OF KENTUCKY,
the decision of a Satisfial Convention attempt. He condemns the system in too.

These recorded opinions of the senator from South Caroima, reoder his position unequivocal on this point at least. How long it will continue so, we leave the decision of those who have for se many years beheld and wondered at his multitudinous and inexidence political gyrations.

We republish the subjoined patriotic effusion from yesterday's Bulletin, with feelings of great gratification. While we cannot say that we have long thought Gen. Harnson the most available candidate of the whigs, we have very hitle doubt that with proper exection and unanimity he may be triumphantly elected. The Bulletia deserves the highest commendation for boility and spenily espousing the cause of the old hero of Tippercanoe. We trust that in the ensuing canvasite in indicence of that journal will not be withhelf in fertifying Gen. Hassison's claims and in presenting them in their proper light before the people. It behoves every whig throughout the country to requirece in the fast of the convertion. By the decision of that angust assembly, the party had pledged themselves to abide. To the country whig pross of Louisia'rs, we made the country to regime to the country to regime to the country to regime to a bide. The form of the were saved. The until first of the convertion. By the decision of that angust assembly, the party had pledged themselves to abide. The three country whig press of Louisia'rs, we made the country to regime to the country whig press of Louisia'rs, we made the country to a feet of the country whig press of Louisia'rs, we made the country to affect the country to regime to the country to regime to the falses but were saved with great exertion. The country of the country to regime to the country to regime on fire accural times but were saved with great exer-tion.

Our citizens turned out to a man, and addressed themselves to the flames like men. Nothing buttesti-interied and undismayed vigor has saved what is left of our antofrunate city. They were, beautiful that of our antofrunate city. They were, beautiful water. We cannot, in this havy moment, state, with any trabable correctness, the amount of property lost, but is very great. Our particular friends, Hoff & Wright, are perhaps the greatest losers. Out of even houses they have one left. Merrit Jennings & Go, are sise, heavy losers. Amonget other things we are extremely sorry to add that they lost $10.000. in cash. In lives were lost, and no one seriously in irred that we have heard of. 1840.

To the country whig press of Louisians we would particularly appeal. We are confident they will not hesitate in discarding their personal predilections for Mr. Chay, when the voice of the convention, after gallantly for the veteran soldier and stateaman. There galianty for the veteran soldier and statesman. There is searcely a doubt that, if the press is as earnest and ardent in its advocacy of Hasmans as it has hith ette been urging the claims of Mr. Chay, Lousiana will retain her present noble position to the front rank of the white states and will industries present in the control of the white states and will industries present in the formal states and will industries present in the control of the white states and will industries. CHERYBLE BROTHERS.

This firm, which has been so worthly portrayed be the gifted author of "Nicholas Nickleby," is and thave ceally existed, but under another name—and no to have been merely the off-pring of a fertile imagination. WHIG CANDIDATE.

It will be seen from our Washington Correspondence, under date of the 8th instant, that General WHIG Larrison, is chosen the whig candidate for the causing Presidential canvans. The selection is a wire one, and may be halted as an omen asspicious to the cause. We have long thought that the best chance of uncease for the party, was to concentrate upon General Harrison. Now that the course has been adopted, we feel gently encouraged, and hepera seems of the count upon the triumph of the [whigs in 1840, as certain. Old Tippecance will run well. An acquaint ance with his character—as a plain, straight up andown republican of the old school—with his qualities as a seldier, civilian and statesans—and with his nutritorious and arduous swrices rendered to the countr—in the field of battle—in the council—and in theen interest in all that is wanting to make him the most popular man in the United States, as a candidate for the highest office within the gift of the people.
