

NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 31, 1863.

Vol. VII—New Series, Vol. XXXVI—Whole No. 12,795.

Office 73 Chartres street.

NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 31, 1863.

Letters at Auctioneer To-day.
By R. T. Montgomery, at 10th o'clock, on Postoe street No. 3.
Books and manuscript furniture.

By McCarron & Landry, at 11 o'clock, at their store, 12th and Chartres.

By D. M. Murphy, at 11 o'clock, in the Doheny warehouse.

Furniture. We are indebted to Mr. W. H.
Fisher, of the Evening Star, for an early copy of his New York paper.

The "Scrap" of the steamboat Planet has our thanks for Memphis dates of the 22d last, and for other Western papers.

STEAMERS TO ARRIVE.—The next steamer is expected to arrive as follows, according to advertisements:—The Delta Point, late; New York, the 22d; the Creole, the 30th, and the Columbia, the 31st.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.—This academy, situated at the foot of St. Charles street, in the Christian Brotherhood, is closed during the heat in our city. The terms are very moderate. We call the attention of parents to the advertisement in our sister column.

LITERARY AND COMMERCIAL INSTITUTIONS.—
Our readers are referred to Prof. McCarthy's advertisement under the head.

R. T. MASONWELL will sell, this day, Monday, August 31, at 10th o'clock, at No. 13 Mazyne street, the rosewood and white urniture, beding, mirrors, glass and crockery ware, also one piano and case which guaranteed. Dealers should be present.

At another day a general assortment of furniture, &c., &c., by McCarron & Landry, at 11 o'clock, their store.

We would call the attention of bakers and butchers to the sale of one hundred barrels of flour at our warehouse for this day, at 11 o'clock, in the Doheny warehouse, by D. E. Murphy.

News from the North.

ARRIVAL OF THE EVENING STAR
Reported Capture of Fort Sumter.

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

NEW PAGE OF THE POLISH QUESTION.

General Intelligence.

The steamer Ernest Star, which left New York on the 24th, crossed the bar at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and reached her wharf at about 3 P. M. The most important of her news was anticipated, but we find a variety of interesting intelligence in our New York Daily.

From Washington.

(Washington, August 31, 1863.)

TRADE IN THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.

The treasury Department has heard nothing of the copper reported to have been sent by General Grant, nor any modification of his instructions.

PROSECUTION OF WEST VIRGINIA.

Governor Boreman, of West Virginia, stand-ed by Col. C. M. Smith, to oppose the adoption by the Government of the adoption of measures to subdue the loyal citizens of the new State to project themselves against rebels.

He has received a copy of the new order, and all the arms required have been given to him.

THE LOYAL GOVERNMENT.

Our friends are making arrangements to call the Government of the State of Virginia into existence, the seat to be at Alexandrina. With this view they have called a convention, probably in September, to be held in the remaining portion of the State, the remainder of which is now under the control of the rebels.

The news is now known as the "State of the Confederacy," and the name of the rebel chief, Gen. Robert E. Lee, is now used in the South.

THE ELECTION IN MAINE.

Latterly the election in Maine showed that the Federal bids fair to be close, and urged the sending of a naval force with the object of securing the public interest.

It is believed that the result will largely influence the elections in other States.

Gen. Dix has been appointed to be the military agent for the administration.

In the later event General Banks is confidently expected to be called to the head of the army.

TOTAL AFFAIRS.

The late orders of the Post Office Department for sending to the dead letter office, fiscal mail not purely fiscal, and those who correspond with the different departments have assumed that their communications are safe, and that they may be sent by the post office.

Heretical private persons who write to Government offices upon business matters must pay postage.

NOTES OF MORSE.

The widow Morse, with part of his gang, on Sunday night, encamped two and a half miles from the fortifications of the city. On Monday afternoon he stopped a funeral procession on its way from Le Havre to the church, and, after shooting the priest, and amazing himself by taking observations of our new coastal fortifications.

REBEL CATALYST RAID EXPLAINED.

Advises from the army to dictate that the imperialists were preparing that the rebels are preparing for a cavalry movement, and that they are to raid us. We are not aware, they will find it.

REBEL COMPANIES HAVE BEEN FAR BEGAN ORGANIZED AND TRANSFERRED INTO THE INVALID CORPS, AND HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO GUARISON AND OTHER DUTIES, NOT REQUIRING GREAT EXPENSE.

This is proving itself a valuable addition to the service.

SOUTHERN VIEWS ABOUT CHARLESTON.

The steamer Cambria, August 31, 1863.—We look for the worst at Charleston. It will never be taken as it stands, however. It would be easily captured by a naval force.

We had no news from that quarter. The journals of the city did not get the best face on the matter from sources of particular, but we had as well be prepared for the worst.

From the "Globe," Philadelphia, August 31.

We think the "Chattanooga" rebels are nearly disposed of, and that the rebels are not the number of superior numbers and heavier ordnance; but that the numbers are not there yet, and the hopes of the rebels are not yet over.

The rebels are holding the beginning of the steps, and so has the strength of the position.

The "Chattanooga" rebels don't believe that we are prepared for the worst, and we shall not be able to hold it.

Escape of Michel Grassemans from Fort Warren to their Recipients.

Persecution of Michel Grassemans at Fort Warren, Aug. 31.—The revenue cutter J. C. Ward, which had been on a coast watching the yacht and escaped pirates, was captured by the rebels.

The rebels took the cutter, and made her afloat, and sent her to the harbor.

He afterwards visited Falmouth, and amazing himself by taking observations of our new coastal fortifications.

THE GOLD MARKET.

The New York Commercial Advertiser, of the 22d says:

"The market for gold has ruled rather steady since the 1st of July, and has been on a slight upward movement, ranging between $1250 and $1300 per mille, excepting a slight dip in the middle of the month.

The market for silver has been more or less steady, and has ranged between $1.00 and $1.05 per ounce.

The market for copper has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for lead has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for zinc has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.

The market for tin has been
more or less steady, and has ranged
between $1.00 and $1.05 per pound.