We left Mazzalia no the 3th of June, and arrived at this place on the 3th of July, all well. On entering the bay we found lying at anchor the sloops of war Levant and Cyane, and on the 15th of July, the fingate Congress, Comsisted of Capatia Mervine, took the place, housed the American ensign and saluted it with twenty-one gains, and ever since we have had a strong guard on shore to protect the place. From all appearances the inhabitants are well satisfied. On Sunday, 19th of July, Colonel Fremont and his party arrived here.

A nobler looking set of men I never saw. Full of health and vigor. They have a Delaware Indian Chief with them, and some indians of the same tribe.
