G. P. WEISSE, Proprietor,
NO 83 CHARTRES STREET

Terms of the Bee.

DAILY PAPER (one year in advance) ... $12 00
COUNTRY PAPER, semi weekly (one year in advance) ... 5 00
Bills of these papers must give one week's notice, otherwise no paper can be allowed to [illegible]

The New Orleans Bee.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE ..... NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 8, 1852. No. 3729, Vol. 10.—NEW SERIES. / Vol. XXX.—Whole No. 6781.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

One Dollar for every TEN lines in each, wagings on the first insertion, and fifty (50) cents for each subsequent one. No Advertisement inserted for less than one dollar in each instance.

☞ Advertisements inserted at intervals will be charged one dollar for every TEN lines, without reckoning for each insertion.

☞ The privilege of Annual Advertisers is confined to advertisements strictly with the line or its limitations, and to extend to one square every other day.

THE DAILY BEE.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA, AND FIRST MUNICIPALITY COUNCIL.

Monday Morning March 8, 1852.

WHIG NOMINATIONS.

Election Monday, 22d March

FOR MAYOR
A. D. Crossman.

FOR TREASURER
Wm. H. Garland.

FOR COMPTROLLER
O. DeBuys.

FOR SURVEYOR
J. A. Pilie.

FOR STREET COMMISSIONER
James Sutlee.

FOR RECORDERS
1st District, T. H. Simms
2d " T. J. Percy
3d " J. Seixas
4th "

FOR ALDERMEN
1st District, Wm. C. Allen,
D. N. Marks,
W. P. Conway,
James Jackson,
W. C. Tompkins.
2d District, Charles Dickson,
Wm. Evans,
J. Hyde,
P. Probst.
3d District, John Farrow,
R. Gregory.
4th District

THE WHIG NOMINATIONS

The Whig Convention completed its labors on Saturday evening after a long and laborious session, which was however marked by the most unbroken harmony and good feeling. The whole proceedings may be known by reference to the names placed at the head of our columns. The duties confided to the Convention were of a peculiarly delicate and responsible character. Amid the multitude of able and patriotic Whigs whose claims were to be duly searched and considered, it was no easy task to select for each office the best man, and at the same time to avoid as much as possible the imputation of personal preferment. Yet the Convention has in every instance to have chosen men and names which will command the confidence of the Whig party in the strongest degree, and would have been selected, and only by unanimous, enthusiastic and united support to be triumphant.

Most of the nominees are gentlemen to whom we look to the direction of New Orleans, that it is hardly necessary to do more than briefly refer to them. We now announce, with confidence, the full and unanimous support of the Whig party to the Hon. Arthur Bishop for Mayor. A better Whig or truer gentleman, a more honest, frank and open spirit does not breathe. Reared as a mechanic, he has risen by his own exertions and perseverance from the humble walk of life to the Chief Magistracy of the City. Not in the midst of prosperity he has ever waved proud. He knows and sympathizes with the humble, and his heart beats warm and kind in behalf of the laboring classes. As a Democrat, he was a successful and popular, and the action of New Orleans will testify their appreciation of his worth by re-electing him, that the whole city has for some years so ably administered.

Mr. Wiltz, as the late Treasurer, W. H. Garland, is a gentleman of very decided talents and the office he solicits is one which he has filled in the Second Municipality with marked ability. Of his services and devotion to the Whig party, it were superfluous to speak. He is emphatically one of the workingmen of the party, ready to offer his time his means and personal exertions in behalf of the same. Mr. Garland will never dodge, nor turn. We always know where and when to find him. He is in all respects worthy the active and enthusiastic support of the Whigs of Orleans.

Mr. DeBuys, the nominee for Comptroller, has name is a guarantee of his principles and character. If the best Whig stock in Louisiana is entitled to public confidence, he is a most excellent candidate. Mr. DeBuys is at present Comptroller of the First Municipality, who performs the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the community.

Everybody knows Pilie, the Whig nominee for Surveyor, the pride of good fellows, and a most faithful and able officer. In some of the late difficulties between the two Councils, Mr. Pilie had a chance to show his pluck, and he certainly is the Street Commissioner. Mr. Pilie resigns to our newly acquired municipality called Lafayette and now the Fifth District of New Orleans. We understand that he is eminently qualified for the office, a strait-out Whig and a popular gentleman.

These are the candidates who are to be elected by the whole city. We shall speak hereafter of the District nominees. In the meantime, we have only to remark that the election is near at hand that success is important, and especially in a party point of view. The Whig party are strong, we will, in order to secure the triumph of and the Native Americans. At no events the possession of the city secures a powerful advantage to the successful party. If the Whigs think of this and of the locality in which their interests and dissatisfaction lie, they will not be content with a simple vote, but will feel the importance of personal, active, and energetic exertion. We trust that it is not a question of mere belief, but one to be carried upon its own basis.

The public meetings of the Democracy have been a succession of ridiculous and contemptible failures. The last one, which was however marked by a most unbroken harmony and good feeling. The whole proceedings may be known by reference to the names placed at the head of our columns. The duties confided to the Convention were of a peculiarly delicate and responsible character. Amid the multitude of able and patriotic Whigs whose claims were to be duly searched and considered, it was no easy task to select for each office the best man, and at the same time to avoid as much as possible the imputation of personal preferment. Yet the Convention has in every instance to have chosen men and names which will command the confidence of the Whig party in the strongest degree, and would have been selected, and only by unanimous, enthusiastic and united support to be triumphant.

Most of the nominees are gentlemen to whom we look to the direction of New Orleans, that it is hardly necessary to do more than briefly refer to them. We now announce, with confidence, the full and unanimous support of the Whig party to the Hon. Arthur Bishop for Mayor. A better Whig or truer gentleman, a more honest, frank and open spirit does not breathe. Reared as a mechanic, he has risen by his own exertions and perseverance from the humble walk of life to the Chief Magistracy of the City. Not in the midst of prosperity he has ever waved proud. He knows and sympathizes with the humble, and his heart beats warm and kind in behalf of the laboring classes. As a Democrat, he was a successful and popular, and the action of New Orleans will testify their appreciation of his worth by re-electing him, that the whole city has for some years so ably administered.

Mr. Wiltz, as the late Treasurer, W. H. Garland, is a gentleman of very decided talents and the office he solicits is one which he has filled in the Second Municipality with marked ability. Of his services and devotion to the Whig party, it were superfluous to speak. He is emphatically one of the workingmen of the party, ready to offer his time his means and personal exertions in behalf of the same. Mr. Garland will never dodge, nor turn. We always know where and when to find him. He is in all respects worthy the active and enthusiastic support of the Whigs of Orleans.

Mr. DeBuys, the nominee for Comptroller, has name is a guarantee of his principles and character. If the best Whig stock in Louisiana is entitled to public confidence, he is a most excellent candidate. Mr. DeBuys is at present Comptroller of the First Municipality, who performs the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of the community.

Everybody knows Pilie, the Whig nominee for Surveyor, the pride of good fellows, and a most faithful and able officer. In some of the late difficulties between the two Councils, Mr. Pilie had a chance to show his pluck, and he certainly is the Street Commissioner. Mr. Pilie resigns to our newly acquired municipality called Lafayette and now the Fifth District of New Orleans. We understand that he is eminently qualified for the office, a strait-out Whig and a popular gentleman.

These are the candidates who are to be elected by the whole city. We shall speak hereafter of the District nominees. In the meantime, we have only to remark that the election is near at hand that success is important,