

The Daily Bee

NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 21, 1865.

THE DAILY BEE.
 Published weekly, August 21, 1865.
 G. F. WATSON & CO.,
 Editors and Proprietors.
 No. 127 PINE STREET, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

THE DAILY BEE.
 Tuesday Morning, August 21, 1865.
 THE DAILY BEE, published weekly, August 21, 1865.

THE LOUISVILLE RIOTS.
 The Louisville Journal is a faithful and reliable history of the commotion of the terrible affairs in that city, and the issue of the 18th inst. it has fully and completely filled with the particulars of the riot before various magazines in Louisville and signed by the authors. There is no doubt that the Louisville Journal is the most reliable source of information on this subject, and all who are interested in the history of the riots, and the manner in which they were conducted, should have a copy of this issue. The Journal is published weekly, and is a most valuable and reliable source of information on all the news of the day.

By Telegraph.
Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

By Telegraph.
Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

By Telegraph.
Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

By Telegraph.
Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

By Telegraph.
Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.

Washington, August 21.—The President has issued a proclamation in relation to the late rebellion, and has ordered that all the property of the rebels be confiscated, and that all the persons who have aided them be treated as enemies of the United States.