It has been a subject of some speculation since the arrival of European news announcing the resignation of the Peel ministry and the proballe formation of twing cabinet in Great Britain, how far the foreign relations between the two countries will be affected by the change. The opinion has been utered, some what hastily we think, that with the advent of a neuministry, moderate and pacific councels must prevail and that as the leaders of the whig party in England to being in power at the time when the contravers. and that as the leaders of the whis party in enguin no being in power at the time when the controver respecting Oregon began to assume a dubious at membring aspect, could offer no specific pledges as their future course, they will readly avail themselv of an autrammelled position to settle the question. peaceably and thus maintain an

or an autramment position to settle the question pelaceably and thus maintain and enhance their popularity with the people.

This view of the subject we believe to be erroneous because based upon fishe premises.

Those who thus argue overlook the very important face that the head and front of the white party Lord loops Reyssult, was the first to bring formally before the House of Commission the decisive claim put forth of the hundred Oremonists the decisive claim put forth of the whole of Oremonists the decisive claim put forth to the whole of Oremonists the decisive claim put forth to the whole of Oremonists the decisive claim put forth to the whole of Oremonists the theorem and the whole in the state of the present of the party of which ne is the acknowledged and powerful leader:

The President of the United States has made, as I have already read to the House, a premiptory claim to the whole of this territory. He had claimed the whole possession of it for the United States, and has, in an urasual manner, called upon the poole of the United States, with their wives and children, to occupy that territory. I am suce they will feel in plausible to allow the present undefined and unset-ited state of relations between the two countries to columns without danger; that the people of the Unit collisities, acquired the suggestions of the Presi-dent, may endeavor to disturb the Hinsh subjects in rights which they hold in virtue of existing treates and may produce a state of thing dangerous to the pehce of the two countries. For my own part, I will say, in all moderation, that I am not prepared to say that this country ought to put forward, any arrogan preprisons. privensions.

I do not pretend to define—what it properly belongs to her impesty's advisers to define—the diplomatic proposals that should be made—will not pretend to say what line ought to be laid—dwn; but this I will say, that I do not think we can plack any proposals which will be less than the
