OUT DOOR LESSONS.

MR. G. BELLANGER, yielding to the liberal feelings which form the established public schools, now comprehends not for him, the profit for keeping a Seminary of learning has passed.

He has consequently resumed, as formerly, the practice of giving private lessons in families

Those whom public preference extends to him that confidence by which he has been for fourteen years honored in this city, are requested to apply at the Book Store of Mr. Yor. Hebert No. 70 Chartres street. o31 3m

FIVE DOLLARS REWARD.—Runaway from the undersigned on Sunday morning, a negro girl JOHN, well known in town as belonging to the late, and having been purchased from the Roux family. He is about 30 or 35 years old, well grown, about 5 feet 8 inches high, the teeth in his upper jaw are decayed, and some have fallen out, eyes black and lively, crop hair. has some scars from cuts on his back, speaks English and French. He pretends to be free with those who are but imperfectly acquainted with him. Had on when he went away, blue cotton-ade pantaloons, no shirt, but On Monday last he was seen crossing the ferry on his way to Algiers, and on Tuesday near the Verandah market of the first municipality. It is thought he will seek employ ment in some carpenter's shop either in the city or in environs. Captains of vessels and steamboats, and the public in general are cautioned not to harbor said slave, under pain of prosecution to the utmost rigor of the law. Five dollars will be given to whoever will conduct said slave to my dwelling, or will lodge him in jail, and $30 to whoever will prove that he has been employed by any one since last July.

DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL.
FOR MISSES AND LADIES,
Founded in 1833 by Madame Lemaire, and conducted since 1840 by Madame Desmarais,
(Hampton Institute of Louisville.)

THE course of instruction pursued in this establishment is the most satisfactory that can be offered to parents. Reading and grammar to the study of literature and the sciences, assorted vocabulary from the primary to the polished education.

The pupils are subdivided into seven classes, suited to their different ages and degrees of advancement.

The French and English languages are cultivated with equal attention, and a good opportunity is afforded to those who wish to perfect themselves in the conversation of the two languages.

Vocal and instrumental music is taught by ladies, each newly attached to the establishment, and their constant presence is a guarantee of unremitting attention, both to lessons and practice.

The performance of religious duties, by the boarders, is duly attended to, a priest, authorized by the Bishop, at least twice a month, to say mass, to instruct the young pupils and prepare them for their first communion.

From the 1st January, 1844, the Institution will no longer receive young boys, and will be exclusively consecrated to young ladies.

Parents are informed that the house in Bienville street, contiguous to the Church edifice, has been added to the Institution for the better accomodation of boarders.

Examinations in music take place from November to April, on the 1st Saturday of each month. At the end of May, general examinations and distribution of prizes
