NEWS FROM FRANCE.

MPBy the brig Comet, arrived in 48 days from Havre, we have received Paris papers up to the 13th of November, which gives the details of the destruction of fleet. of France, England and Russia. It appears that the Turks fought with a reso-

The French delighted by the occasion of displaying their courage before their rivals, gave ample proofs of their valour and intropidity.

Paris, 13th November.

A morning paper, announces that a let ter received from the captain of a ship of the line, Baron Manifes, of four days la-ter than the news published by the Moniteur, gives the important intelligence of the Capitulation of Navarine, to the combined forces of France, England and Russia, and that, when that letter was closed. the flags of these three nations were flying over the fortresses of that place.

(From the Gazette de France, Nov. 12.) Extract from a private letter.

Before Navarine, October 22d. The TURCO-EGYPTIAN FLEET 10 NO LONGER IN EXISTANCE, a few hours sufficed for its total distruction.

It is impossible to describe the enthusiam this victory has occasioned, every one renders homage to the gallant de Rigny and his brave officers; every one distinguished himself but it would be unjust not to particularize the Captains of the Milius, Hugon, La Bretonniere and Maurice, who were no less remarked for their skilful manauvres than for their intended There existed a publication according to tween the three Powers, and and ander poet: the Ermine French and Russians have an equal them to respective merit,

The matériet of our squadron has suffered severely; two of our vessels are forced to return to Toulon to repair their masting; La Syrène, in particular, is seriously damaged-her main mast aud mizzen-mast are cut down; the two inwer yards, and that of the main topmass are broken off, and she had six balls at the water's edge.

The Trident is going to Smyrna. where she will rally La Junon, La Fomone, and the other light vessels, to provide for the necessities of the moment, and wait for fresh directions.

The English corvette the Rose has sailed for Smyrpa, from whence couriers will be sent off to Constantinople to announce this serious event. Capt. Reverseaux, of la Pomone, had instructions to afford protection to French sub-

A few days before the action, M. de Righty signified to the French, who were employed on board Ibrahim's fleet, that the mode of warfare recently adopted by the Turks and Ibrahim's violation of his word, hid him under the necessity of summoning them to ouit that service. One of them alone did not consider the circumstances sufficiently grave to obey the summons. It is not yet known whether he persisted.

London, November 10. DESTRUCTION OF THE TURCO-EGYP-TIAN FLEETS.

We have the pleasure to announce ay, a great victory gained by the is navy, together with the French Russian ships of war.
