THE CITY.

We have the sale increased in our city—
Throughout the whole if yeneristing great excitement continued to prevail, but the Mayor and civil authorities took such wise precastions that when my lit set in no attempt was made to disturb the lithic tranqu lity. The proclamation of the chief magistrate which was published in the evening papers and posted up in the mat frequented potions of the city, had the goo! effect of causing a number of our most respecied citizens to come firward and enrol themal live a sea special pointee for the protection of his and property. We record it with much piracure and as affording a groper rebuke to the malicious reports that have been circulated of the "Cuban Emigrana" tendered their vervices to the Mayor as special constables. The of r was promptly accepted and this gallant sorps remained on duty the greater portion of the night.

In this way the police force of the Second Minicipality was with the aid of many citizens a tually trebled, and as every preparation had been made to arm and equip all the voluncers, the array was a most formidable one. Captain Forno had scouts and detachments out all the evening, and his whole command was in excitizens to command the process of the sum of people on foot and in lorseback, while from birk Elena, Capt. Canceas, files of the British packer, (Buenos Ayres) with dates to June 14, have been received.

We have, by this arrival, also advices from Montevideo down to the 7th of the same in on.

The intelligence from Buenos Ayres is not of marked unpritance. Great complaints hid been making of drought, but, before the Elena sailed, there had been several refreshing rains. The crops generally were looking well.

The health of the country was excellent. There seems to have been a general lull in political affirs, with a gradual but decidedly downward tendency in the money market.

Our latest accounts, direct from Entre-Rios, represent that province as perfectly quiet, with not indication whatever of hostile movements. The following from the Commercia del Plats of Jane 7th, is a summary of official in Monteviev den.

remain of their war-a Republic of Monarchy as the case might be—with Grahamtown for a capital.

Discoveries have been made of traitors among the Hottentots, apparently invorable to the English. Several expeditions have been aent into the cenemy's country, but with intitle-effect thus far, as but few rebeis have been kiffed or captured. At the same time, the come continued to seal large numbers of cattle, and diss to bern and destroy.

At Theopolis (one of the oldest Missionary Stations) the Hottentots had bernied all the Missionary building, and had sho mirrdered, in cold blood, a number of Fingees. As the rebeis ritreated to join their camp in the mountains, parties of Europeans assembled, but were mable to cut off their retreat. A number of lives were lost of natives riendly to the Paglish.

The general opin on is that the Caffre power is as yet unbroken.

Bosiness of every kind was in aleplorable state, owing to the continuation of the war.

It appears that the latter called at the house of Peter Moore and insisted upon saying there, to which Moore objected and pushed him ost. Hall then attacked Moore, ripping open his abdumen withla knile, and also cutting pewerslarteries, which caused his death in a few hours. Hall has been arrested and bound over. There are reports of other provocations by Moore, whose character is not good, but they do not appear in the coroner's verdict.
