The New-Orleans Daily Bee.
Wednesday morning, Feb. 10, 1847.
WHIG NOMINATIONS.
FOR STATE SENATE,
JAMES P. FREEST,
FERGUS GARDNER.
FOR REPRESENTATIVE, 3rd Dist.,
RANDELL HUNT.

The Whig party, in the city of New Orleans, has met with several deflections, in a fact, which, though hard to confirm, is believed to be true. That these deflections may be mainly attributed to the falling which prompts us to... (text continues)

As a fact, from the point of a Public view, and generally, that it is a matter of record on the journals of Congress, that every single objection to the relief of the funds for the prosecution of the war, that increases revenue and to the advancement of the public credit, has been introduced, introduced, introduced and passed by Locke vote.
