INSECT TENT.

A NEWLY invented article called an insect tent is now on sale to the public at No. 48 St. Charles street opposite the Exchange Hotel, of such an elegant and novel form, and construction as to merit particular attention. It is comfortable, but it must meet with universal approbation.

As a complete protection against annoyance from all winged insects, without causing the least incumbrance in a room, this article of that description most likely would probably desire. It will give to the inhabitants of warm climates a comfort and luxury never before approached by any other mosquito fixings. The tent is suspended from the ceiling of the room, and is fastened to the bedstead, to which it may be detachable to fix it, and may be raised or lowered at pleasure. It is so constructed that it may be instantly folded up into a small bundle larger than an umbrella and rolled up to the ceiling and be as much out of the way as a suspended lamp or chandelier would be, and it may be as quickly unfolded and prepared for use. The time required to form the tent or to fold it up out of the way, will not require more than one minute. It will be an ornament to a room instead of an unsightly incumbrance, and in so simple in its construction that it cannot get out of order. It is intended for the use of bedsteads, settees, sofas, chairs, and sleeping under; and to be used in dwellings, counting houses and offices, and may be used by travellers, Sportsmen or parties of pleasure, when in the woods. People will wherever know the comforts that may be had in sleeping in this warm musquito country until they try one of these newly invented tents. They may be enabled to enjoy refreshments of long absence of sleep, during the hot season. These new modes are hexagonal, or 6 square and 8 feet 8 inches in diameter, 10 feet 6 inches high, and when folded up will make a bale, of 4 feet 6 inches long and 8 or 10 inches in all sorts. The cost of one is only $20.

The ladies should examine this new tent, especially as it will afford them many comforts heretofore denied them on account of the inconvenience of the ordinary mode of protection against insects. The proper inducements are one of the most useful and comfortable contrivances of the day and must soon be used by every family either in the cities or in the country.

The above description of the insect tent may appear extravagant and calculated to give a false estimate and coloring to the matter as is too often the case with notices and advertisements of new publications, but it may be assured that no such attempt has been made in this article, of which people will be convinced by calling at 46 St Charles street.

COUGH REMEDY—Pectoral Paste of Deguerstis, Drug gist at Paris.—Of all the remedies now known for the cure of coughs, none has ever obtained so much celebrity as the Pectoral Paste, of real liver! The happy results obtained by its use in all cases of the diseases of the lungs and consumption, have rendered it invaluable.

This paste has the power of calming irritations of the lungs immediately, facilitates the expectoration, and stops the cough. It is made of the same remedies in colds, catarrhs, &c., which yield immediately to its effects. Physicians of the best standing in Paris have tested its effects in many cases, and have recommended its use in all long affections, as the best cure for consumption, or the last remedy now known.

The above remedy can be obtained at M. Martin's, Druggist, No. 171, Chartres st.
