THE DAILY BEE. TUESDAY MOENING, PEBRUARY

One among the manifold evidences of the coar of public virtue and patriotism is the ppearance in both branches of the Congressional areas of a set of half-bred individuals, the have the fercoious instincts of the brave net the inherent plack to render the argument is little eiter than personal viture-ration; their forstory is the mere outpuring of vulgarity and insolence. The halls of Con-gress begin to swarm with this ignoble brood of spurious statemen. They are getting to be as common now-adays as they were for-

be as common now-a-days as they were formeriy rare.

Nothing can be more odious in a grave legislative body, assembled to consult upon the highest interests of the aution, than the periodical display of an overbearing temper, a low and writched tiste, and a decided propensity to scurrility and abuse. We take it that those whose manners and bearing smack more of the stables than the saloon are better fitted for the scolety of grooms than of gentlemen. Congressmen of this stamp are as much out of place in Washington as a bull in a china shop, or a bear in a dower garden. Better for themselves, and far better for the country, had they remained at home, where their gasconnde and vulgarity would scarcely have passed beyond the ken of their immediate circle, instead of attracting as they now do the attestion of the entire of their immediate circle, instead of attract-ing as they now do the attention of the entire public, and humiliating the pride of every right thinking American. Execrable, however, as are the miserable personal quarrels and against of certain would be fire-sters and swashbucklers, what resders them irredeemably contempt b'e, is the absolute certainty that they alterminate in the most bloodless and innocenevery direction. Three old women and ndry little girls manifest a thrilling intertion the anticipated combat. By and-by mess tanother dispatch, relieving our insely excited feelings by declaring that idifficulty has been amicably settled. This the invariable course, no matter what y have been the prevocation. Perhaps E. may have kicked Mr. M., or Mr., bare voided his rhoun in the face of ave voided his rheum in the face of It is all Pickwickian—to be arranged may nave the property of a service of a correspondence more or less elaborate, in proportion to the presumed importance of the affair. Can any thing be more despicable than such a mixture of bravado and poitroonery? We have no earthly desire to see Congressmen perforating each other with pistol bullets or the contraction. rapiers. We fancy that in ninety-nine case ut of a hundred personal attacks are totall out of a hundred personal actes are output unnecessary to discussion, and for the most part alike improper and indecent. Circum-stances occasionally arise where a high-minded and honorable man is forced into a hostile meeting. They are very rars, howhostile meeting. They are very rars, however, and never occur save in periods of very high political sociement. But this itching for quarrels which are sure to end in amoke: this low-born proclivity to the use of a Bilingegate dialect; this constant practice of bespattering one another with the foulset and fithlest abuse—and then incontinently backing out, retracting, or at all events dodging a practical issue, presents a most diagraceful and diagnating spectacls. Our Congressional sitercations constitute a just theme for the bitterest sarcasm of foreigners. No wonder they believe that we must be a semi-barbarous people when this is the habitual style of legislative deliberation. No wonder, too, that at home gentlemen are beginning to eschew national politics as they would a pest-bouse, and that constituences find it difficult to induce educated, able and enlightened men to become becoming the post of honor.

The sale of that portion of the McDonoghestate reverting to the city of New Orleans and situated within the limits of the First District, took place yesterday, and produce a most satisfactory result. For some time previous to the sale, the Oily Hotel, at the corner of Common and Camp streets, was througed with annous spectators, among whom even some ladies had contried to find standing room. At 12 o'clock the sale began, and the steatorian voice of our friend G. ps. Fasser was in constant requisition for four mortal hours. The bidding was animated, and the prices which were realized exceeded expectation. The gross amount of the sale was $33,725. This is an excellent augury for the sale of the property in the Second District, which will be made on the 23d inst.

The property in the First District belonging to the city of Baltimore will be likewise adjudicated at aucties by N. Viskir, on the 31 March best.

Tux Caswra.—We question greatly whether the census recently ordered to be taken by the City Council will prove a whit more accurate and complete than previous attempts at the matter. Whether the time allowed is too short, or the parties engaged in the work are idle and fatibless, we know that in many families the census taker has not made his appearance. A highly respectable gentleman informit us that he took the paine to fill up the blanks in a printed form he had received, and left it at his house, but the official employed in making the enumeration never called, so that in a single dwelling there is an emission of masters names.
