Location

Hilton Buenavista Toledo is conveniently located in the residential area of Buenavista, built around the restored 16th Century Palace which gave name to the neighborhood. Like a balcony overlooking the Tajo river, it only takes 5 minutes by shuttle to get to the ancient district, declared World Heritage by UNESCO.

Madrid City Center can be easily reached by AVE (High Speed Train) in 25 minutes, finding its' main museums: the Prado, the Thyssen and the Reina Sofia; within walking distance from the Train Station (Atocha).

The International Madrid Barajas Airport is the nearest, at an hour distance by the AP-41 or the A-42 highway. Hilton Buenavista Toledo offers its own transfers at special rates.

History

Toledo is also known as the "Three-culture city", where Arabs, Jews, and Christians got along together respecting each other's religious beliefs. Since its' origin, back in the 16th century, the Palace of Buenavista has always held a prominent role in the gathering of cultural, religious, and political authorities in the former capital of the empire. Its gardens have been named after "El Greco", the painter, who took part in its original design. The fountains, the façade, as well as its private paintings museum, have been exquisitely restored, giving one more reason to visit Toledo.

In the city

Toledo offers an important historic and artistic environment that has been declared World Heritage site by the UNESCO. It is known as "Three Culture City" since the period when Jews, Arabs and Christians co-existed in harmony. As a testimony of that time, there are innumerable convents, synagogues, mosques, churches and museums. Discover the legends of Toledo during the day or at night in guided visits to the ancient district. In the 16th century, Carlos V chose Toledo for the Court of his Empire (until it was moved to Madrid in 1563) building the Alcázar. This monument, together with the Cathedral, The Synagogue "del Tránsito", the museum of El Greco or his most famous painting located in the Santo Tomé Church, are part of the worth-visiting attractions:

- Cathedral
- Synagogue Sinagoga del Tránsito
- San Juan de los Reyes Church
- El Greco Museum
- Santa Cruz Museum
- Alcázar
