Nearly every country paper we receive appears to consider the questions of a United States Senator to succeed Edm. J. P. Exc. January as the most important topic with which the Legislature of Louisiana will have to grappie. It is due to candor to acknowledge that throughout the length and breadth of Borth Louisiana the press seems almost unanimous in supporting the claims of Mr. Sandior. The subject is discussed in what we deam a most tresuvant and unjust spirit. Liverroot, January 1.—Naples talks of making an additional levy of 18,000 men. Agitation is rife in Italy. It is removed that the French garrieron are about to remove from Rome to Cevita Vecchia, near Bome.

The leading argument in favor of Bandida is that he is front the Northern part of the Biate: that that, section has betherto been excluded from a due participation in Benatorial Bonors; that its heavy Democratic majorities have decided most of the political contexts in Louisiana, and therefore that it possesses a pre-seminent right to choose the Senator. All this is exceedingly acphistical and fallacions.

Does a United States Senator represent a portion of his constituency or the whole? Is he presumed to speak in behalf of the petty locality where he resides, or of the entire State? If he expected to assert and maintain the rights of the parish or Congressional district from which he halfs, or of the broad commonwealth whose seal is affixed to his credentials? We presume no one will controvert our position when we declare that the U.S. Senator from Louisiana is the representative of the entire State; that in the canacity he is as much obligated to pro-It is reported that Russia is about to lish a naval station at Canton. They are governed by different and more enlightened considerations—in fact by the only arguments that ought in justice and in reason to control the choice of the Legislature.

The Democratic party have a majority in the Legislature. It is conseded, therefore, that they are entitled to elect a man of their political school. Messra, Sandines and Benjamin for the office. Now what should be the aim of the Legislature in sending a U. B. Senator to Washington? Unquestionably that the interests of the State should be ably stillfully and faithfully represented.
