POLITICAL MESUSCITATION. PULIFICAL RESUSCITATION.

Virginia of all other States is the most intensely Democratic, yet Virginia has proved the locality for the resurrection and reorganization of the Whig party. We had mourned over the dissolution of this once glorious political association. We had seen, is we thought, its remains decently interred, and we had imagined that its name and fame, its trumphs and its defeats, its dual struggles and its fatal termination would alone survive in the memory of its friends and in the pages of history. But mortals are short-sighted and shallow. The Whig party was not dead; it lay entranced

Mr. Hunter presented the credentials of the re-election of Mr. Tomons.

House.—Mr. English reported a bill establishing many new post routes, with authority to the Postmaster-General to contract for carrying the mails according to the existing laws, on all public roads which have been or shall be constructed, and when in his opinion the public convenience requires it. During the debate, Mr. English, in reply to a question by Mr. Junes, of Tennessees, said for the proposition of the provision for a route from St. Paul to the Pacific, which would prove a curse to the country, at a cost of $800,000 per annum for six years.

Mr. English said there was nothing in this life requiring the mail service to be put on the route from St. Paul to the Pacific.

Mr. Junes moved to table the bill. Negative speaking the proposition of Cuba. But that Congress conditions the service of the sequestion of Cuba. But that Congress of the acquisition of Cuba. But that Charges conditions the service to be put on the route from St. Paul to the Pacific.
