METHOD OF LEARNING TO READ IN 20 LESSONS

MR. VANNIER, late Professor, formerly Engineer on the Bergerac and Orsay Canal, author of the much admired abridged method to teach READING French in 20 Lessons, respectfully informs the old and new residents of this city, that he has opened a Reading Room at No. 56 Gravier street, which will be open every day, from 8 o'clock in the morning to 10 at night, at 120 Toulouse street, between Bourbon and Dauphine.

The Professor will apply the same abreviated method of instruction at home, according to the intelligence of persons, to nursery, orphan asylum, academic, geometry, algebra, linear drawing, mensuration, book keeping, and accounts of old books. may 18 1mdaw

LADIES SCHOOL.

MADAME GRANET, gratefully remembering the liberal patronage bestowed upon her, when she first came to this country, five years ago, has again and permanently taken up her residence in New Orleans where she has opened a School for the Education of YOUNG LADIES. She hopes that her long experience, her constant attention, and entire devotion to her duties will ensure to her a return of that same patronage.

Madame Granet will be assisted by her daughter for Music and Drawing, while Mr. Granet will superintend all the classes and teach himself the higher ones.

The English Department will be entrusted to the care of Mrs. Lord.

The School is now open and ready to admit pupils.

School hours from 8 1/2 to 3 o'clock, except Saturdays.

Madame Granet admits day boarders and day Scholars—few boarders may also be accommodated.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR or the greatest ornament belonging to the human frame. How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance and prematurely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to resort at being unprepared, and sometimes even to shun society to avoid the taunts and sneers of other acquaintances; the remainder of their lives are consequently spent in retirement. In short, even the loss of property fills the generous thinking youth with less anxiety and regret than the loss of his hair. To avert all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stands before the public as the super-excellent and only article that
