizan of Guerrero, with four of his companions had visited Palizada, in order to excite the inhabitants of that village to revolt.

By a letter from M. Mariano Ortiz de la Piedad, dated August 26th, the Government has learned that the officer had a horse killed under him by one of the band of Jerome Lopez, at the moment when the latter was leaving Tlaco-tepec to go to Acapulco. It seems that the mutineers collected at Tlaco-tepec have abandoned that post, Antonio Placido, one of the principal leaders, who was to have gone to Acapulco in company with Lopez, failed to effect a junction of his company with the band commanded by the latter and both of them were dispersed. Many of these leaders had gone towards the coast.

A communication addressed to the Com-mandant of Vera Cruz, gives the following particu-lars: One Ozorno had projected a movement at San-Juanes Chulchicomula, with the intention of pillaging that town and committing other outrages. Fortunately an intimation of his intentions was obtained at Orizaba and Puebla in season to put troops in motion and save the population of that interesting village from ruin.

Perceiving that his intentions were discovered and that he should be unwatered, Ozorno declared himself openly, and endeavored to engage the assistance of some vagrant persons of the neighbourhood; but all his efforts proving fruitless and despairing of success, he di-rected his course towards the South—his only re-source after the failure of his flagitious enterprise.

It is added, that in consequence of this attempt being got abroad, the inhabitants of the neighbour-ing villages had collected and gone in pursuit of Ozorno, and that he will very probably be ar-rested. Some individuals who had been se-duced into participation of his designs, sur-rendered themselves up to the garrison of San-An-dres, imploring pardon, and were treated with indulgence.

It is almost superfluous to add any reflections to the preceding details, to prove what we ad-versed the other day, viz: that Mexico enjoys no sort of tranquillity under the existing govern-ment. We will at present merely transcribe an article from the "Registro Oficial," which suffi-ciently corroborates our opinion.

"When it was apprehended by our patriotic citizens that during the present month, the fa-mous would renew the calamities of 1828, their tears were not altogether groundless. In all quarters, the enemies of order have been busy with all their forces; we have already published their schemes at St. Louis Potosi, at Siliano, at Leon, at Cuernavaca, and various other places.—To-day the Government has received an ordi-nary despatch from Jalisco, in which the Com-mandant General of Vera Cruz announces, under date of the 2d, that Ozorno had endeav-ored to excite an insurrection at San-Andres Chulchicomula, but finding his expectations frustra-ted, by the measures taken by the Governor and the Commandant General of the State of Puebla, he had directed his course towards Orizaba, where he expected to be well received, but finding Col. Marquez at that place, pre-pared to meet him, he fled with some of his followers towards the South, as is alleged by some indi-viduals who at first took part with him, but sub-sequently abandoned him, and came and sur-rendered themselves up to Col. Marquez who has sent several detachments in pursuit of Ozorno.

CRIMINAL COURT—December 27th. The State vs. Assault and battery.—The Indio Sierra, a set of an assault and battery of an aggravated nature, on the person of one An-tonio Gutierrez, in the month of July last, was sentenced to an imprisonment for the term of one year, and to pay the costs of the prosecu-tion.

The State vs. Larceny.—The defendant Bailey Wallace, being convicted of having stolen a carriage, was sentenced to an imprison-ment of two years and to pay the costs of the pro-secution.

The State vs. Larceny.—The defendant Silva Gray, being convicted of having stolen two watches, but recommended to the clemency of the court, was sentenced to an imprisonment for the term of twelve months and to pay the costs of the pro-secution.

The State vs. Opposition to law.—The de-fendant H. C. Conn, of an opposition to the service of a legal warrant, by one of the deputy mar-shals, was sentenced (the court taking into con-sideration his good character) to an imprison-ment of fifteen days, to a fine of twenty-five dol-lars, and to pay the costs of the prosecution. The court adjourned to Monday the 3d Jan-uary next.

COMMUNICATION. Gen. Jackson's opinion of the Nullifiers.—They are pronounced by him to be the "worst enemies" of our country. Read the following extract from his Speech in reference to the Un-ion.

"Our course is a safe one, if it be faith-fully pursued. Acquiescence in the constitu-tionally expressed will of the majority, and the exercise of that will, in a spirit of moderation, justice, and brotherly kindness, will constitute a cement, which would forever preserve our Union. Those who cherish and inculcate sentiments like these, under no essential service to their country; whilst those who seek to weaken their Union are, however conscientious their intentions, in effect, their WORST ENEMIES."

What can be more explicit than this? He said the Union must be preserved! The Union belongs to the Union Party, and the Union Party are the only true friends of Jackson. Let the real friends of Jackson look to it, and be no longer deceived. MONTGOMERY.

A letter from Washington, dated 7th inst. fur-nishes the information that a new paper is about to be established in that city. It says that "Mr. Blair, of Kentucky, the late partner of Amos Kendall, has issued a prospectus of a pa-per to be published in this city, under the title of "The Globe." It is to sustain the principles on which Gen. Jackson was elected, and which have been sustained by his Administration.—It is then to fall into the ranks of what is called the Democratic party, and to take up such Can-didates as may be regularly nominated, even tho' it may be against the personal feelings of its Ed-itor. Its publication is, in the first instance, to be semi-weekly, until it can feel its way. No one doubts that this is a movement of the Van Buren party, preliminary to a still more ferme-tate opposition to Duff Green. There is every reason to believe that the noon of the Tele-graph has passed, and that it will now begin to ap-proach its set.—and I am very sure it will not be a golden set."—Charleston Courier.

A Judge Clayton, of Georgia, has undertaken to review Mr. Duffie's Report concerning the Bank of the United States. Of the Judge's judgment and style, the subjoined quotation from his first essay may serve as a specimen.

"Does any one believe, and the question is put to honest men, for an honest answer is not ex-pected from any other, that the Bank of England, that political monster that has been surfeiting up-on the bowels of its own government for ages, never once crossed the minds of any of the men of the convention? Does any one believe the South Sea Company, that other vulture, which has been so long hanging upon the remaining vi-tals of its country, and now nearly going to suffocation, entirely escaped their recollection? No, if the truth was known, these comorants, with hearts as cold and withering as death, haun-tered them like spectres and constantly beckoned them away from the dangerous subject of cor-ruption."

Monitors, vultures, comorants, spectres, sur-feating, gorging, hanging, haunting! It is an in-sinuating and figurative judge. But he most be-lievably ignorant of the essential differ-ence between the constitution and relations of the Bank of England and those of the United States. The first is indeed a monopoly; and the other as certainly not.

We have seen, in some one of the newspa-pers, an invidious reference to an article in the last number of the London Quarterly Re-view, adverse to the renewal of the charter of the Bank of England. Now, the objections which are made by the Reviewer to that Bank, do not apply to the American; they are, in fact, satisfied by the tenure and operations of the latter. The London article, rightly understood and applied, would furnish argument in favor of the Bank of the United States. As to paper-currency in general, the Reviewer pleads for its extension. Much of the distress and backward-ness in the interior parts of England, is ascribed to the want of bank-facilities.—Nat. Gaz.

POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

We have received information on which we place implicit reliance, that Amos Kendall has written from the City of Washington to an Ed-itor of a leading Jackson print, in one of the At-lantic cities, advising him to urge in his paper 3 points, viz:

- 1. The gradual reduction of the Tariff. 2. The policy and propriety of the veto. 3. Opposition to the renewal of the Charter of the Bank of the United States.

Whether a circular of the same tenor has been addressed to any or all of the other Jackson pa-pers, we have not been informed. Considering the connection of Kendall with the President and his cabinet, there cannot be a doubt, that the ad-verse letter has been written by him with their assent, if not at their instance.

The policy of the present Administration, therefore may be assumed to be—the destruction of the American System, by a gradual reduction of the Tariff. It would not do to propose its destruction at once; it must for purposes of de-ception, be affected by a gradual reduction, in the amount of the duties on the various arti-cles of the American System, by a gradual reduc-tion of the Tariff. It would not do to propose its destruction at once; it must for purposes of de-ception, be affected by a gradual reduction, in the amount of the duties on the various arti-cles of the American System, by a gradual reduc-tion of the Tariff.

New-York, Dec. 7. Cret of the Vineyard.—The boat found near Coney Island, supposed to be the jolly boat of the Vineyard, turns out to be the long boat in which the prisoners came on shore. There is a bare possibility that the men in the jolly boat escaped; but the evidence and presumption is strongly against the supposition. There have been other equally unsupported rumors in re-lation to the money being found, which was bur-ied in the sand. The Gazette of this morning says:

Johnson and his wife, a white man, named Henry Brower, and a colored man, named G. Burke, were brought to this city on Saturday evening from Flatbush jail, were examined yester-day morning before Judge Betts, as witnesses in the case of the four individuals now in prison on board the brig Vineyard. After their depositions were taken and they had entered into a recognizance to appear at the trials, they were discharged. Nothing has, as yet, been ascer-tained relative to the money which was buried on the beach.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 30.—Sugar.—Our ac-count from the plantations in this and the ad-jacent counties, during the past week, are uni-formly favorable. Samples from the plantations of Messrs. Fields and Preston, are remarkably fine. The latter gentleman has made seventeen bbls. from fourteen acres, being the most indif-ferent part of the crop. He is of the opinion that the remainder of his field will average two hogs-heads per acre.

At the last session of the legislature a resolu-tion was passed, instructing the District Attor-ney of the second judicial district to institute a suit against the commissioners appointed to con-tract for the erection of a State House at Do-naldson, for the recovery of such sum of money as they might have received from the Treasurer of the State. In conformity to these instructions, a suit was instituted against the commissioners before the District Court, for the Parish of As-sension, and the trial took place on Saturday last, before the Hon. Judge Woodruff, of the Eight District, and resulted in a judgment in fa-vour of the Commissioners. The cause was conducted on the part of the state, by James Porter, Esq. and the defence by Charles M. Conrad and Adolph Seghers, Esquires.

OHIO CANAL.

Near the close of July last, our canal was opened for navigation as far as Newark, a distance from this place, by the canal line, of 178 miles, before that time it was opened to Massillon a distance of 66 miles only.

The increased business of Cleveland, since the opening of the line to Newark, has exceeded the anticipations of the most sanguine; the lim-ited capacity of the canal is being increased in various directions, when passing through the valley of the Scioto, the line shall be opened to the Ohio. New forwarding companies have been estab-lished and to supply the demand for boats, the New-York canal has sent us, in tow of the steam ship, many of them, with masts, beams, and crews complete, even to the cook maid.

The Richmond Compiler of the 8th inst. says: "We have the melancholy office of stating the death of our distinguished Ex-Governor, William B. Giles.—A postscript to a letter ad-dressed to a gentleman of this city, states that he died about 5 o'clock on Saturday evening last."—Charleston Courier.

MEXICAN CONSULATE.

New-York, Nov. 30. NOTICE is hereby given to all whom it may concern, that by a regulation of the Mexican Government, persons visiting the Ports of that Republic, will not be allowed to land, unless pro-vided with Consular passports; and the master of vessels having on board passengers without such passports, are required to convey them to some foreign port, and also subject themselves to other inconveniences.

JAMES TREAT, Mex. V. Consul.

ORIGIN OF A TOWN.

By Dr. MACCULLOCK. In case of country towns, where a highland laird or speculating society has not interfered, it is matter of analysis, for the fashionable science of political economy, to discover how one of them has grown, or by what cement it is united. There is a church; that is the ordinary founda-tion. When there is a church, there must be a parson, a clerk, the midwife. Thus we account for four houses. An Inn is required on the road. This produces a smith, a saddler, a butcher, and a brewer; they require a baker, a tailor, a shoe-maker, and a carpenter. They soon learn to cut plum puddings, and a grocer follows. The grocer's wife and the parson's wife contend for superiority in dress, and from this cause flows a milliner and mantuamaker. A barber is introduced to curl the parson's wig, and to shave the smith on Saturday nights; and a stationer to furnish the ladies with paper for their correspon-dence, an exciseman to see to the duties on the casks, and a schoolmaster discovers that the la-dies cannot spell. A hatter, a hosier, a linen drap-er, follow by degrees; and as children come into the world, they begin to cry out for rattles and gingerbread. The parson becomes bold and gaily, and gets a curate, and the curate gets a wife, and twenty children; and thus it becomes necessary to have more shoemakers, tailors and grocers. Alas! too happy people; for, in the meantime a neighboring popishcary, hearing with indignation that there is a community living without physic, places a bell bottle in the window—when on a sudden the doctor, the inn-keeper, the parson's wife, the grocer's wife, be-comes bilious, and find out they have nerves, and their children get teeth, water in the head, and convulsions. They are bled and blistered, till a physician finds it convenient to settle; the in-habitants become worse and worse every day, and an undertaker is established. The butcher having installed the tailor over a post of ale, he, to prove his manhood, knocks him down with the goose. Upon this plea, an action of assault is brought before the next session. An attorney sends his clerk over to take depositions and collect evidence; the clerk finds a good opening, sets all the people by the ears, becomes a pettyfoggery at-torney, and peace fills the village forever. But the village becomes a town, acquires a bank a mechanics institute, a circulating library, and a centre of old matters; and should it have existed in happier days, might have gained a corporation, a mayor, a town, and a quarter session of its own, a county assembly the assizes and the gal-lows.
