LATEST FROM FRANCE.

Py the ship Science which arrived last evening fro menisden the 60th of Pobragry; we have received our regular files of Paris papers to the 16th, and Havre to the 17th of that month. We have perused these papers with considerable care, and find nothing, but what llows, that would interest our readers.

It is said that orders had been given to the troops of Holland to be prepared for action on the let of March. From this order and other coincident circumstances, it would recom that serious disturbances may shortly be apprehended the fleet of Pen Pedro Part, 13 yet, not suffered any im pediment from the winds and fogs so prevalent near the Canaries. The admiral in going out of the harbor of Belle Isle, had been compelled to leave two hundred Portuguese, who could not be accommodated on board of the vessels belonging to the flotilia.

It was positively assetted that Spain had received the assurances of the assistance of the three great northern powers, in the event of France interfering to prevent her from giving succours to Don Pedro.

It is now known that Don Fedro and his squadron had led for the Island of Terceira. The general opinion was, subject which have not before been published. that the expedition would not have sailed before six weeks It is said that the fleet, before reaching Terceira, anded at Madeira for the purpose of taking possession of his intention, and set sail again for Terceira, to wait there until spring. Hostilties would not, therefore, commence before the end of the month of Murch, or the beginning of April, when the fleet will present itself probably on the coast of Portugal. The rivers would not be navigable before that time, and the passages would be difficult of access, which would present obstacles of a kind more difficult overcome than the troops of Don Miguel could offer to the forces of Don Pedro

Notwithstanding the fleet had set sail, we understand that a commission is still open, at Paris, for the enrollment of the names of those persons disposed to offer their against tyranny and oppression. A large number of Polish of Washington, and the late Wm. Grymes, E q. the officers and soldiers have recently offered their services to son of an officer of the revolution who held a command March, the Paris commission will embrace more than 3000 bearing in their arms the stone, encircled by the star men who will embark from Brest, the place of embarkation spangled banner, and having gathered together as much men who will embark from Brest, the place of embarkation agreed upon, to join the fleet .- Paris correspondent of the COMMUNICATED The races, anticipated with so much anxiety, by the lovers of the turf, commences to-day. The proprictor of the course has metarred considerable expense a repairing and refixing this establishment, so as to provide for the conduct and convenience of visitors. It is believed that the races, this sesson, will excite more curiosity, and consequently draw a greater concourse of people to witness them, than they have ever before cone. As an amateur to the raising and improving of the breed of horses, in this state, I feel quite rejoiced at this---masmoch as it will infuse a spirit of honorable lation in sportsmen, to outdo each other in the management of race horses, which will result in the improvement of the breed. It has hisherto been a curt remark, among those who have visited the races in other states, that our horses are of such a domina ve size, feeble frame, and uncouthly appearance, as to excite pain instead of pleasure, in witnessing their perconsider. Thes remark, however, were non get into disuse, from the circumstance which I have before referred to. The admirers of fine horses, will now arrand with more commendat le carnestness to the raising of raters.

large number of beautiful horses, known for their strength, and agility, have recently been brought down from the western country to enter the lists, to dispute the prizes, with a few creale horses of notice deent. The struggle, let it terminate as it may, will manufactures: doubtless be very interesting. Seve al colts, now in the possession of Mr. Miller, faired for speed and hottom, it is understood, will also be entered. The names of some of the superior horses entered, are, Polly Powell, Aussims, Lord Byron, Proneer, Henville, WASHINGTON'S BIRTH PLACE.-At a time when all that reintes to Washington attracts so much attention, and when his touch is made the subject of a nation's auxiety, a notice of the birth place of the father of his country will not be deemed inappropriate. We have a note from Mr. Custis, of Arlington, which contains the memoranda of some incidents relative to this Alex. Gaz.

eks It is sard that the fleet, before reaching Texceira, led at Madeira for the purpose of taking posession of Island; but shortly afterwards, the commander changed Travellers Rest. lying on Popu's creek, in Westmore-The house in which he first saw the light was about 300 yards from the creek, half a mile from its entrance into the Potomac. The mansion has long since fallen to ruins. Some of the trees of solder days," are yet standing around it. There is nothing there at present to interest, except the recollections which must crowd upon the mind, while contemplating the birth place of Washington.

In 1815, immediately after the ratification of the by of peace, Mr. Custis repaired in his own vessel to the birth place, having prepared a stone with a sui mansion. Mr. C. was accompanied in the execution services in this crusade of liberty, and the rights of man of this pious duty, by Samuel Lewis, Esq. great nephew id the cause, and it is believed that before the first of in the body guard.
