EUROPE AND AMERICA.

A London letter writer, of course, some [illegible] the recent coup d'état of Louis Napoleon, states that although Europe appears to be perfectly quiet, trouble is daily anticipated in France, and revolutionary movements are threatened in other countries. The crowned heads of Europe appear to be making active preparations for a long and severe political season. Austria and Prussia are endeavoring [illegible] large loans, whilst the Czar of Russia is pushing the completion of railways, and the manufacture of carriages for the conveyance of the troops. Every movement looks ominous [illegible] people of us, it is believed, are about to be enacted. The London letter thus [illegible]

[illegible] before, will announce the tragedy. [illegible] will follow, and the people of the different States opposing the Germanic Confederation [illegible] to watch their opportunity. It is [illegible] that a conspiracy exists in Russia, and [illegible] has been knotted in France, which [illegible] to affect when and where it will be quenched. Happily America cannot be disturbed by any [illegible] excited events, although her peaceful [illegible] movements will suffer somewhat. The [illegible] People will be the universal watchword of the principal of strife will undoubtedly [illegible] for the next ——— but it will probably be the last great struggle of people for independence [illegible] successful, because the means and [illegible] by which the work will be carried on. Liberation [illegible] Austria has hastened the day, [illegible] the French Republic is certain to [illegible] Europe in two or three months [illegible] proceed to Belgium, from [illegible] watch the course of events in [illegible] Germany and France. He will [illegible] Europe will exercise [illegible] influence upon the cause of liberty.

[illegible] letter before us a prophecy which has [illegible] more speedily than the writer [illegible] anticipated. France has certainly made [illegible] in the peaceful course of events [illegible] The object of the President to [illegible] Constitution, which will take place [illegible] No. 1852, is [illegible] of the people, [illegible] power of the Republic, and [illegible] and wise measure of ancient [illegible] Napoleon, [illegible] from most [illegible] of the Republic, and [illegible] Louis Napoleon [illegible] Constitution [illegible] Republic [illegible] Napoleon [illegible] Republic [illegible] Napoleon [illegible] Republic [illegible] Napoleon
