The Convention which recently assembled at Harrisrang, to consider the changes necessary in the Constitution of Loansylvania, and which was presided by Mr. George Krewer, have posted out several important reforms. Among which are a diminution of the power of the Executive in relation to appointments, a limitation of the tenure of all offices, an extension of the right of siffrage, a curtaliment of the term of office of Senators and a provision for the mode in which future amendments shall be made. Some other alterations are proposed, which are to be submitted to a convention to be held during the winter, of which the most important are, restrictions of the power of the Legislation as respects the granting of charters, and the borrewing of money for the use of the State.

How many of these changes could be introduced bene ficially into the Constitution of Louisiana? Yet our people seem to be in a lethargy upon the subject. When will they awake to a sense of the necessity of reforming the abuses and evils under which they labor, and
