THE BEE. PRINTED BY J. BAYON.
Prince in the State, General Council, and of PRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 16, 1836.

THE PRESIDENTS MESSAGE. This document, the last which the illustrious person, now at the head of the government, will have an opportunity of addressing to the two Houses of Congress at the commencement of their session, exhibits he same clearness and vigour of language, and the same cogency of reasoning which have always characterized the public writings of Andrew Jackson — There is one singular feature of this message, as pleasing to his own countrymen, as it must be surpris ing and extraordinary in the eyes of Europe_the embarrasement of which the president complains on ac-count of the redundant money in the treasury. This is certainly a novelty in the history of nations. A powerful nation, with a government, adequate to preserve domestic tranquillity, and to render it dangerous for foreign states to hazard aggressions upon its having its engagements all fulfilled, its public debt discharged and the greatest difficulty in its legislation, that of pre venting its treasure from too rapid an accumulation? This is really a political phenomana andit will o more to re-commend the adoption of the true, representative principle to other nations, than could be effected by milion of bayonets, and by all the writings of all the liberalists of the whole world.

We admire the irresistibly convinc the president speaks of the usages and injustice of con. tinuing the system of collecting a greater amount of revenue than the wants of the country require, merely for distribution attiong the States. T. e only benefit derived from the practice will be enjoyed by the host of officers, who are necessarily employed in the collection of the revenue and in its distribution; there wages being first so much taken from the pockets of the peoble to support a number of pensioners whose services are unnecessary, and who could better be dispensed with. But the reasoning of the president on this subject, is so conclusive that it would be a misfor for any American citizen not to have nemued it.

The Bank of the United States justly deserves the indignant and unanswerable rebuke which the presi dent bestows upon it That institution, though its char ter, granted by the general government, expired nine the new act of incorporation obtained from the state of Pennsylvania. This is a currency, for the soundness, of which the bank is not liable, nor do we believe that Iron ceneral remands surron that the enemy on the 18th at half past 11 e'clock at night, had entered the sity of Cordera, retreaty before the army of Alaiz, with which they had an adjournment. In consequence of the movement of the Carlists, Burron advanced with the cavalry and took a position at Puente de D. G.

On the 14th Alaix entured Cordova, driving before tim Gomes and his band of Carline, who took the road towards the mountains by Poso Blanco. Cebrera, who was on march to form a junction with Gomes at Cordova, was intercepted on his routs by the terces of Alaix and compelled to retreat towards the mountains. The last intelligence from Alaix announced that he was on the eve of overtaking the rear

The minister of war was at Almadea on the 14th with 7000 infantry and 400 cavalry. He was expected every moment at Andujar.

An official note from Alaix, received at Seville of the 15th by the mail, stated that the Carlist bands had ntirely evacuated the province of Andalusia. The government of Spain has declared that it canor pay the instalment of its foreign debt which was due the lat November, and proposes to substitute in place of money, drafts on the Custom House revenues of the Island of Cubs-the drafts to be divided into eight portions, payable each every six moths; and to pe received at the several Custom Houses in Cuba in payment of half the amount of duties awed by the holder. In other words, the government of Spain has proclaimed itself bankrupt—and in return for loans which it has negociated with foreign mations, it offers drafts, payable in four years, which may never be accepted or paid. It may appear singular to throw out such a suggestion, but we should not be surprised it the queen regent has been playing into the hands of the enemies of the government; and has caused the public finances to be embarrasked in order to defeat the views of the liberal party, to whom she never enertained a hearty good will. She has not that syn pathy with the Spanish nation, which might arise from entiments of patriotism-she is not a Spaniard, and only feel an interest so far as the success of one part or the other may promote her views of ambition or avarice. It is a dreadful thing that the destinies of a nation should be placed in the hands of a woman, a stranger, without any motive to seek the pational advantages, but such as may be identified with her own. Such are the fruits of hereditary institutions

Proclamation of General Tacon to his Army Soldiers-Your comrades of all arms, who had the missortune to be stationed in the eastern department on the 29th of last September, are victims of the most cruel oppression, inflicted upon them by their late commander General Don Manuel Lorenzo, who in violation of the laws of this Island, throwing off his subordination to the captain general, has criminally and scandalously refused obedience to the positive commands of her majesty the Queen, that no change should be made in the system by which the Island is governed, a system to which we owe that high degree of prosperity which is the envy of all the nations of the world. General Lorenzo, surrounded by a small number of his personal acquaintances, all enemies to Spain, proposes to rob the mother country of this val uacle portion of her dominions and at the same time to ruin the Island, The peaceful and faithful inhabitants of the province of Cubs as well as the troops, have transmitted to me repeated supplications for succour, and support against the violence of which they are the victims, and in order to avoid all suspicion of disloyalty which the world and you yourselves might enter tain of them.
