There are few stations, gentlemen, under our ... Yes, gentlemen, animated by a virtuous and patriotic zeal, let all our proceedings, I pray you, be marked with forbearance, moderation, and dignity; let us diligently and steadfastly pursue those measures, and those only, which are best calculated to advance the happiness and glory of our beloved country, and render that Union, which our fathers established for the protection of our liberties, imperishable, and immortal!"

The House then proceeded to the election of a Clerk, Matthew St. Clair Clarke and Walter S. Franklin having been previously put in nomination. After two unsuccessful ballottings it appeared that Mr. Walter S. Franklin received 117 votes, and M. St. Clair Clarke 110, whereupon W. S. Franklin was declared duly elected, having received a ma... of the whole number.

LATEST FROM FRANCE—DIRECT.

By the arrival of the ship Florida, from Havre, whence she sailed on the 27th Oct., we have received copious files of Havre and Paris papers, the former to the 27th and the latter to the 25th, being two days later.

BAYONNE, 20th October.

(Private Correspondence.)

From the various reports I am able to collect, I am disposed to believe that unless France hastily interferes in favor of the Queen Regent, the party of Don Carlos will ultimately succeed. You may safely give publicity to this opinion, depend upon it, it will not be surprising that within one month this insurrection should spread throughout all Spain. A person, who came from Vittoria in 30 hours, reports, that there remained 3000 men in that town; that the Royalist Volunteers exclusive of the armed peasantry who have crossed the Ebro to march against the troops coming from Madrid amounting to 12 or 14000 men; and ... an extraordinary levy of troops had been ordered to consist of men from 18 to ... years of age. At St Sebastian ... had been arrested in conse... ...quence of ... ...conspiracy ... ...over up the city to the Carlist ... party. An order from the provisional Junta of Guipuscoa ... had been posted up, promising thirty sous a day to all young ... men who would ... Queen's service ... appeared to be the disposition to embrace ... The Liberals do not ... confidence in the physical means of the ... because the juste milieu ... repeat it, if France does not ... Queen's cause is lost— ... inevitably lost.

Postcript,—Just at the ... ...mail ... letter, I understand that an express has arrived during the night expedited from Irun announcing ... the royal troop from Madrid and Saragossa ... entered Gloria, arms in hand and that they have swept before them in every direction the undisciplined band of insurgents who made but a ... ling resistance.

The Moniteur informs that advices had been received from Madrid up to the 16th Oct. It was generally believed that the Infant Don Carlos was still in Portugal, near the frontiers of Spain, ...surrounded at Alcantara; He had written to the captain General of Estramadura and to the members of the council of Regency ... them to support his ... ...captain General, Bodil, however positively refused ... ...council have ordered that the revenues ... ...should be sequestered.—The Queen has ... ...members of the council of Regency the Archbishop of Mexico and Don Nicolas Gallardo, late Minister of Justice under the constitutional government, the former was in the place of Cardinal Marco, and ... in that of Mr Caro, incapable of serving by reason of his infirmities. This person so was put down as a member of the council of Regency in Ferdinand's will as member of the council of Regency in case of the Queen's decease. The Marquiss of Corallo counsellor of state and political chief of Madrid in 1820 and 1821 had been appointed grand Estramadura.

It was believed that the commandment of the Halberdiers would be given to Castro. The office was for the present filled by Jorreyo. The appointment of Quesada as Vice-King of Navarre was spoken of. At the time of this rumor it was probably unknown that this province had been declared by Sola in a state of seige. Exclusive of the brigade sent under the command of Wall-Armediez, of Toledo, another force has likewise been sent from the army of Scourfield destined to march against the insurgents of Biscay.

Catalonia was also in arms.

Three gentlemen had been arrested in Bayonne, and brought before the tribunals by the gendarmerie. They represented themselves to be lawyers living near Poitiers, and gave them... ...selves out to be Messrs. Moutin. Sr., Moutin, Jr. and Massac. It is hinted that they visited the Pyrences with the intention of joining the legitimists in Spain and Portugal. They all three had passports to visit the interior.

It is said that Col. Escaro pursued by the troops of the Queen had taken refuge near the partisans. This intelligence is not guarantied, but is merely given as a rumor.

SLAUGHTER OF THE DUTCH TROOPS AT PADANG.

(Extract from the Chronicle of 4th April.)

Letters from Batavia, dated 12th and 15th ultimo, announce that great alarm prevailed there, and that preparations were going on hastily to resist an invasion, which was apprehended would take place on account of the bad condition of the forts at Batavia. Almost all the Dutch Merchant Ships in the ports had gone to Tourabaya, where they would be protected by Fort Orange, and by the ships of the line of her Majesty, the Holden and Amphytrite. The Government had engaged several hundreds of the natives (probably by force, as usual,) to work at the construction of batteries and palissadoes, in order to resist any attack which might be attempted on the Island of Java. Troops were mustered from every part, and business was pretty much at a stand.

Reports from Padang by the Alexander, dated 27th Feb. confirm the news of the slaughter of the Dutch troops in the interior of Sumatra, amounting to 15 officers and 2 or 300 soldiers, all Europeans. The situation of the Dutch at Sumatra was very critical, and the town of Padang was considered to be in imminent danger.

It appears also that an express was sent to Menado, in order to bring back the celebrated Diepo Nagora, (detained in the fortress,) and to lodge him in a more secure place, because the Dutch authorities were afraid that in case of a war, the English would release him, in order to excite internal disturbances at Java. It is generally thought that M. Bussa will be put to death.

The great 22d of the Nullifiers has gone by and we see nothing of the epidermis letter. Does he who was ready to go to the death for his sugar, shrink from the responsibility of redeeming his pledge? On reperusal, is it found that the said letter is not quite so skinning as was supposed? Or does the gallant General apprehend that it will prove a two-edged sword, a little the sharpest on the wrong side? Is it Nullification that will lose its epidermis upon its publication? Or is there no such latter?—[Globe.

THE HIRELING ANONYMFUS LETTER WRITERS.

The Courier and Enquirer resumes the publication of the "The Spy in Washington." In doing so, the editor of that veracious journal ushers the first letter of the new series to the reader with a complimentary and introductory flourish, and with the protestation that he "neither knows nor suspects by whom it was written." "On these facts (says he) we stake the reputation of the Courier & Enquirer!!!" Nothing can be more conclusive; even if the reader should suspect it to be all a matter of hireling ... Duff Green's ... ...assure him we shall take no such trouble: and we allude to the matter now, because we conceive it to be of the least importance, but for the purpose of suggesting that the game of scandal has commenced, and that we may expect, at the return of Congress, multitudes of these hireling epistles, the stipendiary labor of that famished crew, who pick up a precarious livelihood at the seat of government, by the gossip they are enabled to furnish for the congenial vehicles of fiction. The poet has aptly described them:

"Next these, a troop of busy spirits press,
Of little fortunes, and of conscience less.
Some future hopes, some present payments stir:
To sell their conscience and espouse that,
Such stipends those vile hirelings best wit."

New Orleans, Dec. 14, 1833.

REMARKS.—Frequent changes in the weather continue to prevail, ... have rarely two succeeding days of the same temperature. Yesterday it become warmer than it had been during the week, and light showers commenced; the streets which had become tolerable, are again in a miry state, and in some places will soon be impassable; business ... ...and in some places will soon be impassable; business ... ...consequently retarded. The Mississippi is slowly, although imperceptibly, rising. The health of the city is good; ... the winter seasons always healthy, (excepting the visitation of last winter,) we shall not, in future refer to the fact, unless the contrary should be the case and in this particular we quote the adage, "no news is good news."

COTTON.—The market during the past week has been dull, very dull. We notice the sales of the week as follows: 1000 bales Louisiana and Mississippi, at 12 3-4 cents, the quality such as heretofore and lately commanded 13 1-2; another lot of 800 bales, at 13 1-2, considered a decline of at least 1-2 per cent per lb.; and 500 others, at 12 1-2 cents per lb. The decline may safely be put down at 3-4, some persons say 1-2 to 1 cent on all qualities. We quote choice at 13 cents per lb., but there is no demand; and, in a comparative degree, the same may be said of all descriptions. Buyers appear to look for a reduction on each succeeding sale; and we have, therefore a reduction on our quotation nominal. Arrived since the 6th inst. of Louisiana and Mississippi, 7079 bales, Mobile 33, Lake 633, Florida 169; together, 7901 bales. Cleared in the same time, for Liverpool, 10698 bales, Havre 3732, Marseilles, 521 New York 111; together, 15062 bales—making a reduction in stock of 7161, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared, on the 12th inst., a stock of 69739 bales.

SUGAR.—On plantation, there is very little doing in the city, small parcels of very good have been sold at 7 1-4 cents. The planters confide in the shortness of the crop, and are firm in their demands, and if a reduction in the supply from this quarter can enhance the price, there is then good cause why they should be firm, for the crop is now positively ascertained to be short, very short, in many places at least half. which we think from all information may be considered about the average; the effect is palpable already, for planters do not purchase to supply their wants, whether of slaves or other necessaries as formerly. We quote as last week—on plantation 7, in the city 6 1-2 a 7 1-4 cents per lb. Cleared this week for Charleston 100 hhds. 207 bbls., Alexandria 57 hhds. 2 bbls.; together, 67 hhds. 209 bbls.

MOLASSES.—Sales in town have been made at 24 cents per gallon, casks included. On plantation holders ask 20 a 21, but the article will not command more than 18 a 19 cents, at which rates transactions would be made. Cleared this week for New York, 250 hhds, 1178 bbls; Providence 196 hhds, 40 bbls; Charleston 24 hhds, 40 bbls; total 470 hhds, 1218 bbls. Alexandria 1 bbl; together 471 hhds, 1218 bbls.

TOBACCO.—We give this article its place in our ... ...remark, but there is nothing of interest to be said ... ...than repeated in our last number; there is none ... ...holders look forward to an advance for home consumption or exportation. Arrived this week and soft in market; it is fair, and the demand regular, viz, 7082 bbls.

LARD.—There is plenty ... ...and may be quoted in somewhat dull at 8 a 9, but good 11-2 cents per lb. Arrived this week, better demand.

... 36 bbls, 33290, and BEEF have not yet arrived in such quantities as to open an established price, and we notice pork in ... ...open at a fixed rate. Arrived this week, 369 bbls, 12 tcs, and 61,000 lbs in bulk.

WHISKEY continues to be dull as ever, and we quote last sales at 29 a 30 cents per gallon. Arrived this week 75 bbls.

LEAD, Pig, remains without change, $5 12 1-2 per 100 lbs. Arrived this week, 1297 pigs.

BAGGING and BALE ROPE are dull, and the quotations have been reduced to 24 a 25 cents per yard for bagging, and 9 a 9 1-2 cents per lb for Rope. Arrived this week, 184 pieces bagging, 163 coils rope.

HAY is dull at 75 cents per 100 lbs by the cargo.

LIME.—The last sale by cargo was at $1 56 1-4 per cask.

COPPER.—No alteration has occurred since our last remarks: the best quality of Havana green is yet quoted at 14 a 14 1-2; inferior descriptions are plenty at reduced rates.

CANDLES, SPERM.—The price of this article has been reduced, and we quote now last sales at 36 a 37 1-2 cts per lb.

FISH.—Considerable transactions have taken place in Mackerel at the rates quoted.

OILS.—We make no alteration except for Winter strained Sperm.

SALT.—Very little has arrived this season. Our quotations are from the sales of the last cargo.

FREIGHTS.—Quotations remain without change, steadey but not brisk. See the Table.

WASHINGTON BALL ROOM.

St Philip street, between Royal and Bourbon streets.

THE administration of that superb Ball room, have the honor of informing their friends and the public, that the first ball will take place on Wednesday, December 18th 1833, by a grand full dress and masquerade ball. The said administration think it useless to say any thing in favor of said ball room, as it will suffice to see it once, to be fully satisfied that neither expense nor care have been wanted to make it the most splendid and commodious that exists in the United States, besides being one of the largest.—The Orchestra will be composed in a new style and will execute a great number of new cotillions and waltzes, as well of those from Paris, as those composed by Mr. Curto, a distinguished artist of our city. The most perfect police will reign, as all possible precautions have already been taken for that purpose.—There will be found in the establishment, a room for depositing cloaks, canes, hats, &c: an eating room, and all kinds of refreshments of the very first quality.
