

Forthom they are destined, I will explain why I have not done so already, and why this warning note.
The note to save verbal Explanation afterwards, and to announce that this very day my long pending engagement is ratified with the G. W. Railway Co. and that I have the proud gratification of finding myself employed under your brother
"Brunel the Second."

Rather more than ordinary worry precluded the final arrangement; during which time I walked with my hands in my pockets up and down, for more exercise from angle to angle of a room eight feet nine inches and seven sixteenths square. All is happily and satisfactorily concluded now. The more I see of Mr. Brunel increases my satisfaction in bringing forward the G. W. Telegraph
