Making allowance for the unfavorable signs of the weather, during the whole of Sinday afternoon, and the rain which fell for about an hour, the Catholic demonstration on Sinday, to celebrate the wenty-fifth anniversary of the elevation of His Holiness. Plus the Ninth, the Papacy, was one of the most imposing ever witnessed in this city, of whatever kind, political or religious. It is true that, in the long procession which moved through the streets, little was exhibited in the way of art to attract public attention, but the impressiveness the display was in the great numbers the display was in the display was in the display was in the great numbers that celebration. Artistic decoration might have chemically spectacular effect.

A. M. FORTIER. The annual examination of the public schools commenced yesterday, those in the Sixth District being chosen to begin with.

The dwelling of Mr. S. Demott, corner of St. Charles and Delord streets, was the death of this distinguished citizen has elicited a general expression of series all over the country, and from his political adversaries as well as his political friends. Mr. Vallandigham was a gallant foe and always met his enemy in chivalands and his political adversaries as well as his political friends. Mr. Vallandigham was a gallant foe and always met his enemy in chivalance for his peculiar views, we cannot refuse to accord to him a moral courage in advecting his opinions, which is by no means common in these times.

Mr. Vallandigham has been a leader in Ohio politics for the last twenty years, and obtained the confidence of the people of that State to an extent possessed by few. He was twice elected to Congress, and obtained the confidence of the people and the confidence of the pople in the fights and ilbertics of the poople. A certemporary familiar with the man:

"Mr. Vallandigham was bold, energetic, self-reliant, and persevering.
