THE DAILY BEE,
PUBLISHED BY
G. F. WEISER & CO.,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.
G. F. WEISER, G. MERRY,
E. DUPUECHER, N. DUPUOY.
DAILY PAPER, (one year in advance).....$12
COUNTRY PAPER, semi-weekly, (one year in advance).....$6
To all cases, subscribers must give one week's notice in writing before they can be allowed to discontinue.

The New Orleans Bee.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.
One Dollar for every TEN lines in each insertion, in the first publication, and HALF that price for each subsequent one. No advertisement inserted for less than one dollar in each language.
☞ Yearly advertisements inserted at Interval's will be charged one dollar for every TEN lines for each insertion for each insertion.
☞ The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited to subscribers strictly within the line of their business, and to extend to one square every other day.

NEW ORLEANS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1855.

THE DAILY BEE.

Wednesday Morning, August 15, 1855.

THE NORTHERN MAIL came through yesterday, with the latest dates.

A PREDICTION VERIFIED.

We are far from experiencing the slightest admiration of the political theories of Louis Kossuth. They may be well adapted to Hungary, whenever she shall have attained freedom and independence, but they are not at all suited to plain common sense notions of law-regulated liberty prevailing in the United States. The "Solidarity of the Peoples" will not do for this continent, and so Kossuth discovered, when he sought to convince us, that our policy and interest both commanded us to act upon the wise policy urged in words of profound truth by the Father of his country.

But though Kossuth's political ideas are not to our taste, we are free to admit, of him a man of wonderful eloquence, varied and extensive information, and a perfect knowledge of European affairs. Hence, while discriminating between his visionary views touching republicanism, and his sensible and thoughtful understanding upon matters particularly within the scope of mercial comprehension, we have coincided with interest his correspondence in relation to the war, communicated from the columns of the New York We have been struck with the accuracy of his statements, and the extraordinary truth of his predictions. His appears to be one of the very few men Western Europe who know any thing personally of the resources of Russia, and the strength of Sebastopol, and who ventured to foretell the disasters and misfortunes in the Allies in their invasion of the This power of seeming prewas illustrated in a speech delivered on the 5th July, 1854, just began to be rumored that an attempt was to be made to take Sebastopol. of that speech, Kossuth alluded to rumor in the following re-

> You know you can take Sebastopol by ... without sacrifices which you neither ... And as to taking it by land, ... terrible camp, inhabited by terrible ... an army for garrison in it, [bear, ... new armies pouring into your flank ... in the plains of the Crimea, ... army to resist them — [bear ... such an undertaking to succeed ... are necessary that Eng... ... never more in that quarter ... Ici on ne tentera, remember ... Your brave will fail to rain under ... and Crimean air, as the Rus... Turkish bullet or yatagan. ... of the best of your brave, im... ... shall see Albion or Gallia ... bear ...

A terrible prophecy has been recently ... to the memory of the British people by Mr. Bright, who, in a speech before the Commons, quoted Kossuth's ... and said

> ... those prophets had arisen in your ... Cabinet under the direct inspiration ... never, he could not more exactly have ... about the desperate expedition which ... undertake, or the frightful ... were entailing upon you ...

... of Kossuth's accuracy lies ... that while he is entirely la... military affairs, and possesses ... clear and unbiassed judgment ... he has a closer and more ... knowledge of the Crimea than ... England. His warnings were ... his predictions derided at the ... we take it that both France and ... regret very bitterly that they did ... a little more weight to the admo... the Hungarian. Had they done ... of wasting away before the ... of Sebastopol, they would ... for some more vulnerable ... wide domains, and perhaps ... might have conquered a ...

... advice has always been to ... slumbering nationalities of ... and Eastern Europe, but this ... been revolution, and this of all ... most dreaded by the rulers of ... England.

AMERICAN MEETING TO-NIGHT.

... evening the American party, and all ... citizens of Lafayette to the outpouring of ... reason, are invited to assemble ... We, as Native Americans, are responsible ... to the call of Mr. HUNT, the American ... for our Attorney, are not responsible ... assured that the citizens will need no induce... ... than the occasions, to secure their ... The reputation of Mr. Hunt as a ... orator, a profound logician, and a true, ... high minded American, will suffice, ... is absolutely hot weather, to attract ... to the gardening the capacity of the ...

☞ A terrible accident occurred at Opelousas, on the 4th inst. A new building ... in process of erection for the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company fell, crushing to death ... Cameron, master builder, and W. B. ... superintendent of the building, who ... standing beneath the cornice at the time, ... Chambers and B. Waldron, who ... passing by, all well known and esteemed ... are among the killed.

☞ A census of Wisconsin has been in progress all the season, and the Milwaukie Sentinel ... returns from various localities, which ... years ago had an aggregate population of 31,811, ... now have 57,905. The Sentinel thinks that ... rate of increase will hold good throughout ... State, in which case the aggregate will ... be 550,000.

... NEW MONTHLY.—Our thanks are ... J. C. Morgan, Exchange Place, for the ... number of the capital magazine. It is ... entertainment, and most of the articles ... admirably illustrated.

TEXAS.

... by arrival from Galveston we have ... papers to Saturday last. The Demo... are a little ahead of the wagon in crow... over their victory in Texas. The result is ... involved in doubt. The Houston Telegraph ... of the 11th says:

> THE ELECTION.—From the partial returns ... would, we are assured, be unsafe to think the contest ... vention will be a very close one. Dickson ... probably receive a majority of 40 or 50 in ... county. In Fort Bend, Galveston, Libert... ... Washington, Pease is running ahead. ... Walker, Montgomery and Robertson, ... seems to be sweeping everything by ... Kinney, and the eastern and northern part of ... State it is thought that Dickson will get large ... Of the Rio Grande side Dickson's ... seem ... for him. Pease will ... in the central and western part of the ...
>
> The vote of the American party, which seems ... be stronger in the up-country than was ... of the opponents of Pease's action on ... Texas Railroad, and of the next State plan ... improvements, will strike in a ... manner upon Dickson. On the other ... the general and merited popularity of ... administration, and his decided stand ... the Know Nothings, will secure him a ...

The Galveston Confederate is even more confident. After reviewing the returns, which are ... large, it says:

> We then confidently conclude—to sum up—of the ... of Dickson by a crushing majority. ... is no greater than his opponent's ... than that opponent was in the South ... popularity. Since that period Dickson ... ... forward in the conf... ... the people, while Pease has rounded ... steadily back ward.
>
> ... Texas exchanges are nearly doubtful of ... The San Antonio Ledger of the 6th inst ... following items:
>
> We learn from an official source, that the ... Rebollero is returned positively to establish ... here by the first of October next. We are ... to hear it, for we much need consolidated ... and decrease the mortality from ...

☞ Advices from Kansas say that there was ... excitement concerning the new Governor. ... Legislature dodge big scrapes on the ... question, and there was a petition circulating signed by the members, asking the ... Woodson to appoint acting Secretary Woodson, ... Woodson declines.

MORE FUSION IN NEW YORK.—The Times of the 7th instant says:

> The President and Secretary of State, ... Democratic Lompoc, of this city, have issued ... an address, which, but for its length, we should ... publish in full, recommending that a Fusion Democracy of the State be held at any suitable ... convention for the nomination of State officers ... the Fall, but to unite with the Republicans in ... electing delegates to their State Convention, ... which is to meet on the 5th of September.—... They state that the Republicans at Auburn ... Fall, took ground perfectly contrary to theirs ... on the subject of slavery, and that the time has ... come for a union of all men opposed to the aggressions of slavery, upon a common basis and ... one common effort.

By Telegraph!

Transmitted to the New Orleans Bee.

[By the National Line.]

LATER FROM HAVANA.

Expulsion of all the Creoles who have become citizens of the United States.

NEW YORK, August 14.—The steamship Crescent City, from New Orleans 9th, via Havana 8th inst., has arrived at this port.

All the Creoles at Havana who have become citizens of the United States had been officered to leave the island forthwith.

The vomito was raging among the troops in Porto Rico. More than fifteen hundred of them had died.

Midshipman Cole died of fever on board the U. S. sloop-of-war Falmouth, on her passage from Key West to New York.

New York Markets.

Flour is a trifle higher in this market, with sales of State and Western at $9 a $9 37 per bbl. Corn is 2 cents higher, with sales of Mixed at 87 cents per bushel. Sales of Mess Pork at $19 75 per bbl.

Cabinet Surprise.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—Advices received here, are to the effect that Col. Steptoe "tendered the resignation of being at Carson Valley awaiting the reply of the President, was, on the 16th July, at Salt-lake, with his command.

Kansas.

Hon. Wilson Shannon, of Ohio, accepted the Governorship of Kansas, and departed from this for that station. Mr. Shannon was a supporter of the Nebraska-Kansas bill in the last Congress.

Minor Intelligence.

LOUISVILLE.—The river is at a stand. The steamer T. O. Treibell left to-day for New Orleans.

[By the Southern Line.]

Our Minister to England.

WASHINGTON, August 11th.—Mr. Buchanan leaves London for the United States October 6th.

Sports from California.

NEW YORK, August 14.—The steamship Empire City at this port, from Aspinwall, brought $900,000 in specie.

THE LOUISVILLE RIOTS.

The Louisville papers are filled with accounts of the fearful riots which disgraced that city on the 4th inst. From the most authentic and impartial statements it appears certain that these scenes of violence were altogether abominable for the attempts made by the respectable citizens and destruction of life and property were overcome in every instance by unprovoked and murderous assaults of foreigners upon native citizens. In every instance where death has occurred or blood has been spilt Americans were first fired upon and cut, and stabbed, or beaten by foreigners.

The Louisville Journal furnishes incontrovertible evidence that in the First and other wards of the city the foreigners had armed themselves to the teeth; that Americans were warned not to approach certain quarters; that large quantities of arms and ammunition were secreted in various houses, and that threats of violence and murder were openly made by many Irish and Germans. That paper adds:

> We also know that, in consequence of these threats and of information that those who had uttered them were assembled together, fully armed and bent upon the execution of their bloody purposes, a number of respectable citizens, many Germans who voted the American ticket were actually afraid to go to their homes and did not go there until yesterday. For more than a week past we have received information from different sources that there was in the First ward an organized force of Sag Nichts, and that every effort was intended to be made by the leaders of the anti-American party to induce the foreigners in this city to effect by force what they might not be able to do by peaceably and quietly depositing their votes. For weeks before the day of election, most outrageous, inflammatory, and incendiary appeals had been made to them in the speeches of their party demagogues and through their party press. They had been induced to believe, what is not true, that the American party might by law take away or interfere with some of their most valued rights. They were thus wrought upon and their most violent and basest passions inflamed almost to madness. All murder and crimes were the consequences.

* * * *

It is certainly true that the election was passing off without more violence or disturbance than almost invariably attended the elections in which the old political parties were contesting. The election had been very quietly until between three and four o'clock in the First Ward and until nearly six o'clock in the Eighth Ward. The voting had slackened. There was at this time no difficulty for any one to gain admission to the polls. The foreigners who commenced the firing from the windows and doors of houses and from the fences only armed and acted in concert, while the Americans were unprepared and unsuspicious of any attack. They were scattered and were obliged to go to their homes to arm themselves in order to defend themselves from this indiscriminate slaughter. There is indeed not a shadow of doubt that there would have been no bloodshed, or murders, or house burnings, or riots, if it had not been for the wholesale and unprovoked killing and wounding of unoffending native born citizens by the infuriated and misled foreigners who commenced this hellish work.

* * * *

We have the names of over thirty witnesses by whom it can be proven that, in every act of violence, which tended to produce these riots, foreigners were the aggressors, and peaceable unarmed American citizens were not expected to die. We have not been able to ascertain how many have been wounded; we have heard of about thirty here or less wounded. Fourteen persons are killed, of which six were Americans. The number of wounded on both sides is not less than thirty.

The riots commenced in the following manner. We quote from the Journal of the 7th inst.:

> In the first ward about 9 o'clock in the morning, while the election was proceeding quietly at the polls, Mr. George Burge, a respectable and quiet American citizen, was brutally assaulted by a party of Germans on Jefferson street, between Jefferson and Greene, without having given any provocation, by we believe two men who were intoxicated. The ruffians knocked him down and horribly beat him with sticks and clubs. He attempted to escape from the fiends by whom he was attacked and ran into the alley of an adjoining house, where he was followed by his blood thirsty assailants, and cut, stabbed, and beaten until he was supposed to be dead. They were then seen to kick his head several times deliberately against the kerb and proceeded to cut the throat of the murdered man. When this act of violence was made known, a party of Americans started in pursuit of the murderers, who were subsequently arrested and lodged in jail by the Mayor and City Marshal.
>
> In the afternoon, in the upper part of the city, a couple of gentlemen were riding along in a carriage, when they were fired at from a house by Germans or Irish, and one of them wounded. The name of the wounded gentleman, Edward Williams, a watchman in the Second Ward, Joseph Selvage, and John Latta, Americans, were there shot and dangerously wounded by a musket-ball, Selvage received several buckshots about his body, and Williams severely injured.
>
> The report reached the lower part of the city that six Americans had been shot and were lying in Dr. Tyler's office. This caused the assembling of a large crowd, which proceeded up town. The first attack made by the crowd was on a German named John Vogt, in a blacksmith shop which stood on the lot on Jackson, near the corner of Clay and Madison. He was shot, stabbed, and beaten. Another German, named Jacob, who was sitting on a stable-case, was dragged out, stabbed, and beaten. His remains were left in the street. After the lower part of the house was broken to pieces.
>
> The crowd proceeded to the corner of Madison and Shelby, where fights from this house had taken place, and they riddled the ground floor with bullets and stones. They next attacked the house of Mr. Patterson, corner of Walnut and Shelby, kept by C. E. Kessler, and two houses occupied by Germans on the corner of Shelby and Marshall. A German named John Feller was stabbed several times, but not dangerously injured.
>
> The next scene of the riot was on Jefferson street, near Bourgeron creek. Here a party of gentlemen coming into the city were fired upon by loafers from this locality, and some of them severely wounded. The butcher's tinsmith and several houses from which the shots were fired were attacked, and the contents demolished. The brewery in this locality was also torn down, with several other houses. A number of window panes in other houses were broken. Several Germans were very badly beaten, and an Irishman, named Patrick Murphy, was stabbed to death this morning. On Preston street, between Main, John Sutherland, an American, was shot, but not dangerously injured, and an Irishman was shot and beaten.
>
> All the German houses attacked were those from which shots had been fired by the opposite party.
>
> While this was going on in the upper part of the city, several persons were fired upon on the lower part of Main street. About 9 o'clock, two Americans were shot from an Irish house, while going along on Chapel street. This attracted a crowd to the locality, and a fight took place. The Irish now, on Main street, above Eleventh, was attacked and fired, and several persons were killed and badly beaten. A large crowd of Americans were collected. The Irishman whom Graham white he was taking care of Hinston, an American who had been shot, was found dead on the bank where he died. At least thirty shots were fired from houses on Chapel street. It is impossible to ascertain at this moment, precisely how many persons were killed, wounded, &c., but it is certain that many were badly shattered by a ball.
>
> Seven or eight houses on the North side of Main street, were burned. A man named Mitchard Blackburn, who had one of the guns of the Americans, was fired at by Ralph Thomas, and shot in which fire proving. The house was speedily all set on fire by Frank Quinn, who was arrested.
>
> Later accounts state that a man was murdered on Madison street, was hanged down, and also three Irish carpet-baggers on Main street. There were two dead bodies in the upper story of the city, but nothing definitely informed that he got shot. It is to be with this fire.
>
> There were some scenes, we allude, characterized this morning on Fifth street, near Main, but the municipal prevailed, and the crowd finally dispersed.

ARRANGEMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT-ELECT.—D. Meserve, of Alabama, is to be Secretary of Legation to the Court of Russia, to be Secretary of Legation to the Court of Spain, and Thomas Powhatan Ellis, of New York, to be Consul-General of the United States, Japan.

THE DAILY BEE.

NEW ORLEANS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 15, 1855.

THE CHOLERA NEWS.

The steamer Africa reached New York on the 4th inst., with Liverpool dates to the 29th ult. The New York papers were issued before the address could be received, but the telegraphic correction in the Baltimore papers, which we took notice to previous subscribers, was also received, as they are under date of the 31st.

There is nothing important from the seat of war.

The visitation of Lord Raglan ordered at Balaklava, and many hunted the next day with great zeal. The General took place the next day at Sebastopol privately.

THE WAR.

The war news is unimportant. It was reported that General Simpson, the successor of Lord Raglan, had joined Queen Victoria, but subsequently contradicted.

The French Senate proceeds to make their report upon the Government project, and the Corps Legislatif will proceed to the discussion of the same. The report will be referred to the Committee on Swords and Muskets.

The Constitutionnel, the Ultra Bonapartist paper, denies the statement of the conspiracy of the city and the existence of the minister of others were taken up and under arrest.

The Paris Bourse is excited. Board rejoices at the fall of the public indebtedness. Funds have fallen, and what the Board calls "bears" have made a clear profit.

Advices from Kars to the 20th ult. state that the Russians had concentrated their forces at Gumri, and the Turks had occupied the village Yenikoni, containing large stores of provisions intended for the Allied army at Kars, whence the Turks were compelled to withdraw.

The Russians are also advancing the following, which was issued by the Provisional Council of Kars, but they think that new provisions should be made for distinguished services rendered during the siege:

Whereas, the Imperial Government has been pleased to confer upon the Provisional Council of Kars the power of rewarding the brave defenders of the fortress, and whereas the Council has been informed by the commander of its limits, the devotion of the public works and many individuals, as well as the valor displayed on all occasions by the garrison, exhausting the limits of ordinary rewards, it has been resolved by the Council to propose to the Imperial Government the following rewards, which will be accepted for the present, and which will be recognized for the future:

The Provisional Council has agreed upon the following rewards, which it has submitted to the Imperial Government for its approval:

The standard of the Crescent and Star will be placed over the Citadel of Kars, and a salute of 101 guns fired on the 16th of every month, at 9 o'clock, P. M., when the officers of every class with which he will charged at 11, will be assembled worthy of every to the Citadel of Kars.

Whereas, by these high minded Bonapartists public good for great additional endowment policy, and the Russian overture, he has now more powerful than ever, and the Government, and as evidence of the distinguished power and exemplary dignity of the Council in all the relations of life; and

Whereas, the Council, in the exercise of its the guidance of his and conscience, is a subject of great complaint and dissatisfaction to the Government, and as evidence of the respect and confidence by the unanimous resolution to accord with the Council, by the members of this Board;

Resolved, That this Board will suspend its ordinary badge of mourning for the space of thirty days, in testimony of respect to the memory of the late Emperor Nicholas, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the family of the deceased, as a mark of our sympathy for them in their grief.

Resolved, That as further mark of respect, this Board do attend the funeral obsequies of the late Emperor Nicholas.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AT A COLORED WEDDING.—The scene of the stabbing of Josh Blakely, which we had in our paper yesterday morning, did not, altogether, occur. The following is the circumstances of the affair: About 8 o'clock on Monday evening, Blakely, who is a carpenter, living in St. John street, was passing along Phillipa street, when he was stabbed in the back with a sword cane by a negro named Adeline, belonging to Capt. Forgeh, who came up behind him. She then turned and ran away. Blakely, who is a large, powerful man, caught the negro in his arms, threw him down, and beat him severely about the head and body, and he called out and threw it into the gutter. The wounded man was taken to the City Hospital, where Dr. Bemiss found him in a very dangerous condition. The woman has been duly arrested by officer Keaney, and confessed having committed the deed, and said she intended to kill him. The negro man, who had thrown into the wall on her master's premises, and it was afterwards found here by the police officer. The cause of this cold-blooded attempt at assassination, we have been informed, Blakeley had been living with the woman, and had been jealous of him on account of his having her for a wife somewhat advanced woman. She was sent to the Parish Prison to await the result of Blakely's wound.

DEATH FROM SUNSTROKE.—A young German, named Sophie Catchlin, from Basel at the corner of Ivy Ost and Eighth streets, Fourth District, died on Monday evening from the effects of sunstroke. He was 24 years old, and been married but about a fortnight previous.

Thomas Gregory, a young Irishman, aged 20 years, also died on the same evening of sunstroke. He resided at 58 Eighteen, street, Third District. Inquests were held in both cases and appropriate verdicts rendered.

FOUND DROWNED.—On Monday evening the body of a negro man, about 30 years, was found in the river, at the foot of St. Ann street. The body had been in the water several days, it was thought, from appearances. The face and head were much decomposed. It was also stated to be found in the name of the deceased, or the manner of his death, the Coroner's jury was empanelled to render a verdict of "Found Drowned."

GAMBLING.—A cash dealer named Henry Johnson gambled a fight on the Levee yesterday with a negro boy employed on the steamboat Laurel Hill, and gave him a severe beating in the room with a dirk knife. Johnson was arrested and held in bonds of $300 to answer.

ARRESTED MURDER OF A WIFE BY HER HUSBAND.—Yesterday we gave an account of the death of Mrs. Pleasant, who had died under suspicious circumstances, and Catherine Reynolds, who, according to the verdict of the Coroner's jury, died of intemperance and exposure. Reynolds and her husband lived in Dolard street, between Bourbon and Phillipon streets, and on Sunday last the former died suddenly. Yesterday F. E. Hagens made an affidavit before Judge Lea, in which he alleges that he has good reason to believe that her death was caused by a severe beating given her by Peter Reynolds, her husband, on the day on which she died. Reynolds was arrested and sent to the Parish Prison to await examination on the 21st inst.

ALLEGED MURDERER.—Joseph Sloane, of the firm of Sloane & Co., Lake Pontchartrain, was brought before the Recorder yesterday, charged with the murder of this city, yesterday made an affidavit before Alexander Dalpin, in which he charged one Evan Mcd. Sloane with having obtained timber to the value of $300 from them by false pretences. The accused was arrested, and held in bonds of $700 to appear.

A. M. KAY,
Commission Merchant, Steamboat Agent, &c.
5 Hoop's Row, Lafayette street, (late Levee st.,)
Between Camp and Magazine streets, New Orleans.
NEWSPAPER HEADINGS—Every description of Book and Job Work; Ornaments, &c., for copper-faced; Cuts, Brass Rules, &c., for New Orleans printing, made to copper, and Counter-Dies, &c., for stereotyping.
☞ Orders left at G. J. Stewart, Engraver, Camp street, will be promptly executed to.
aug 12 1y

$100 Reward.
WILL be given to whomsoever will arrest and lodge in the Parish Jail, or deliver to the undersigned, the negro man JOHN HOBBS, belonging to Jos. Dubuc, and who has been absent from his said master since the 1st of April. He is about 5 feet 7 inches high, dark complexion, and has a scar on his face. He is supposed to be harbored by some one in the City of New Orleans. He is also well known as a dancer, and is frequently employed at balls and parties.
aug 15 1w* HENRY WORTHAM.

LAND AND HOUSE FOR SALE.
THE undersigned offers for sale the property he now occupies, situated on the corner of Bayou Road and Roman street, fronting 60 feet on Roman street, and 120 feet on Bayou Road, with a two story house thereon, containing seven rooms, with all the necessary outbuildings, and a well of excellent water. Also, a lot of ground on the corner of Roman and Bayou Road, fronting 60 feet on Roman street, and 120 feet on Bayou Road, with a two story house thereon, containing seven rooms, with all the necessary outbuildings, and a well of excellent water. Also, a lot of ground on the corner of Roman and Bayou Road, fronting 60 feet on Roman street, and 120 feet on Bayou Road, with a two story house thereon, containing seven rooms, with all the necessary outbuildings, and a well of excellent water. Also, a lot of ground on the corner of Roman and Bayou Road, fronting 60 feet on Roman street, and 120 feet on Bayou Road, with a two story house thereon, containing seven rooms, with all the necessary outbuildings, and a well of excellent water.
aug 15 1w* JOSEPH LANDRY.

NOTICE.
THE undersigned has removed his Office to No. 5 Carondelet street, where he will continue to practice his profession.
aug 15 1w* J. D. SEGOND.

NOTICE.
THE undersigned has removed his Office to No. 5 Carondelet street, where he will continue to practice his profession.
aug 15 1w* J. D. SEGOND.

Cigars! Cigars!
THE undersigned has just received a large assortment of Cigars, which he will sell at reduced prices.
aug 15 1w* P. J. FOSSTALL, Jr.

NEW YORK.
U. S. MAIL STEAMSHIP COMPANY.—FOR NEW YORK, VIA HAVANA.—The ... and splendid ... OHIO, ... MEDIA, ... and ... will ... as follows:
... MONDAY, 13th of August, at 5 o'clock, A. M.
... SATURDAY, 18th of August, at 5 o'clock, A. M.
... and ... apply at the office of the Company, 78 Carondelet street.
JENKINS, LAUGHLAND & CO., Agents.
aug 10

FOR CALIFORNIA.
PASSAGE GREATLY REDUCED.
FOR CALIFORNIA, VIA HAVANA.—The ... and ... steamship ... will ... for the above ports, touching at ... on the ... of ... at 10 o'clock, A. M.
... Passengers will be conveyed to ... in connection with the ... leaving ... on the 1st of ... and ... on the 1st of ... Passengers will be conveyed to ... in connection with the ... leaving ... on the 1st of ... and ... on the 1st of ... Passengers will be conveyed to ... in connection with the ... leaving ... on the 1st of ... and ... on the 1st of ... Passengers will be conveyed to ... in connection with the ... leaving ... on the 1st of ... and ... on the 1st of ...