A singular circumstance has recently come to ou knowledge. Some years ago a fine black fellow be longing to one of the most respectable families in the interior of the State, was manufacted in consequence. insequents inserted at intervals will be charged one interior of the State, was manufacted iff consequent owers TES lines, for each language and for case of this uniform good conduct and certain services.

ness. The result may be guessed at. No sooner did he acquire by long continued toil and rigid self-dem-al, the means of returning to Louisiana, than he left the inhospitable shores where pseudo-philanthropy had drawn him, and repaired hither, called on his master and entreated him to make a slave of him again. He was heartily sick of his fine dreams of of slavery and freedom, with special reference to the ability of the colored race to maintain an unequa ability of the colored race to maintain an unequal struggle with 'e enterprise, energy and superior intelligence of the white man. In such a contest there is no difficulty in divining which of the two must succomb. What is true of an individual is equally true of a whole people. Carry out the objects of france negrophilism, and the negro would be rendered ten thousand times more miserable than he can possibly be under the worst and most repugnant aspect that havery can present. In the latter condition, raiment. food and shelter are always his-he may be compell and a little are in ways in the little may be conjusted to work; we will even admit that he may be occasionally over-tasked, but he is at least sure of his daily bread, of protection from the inclemencies of the season, of security and repose when his labor i accomplished. Give him freedom and he is deprived of all these. Unable to contend against the intellect, the babits of industry and frugality and the enterprise of the white race, he must perish by degrees, gradu-ally disappearing, like the Indian from our continent iess by want, debasement and imisery, he must en

This was necomplished in three lays-an entire must made, step,ed and rigged, and on Tuesday morning, at none o'clock, with colors fly ing, and guns booming from alternate sides, she gaily made her way out of the harbor under a full, press o canvass, for her destination on the Mexican coast."

City Intelligence. Gisy Intelligence.

Gist Gains: This brave and gallant chiefinin left the city yesterday for Washington, perguant to the letter from the War Department of the Binst.—During the forenom of yesterday. He General received the larewell adieus of hundreds of our citizens Among the authorities of the city, we notified Gov Johnson, Gen. Lewis, the Recorders of our Municipalities, several Judges and a large body of other respectable and influential men. Their visit at a time like the one in question, was a tribute of respect and enteren to tried worth and personal merit. We feel assured that in whatever other command the brave old General may be placed, that he will, as he has done here, command the confidence and good will of all who know him. We are not aware of the motive or call for his viait to Washington, but we believe that the Department has no intention of investigating the conduct of the General's carriage stopped and several of our authorities ugain took leave of him. He hen left them under a solute

On arriving at the Place D'Armes, the General's carriage stopped and several of our authorities again took leave of him. He then left them ander a color of twenty one guas. General Vasa took leave of General Gaings on board the steamer (rrote. The Mexican General then proceeded to the Washington Hotel, where a goodly number of our citizens had invited him to dine. General Vasa appeared quite at home, and showed that he was an much of a genileman in society as he is a brave and meritorious soldier on the field of battle.

had been issued or notified against the prisoner.

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY —A dozen of negroes, slaves and free persons, were arrested day before last by the First Monicipality police, in a building on the Bayon Road, on a charge of meeting there ostensibly bir prayer and preaching. It appears that the prisoners as well as other colored personshave been in the habit of repairing to this place for the purpose of joining it the singing of hymns and contiques, which was followed by actmons, the subject of which were of a most inflamatory character. The prisoners having been found in an assembly contrary to law, were panished either by imprisonment or fine.

SENT Down.—John Rafferty, who was arrested accused of attempting to shoot. Wm. Bartholome, was yesterday fined $20 for carrying concealed weapons. In default of payment, he was sent to the work house for 30 days.

ons. In default of payment, he was sent to the work house for 30 days.

Arrest:—The First Municipality police yesterday arrested Barny Dougherly also James McLaughin, on suspicion of having robbed a Kenucky boatman the night before last. On being searched three hundred and odd dollars were found in his possession, some of it was current while some of it consisted of uncourrent bank notes. All e will be brought up before Recorder Baidwin to-day.

PETTY LARCENY.—Stephen Gaeremon and Ladwig Fagiter, were yesterday arrested for stealing a piece of silk handkercheves, a pair of sciezors and a thimble. They were sent to the work house.

ARRIVATOR VOLUNTERS — Three companies of volunteers arrived yesterday from Nashville, on board of the steemer C. Conner, viz: the Harrison Guards. Capt. R. C. Foster; the Nashville Bluer, Capt. B F. Cheatham; the 10th Legion, Capt. W. W. Blackmore, the whole under the command of Lieut. Col. S. R. Anderson.

A COMMERCIAL ABSUNDITY.—The current quotation as 7, 80 of per cent premium for Endangers on Eugland, which we see in the newspapers, does not mean a premium on the par value of the pound, steriling, but on a fictulous valuation of the pound which prevailed in this country a century ago, when the littles were Colonies. For example, the pound steriling, or gold sovereign, is to-day worth $4.85 in Wall street, which is about the par value as established by set of Congress. A thousand of them weisid be worth $4.850. The current rate of Exchange on England in Wall street is now about mine per cent. premium, an the phrase is, for bills payable in London or Lavieron. But this premium is not on $4.55, the par value of the pound, for or cample. A. B. beyes a bil of exchange for £1,000 on England, from C. D., at nine per cent, premium; be pays $4.844.44 for it. Suppose he gave a thousand sovereigns for it, at current value, there would be a balance in his favor, so that, in reality, the rate of exchange on England, instead of being nine per cent against us, in no our favor, because bills cannot be obtained cleaper than gold. Of course, then, there is outperful this dealing in exchange on England, which is still kept up by our merchants and new part of the pounders.

THE OTTOMAN PORTE. THE OTTOMAN PORTE.

The Turkish vocabulary would be a very convenient thing for the redder of newspapers, and particularly at the present time, when Turkish affairs are brought into special notice, Misny are confused by the various terms which they find in the papers; they read of the Ottoman-porte—the sublime poste—the divan, &c. without guining any very distinct ideas, and they either omit the oriental news as unintelligible, or content themselves with a very superficial acquaintance with it. Some of our readers may perhaps be gratified with an explanation of several of the terms in question, although others will need no such information. We therefore turn handly to several works of reference, and give the following. Sollan is the title of the Turkish despot. It is a word of Arabic origin sagality in gapacy. The power is hereditary, and know no limit except the precepts.
