

actly of the shape represented in the Figure R. The Ring appear'd of a somewhat brighter Light than the Body; and the black lines aa, crossing the Ring, and bb crossing the Body (whether Shadows or not, I dispute not) were plainly visibles whence I could manifestly see, that the Souther most part of the Ring was on this side of the Body, and the Northern part, behind, or covered by the Body:

A Relation Of a sad effect of Thunder and Lightning:

This Relation was written by that worthy Gentleman, Thomas Neale Esquire, (the then High Sheriff of the County of Hampshire, when this disaster hapned) to a Friend of his in London, as follows;

On the 24 of January 166 $\frac{1}{2}$, one Mr. Brooks of Hampshire, going from Winchester towards his house near Andover in very bad Weather, was himself slain by Lightning, and the Horse, he rode on, under him. For about a mile from Winchester he was found with his Face beaten into the ground, one leg in the stirrup, the other in the Horse's mane; his Cloaths all burnt off his back, not a piece as big as a handkerchief left intire, and his hair and all his body singed. With the force, that struck him down, his nose was beaten into his face, and his Chin into his Breast; where was a wound cut almost as low, as to his Navil; and his cloaths being, as aforesaid, torn, the pieces were so scatter'd and consum'd, that not enough to fill the crown of a hat could be found. His gloves were whole, but his hands in them sing'd to the bone. The hip-bone and shoulder of his Horse burn't and bruised; and his saddle torn in little pieces. This was what appear'd to the Coroners inquest, and so is likely to be as near truth, as any is to be had.

Sofar this Letter: Which, if it had come soon enough to the hands of the Publisher, would have been joyned to a like Relation, inserted in the next foregoing Papers (Num. 13.) of an accident hapn'd at a later time. With both which may be compared the Account, formerly published in Latin by the Learned Dr. Charleton, concerning the Boy, that was Thunder-struck struck near Nantwich in Cheſhire; the Title of the Book being, Anatome Pueri de Cælo tacti: ſuch Relations, when truly made, well deſerving to be carefully recorded for farther conſideration.

RELATIONS OF DIVERS CURIOUS VOYAGES, by Monſ. Thevenot; the third Tome, in French. This Book contains chiefly, the Ambaſſie of the Dutch into China, tranſlated out of the Dutch manuſcript: A Geographical deſcription of China, tranſlated out of a Chiſeſe Author by Martinus: And the Account, which the Directors of the Dutch East-India Company made to the States General, touching the ſtate of affairs in the East-Indies, when their late Fleet parted from thence. To touch ſome things of a Geographical and Philoſophical nature, contained therein, we ſhall take notice;

1. How the Kingdom of China is peopled; there being according to the beſt computation (which is there made with ſingular care) above 58 millions of Men, not counting Magiſtrates, Soldiers, Priests, Eunuchs, Women and Children; ſo that it may not be altogether ſtrange, if one ſhould affirm, there were 200 millions of people, of all ſorts, in that Kingdom.

2. That Catay is nothing elſe, but the Six Northern Provinces of China, ſeparated from the other Nine, by the great River KIANG; and that the City Cambalu is the ſame with that of Peking: the Tartars, who carry every three years their Tribute to the Emperor of China, conſtantly calling the ſaid Provinces and City by thoſe names of Catay, and Cambalu.

3. That China is ſo well furniſht with Rivers, and cut Channels, that men may go from the moſt Southern to the moſt Northern part thereof by water, except one daies journey; as the Dutch Ambaſſadours did, embarking at Canton, which is 23 d. 48 m. Northern Latitude, and landing at Peking, which is about 40 d; having only travell'd one daies journey over ſome Mountains of the Province Kiamſi.

4. That the people of China are exceeding induſtrious Huſband.
