MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 20.

THE PROGRESS OF TYRANNY.

The trial of Count MONTALEMBERT for the publication of a libelous and seditious article against the French government has resulted in his conviction, and condemnation in a fine of 3000 francs and six months' imprisonment. This is one of the most arbitrary and oppressive acts of which the Emperor LOUIS NAPOLEON has yet been guilty. The offense committed by the Count was the insertion in the Constitutionnel of an article praising the British form of government, and censuring a system of absolutism. We have read the article which formed the ground of his prosecution, and a more innocent and harmless production it would be difficult to conceive. In no other enlightened country than France would the author of such an article be considered as having committed a misdemeanor, or be subjected to a criminal procedure.

The result of this trial has created a profound sensation everywhere, but public opinion in France is of course manifested with extreme caution in consequence of the rigorous measures of repression adopted by the government. The press is completely hampered, and dares not indulge in the slightest comment, and the people themselves can only venture to speak of the event with bated breath, in cautious accents, and with a prudent regard to the presence of spies and eavesdroppers. Hence we can do little more than guess at public sentiment in France. In England, however, there are no restraints upon the liberty of speech, or the press, and the language of the English journals is not tempered by any considerations of the friendship and alliance existing between the two governments. We subjoin a sample or two in evidence of the manner in which an unshackled press can speak:

The worst feature about the prosecution was its secrecy. Ministerial journals say that the government was in the wrong; reporters were excluded, and no publication of the proceedings permitted. It is, however, a sweeping pace, and the facts proved are sure to get out, and acquire, in their passage from mouth to mouth, that degree of exaggeration which will render the report a hundred times more injurious than a faithful one. In reference to publicity, however, the Emperor is growing more liberal every day. Hitherto, he paid some deference to the claims of religion, but now he has promoted and ennobled two of the most loyal bishops, including the Univers and other Catholic clerical journals. The Montara case must not be forgotten, nor the assault Mr. Sere addressed while Rome was burning. The French Court held its midnight sports in the woods of Compiegne, and afterwards entertained in a manner as difficult as delicate a subject even at the expense of dignity and freedom; but they will not, nevertheless, sink in every second redemption, forever tolerate that cold, systematic and grinding oppression which, in exchange for outward prosperity, robs the people on the hand, and wages war on both thought and heart, but which, on the consequence shapes the vigilance of the most hardened race.

Editor Bonjour, Dr. Back still continues to exhibit the worst fears of this science at Odd Fellows Hall. The cures of the most extraordinary cases are performed with an entirely new system of experiments. Again we advise the citizens to attend Dr. Back's course, and witness for themselves the astounding and mysterious phenomena he elects. As for the truth of these things, and the perfect truth and sincerity of Dr. Back, no one can entertain a doubt who beholds large numbers of well known, respectable gentlemen submitting themselves to the experiments, and influenced in the very highest manifestations. We assure our readers that there is no charlatanism or humbuggery or unwholesome fun and amusement from these experiments.

CHAMPAGNE HAVANA CIGARS.—The lovers of the weed are requested to peruse the advertisement of H. Rodriguez, No. 103 Gravier street, near St. Charles. Mr. Rodriguez has received an assortment of magnificent brands of cigars such as Regalia, Cabanas, Esquisita, Tres Hermanos, Amateurs, all of which are Champagne. Amateurs will likewise find at his store a lot of the celebrated La Perfection brand, put up in fancy boxes of three each, and suitable for Christmas and New Years gifts. Having, through the kindness of Mr. Rodriguez, been enabled to test these delicious cigars, we can conscientiously commend them as among the finest we have ever smoked.

NEW GOODS FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—Look at the advertisement of Theodor Danziger, Nos. 238 and 230 Royal street, with a branch store No. 125 Canal. They are now opening their new goods for the Christmas holidays, comprising a vast variety of tasteful and beautiful articles, which, as usual, are offered for sale at remarkably low prices.

IMPORTANT TO BAR-KEEPERS AND COUNTRY MERCHANTS.—The celebrated smoke-consuming patent lamp sold by Comeris, No. 157 Poydras street, is entitled to the prompt and earnest attention of bar-keepers, both in the city and from the country, giving a light equal in brilliancy to gas, burning extant can be used so economically—the purest sperm, grease, lard, or lard being sufficient to feed it.

RISING SCHOOL.—The beautiful and healthy exercise of riding is taught with great efficiency by Mr. E. Debut, at his establishment, No. 139 Basin street, between Perdido and Poydras. Ladies and gentlemen desirous of acquiring this accomplishment would do well to apply to Mr. Debut, who is perfectly competent to give all necessary instructions.

DUBREAK'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, 106 CANAL STREET, corner Bourbon, where will be opened, on the 3d January, the Commercial, Mathematical, and Spanish classes. Students desirous of entering these classes are referred to the old established institution.

Statistics disclose the unpleasant fact to those intending to cross the Atlantic, that there is one chance out of eighty of their never living to get to the other side. For the last four years about 100,000 persons have made the trip—all told. In that time three transatlantic steamers have been lost, with 1200 lives. For the past twenty years the average loss of life is about one in a hundred.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The stockholders of the Southern Pacific Railroad are reminded that a meeting of all persons interested in the progress of this enterprise will take place at Armory Hall this day, at 12 o'clock. Dr. Fowlkes, the President of the company, has arrived in the city, and will be present at the convention. Telegraphic dispatches have been received announcing that stockholders are on their way from Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, and other States, so that there is a prospect of a very full attendance.

It is important that every stockholder should give his personal attendance at the convention, as the fullest and most satisfactory information will be presented respecting the progress of the work, the indebtedness of the company, the mode in which these obligations are proposed to be extinguished, the assets they possess, the nature of the compromise recently effected, and other matters bearing upon the prospects and success of the road. It is, therefore, the duty of every citizen who has contributed by his subscription towards the construction of a highway to the Pacific, to avail himself of this opportunity, that he may ascertain precisely what has been accomplished, and what is contemplated for the future. We are requested to state that the President of the company, and the Vice-President, Col. C. S. Todd, are desirous of seeing the stockholders of this city, and are ready and willing to offer explanations and respond to all inquiries. Col. Todd may be found at all times at Armory Hall, and will be happy to attend to all who will give him a call.

MR. MORPHY IN PARIS.—A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Paris under date of November 21, says:

Mr. Morphy is not going home so soon as announced in the New York journals. He will spend the winter in Paris. Professor Anderssen, of Breslau, will arrive here from the 20th to the 24th of December, and then the great match between him and Morphy will take place. Nothing has been heard from M. Heydebrand, the last present Mr. Morphy has from other great match in anticipation but that with the distinguished Prussian professor. As both the gentlemen in this case are professional players, and the facts proved are sure to get out, and acquire, in their passage from mouth to mouth, that degree of exaggeration which will render the report a hundred times more injurious than a faithful one, in reference to publicity, however, the Emperor is growing more liberal every day. Hitherto, he paid some deference to the claims of religion, but now he has promoted and ennobled two of the most loyal bishops, including the Univers and other Catholic clerical journals. The Montara case must not be forgotten, nor the assault Mr. Sere addressed while Rome was burning. The French Court held its midnight sports in the woods of Compiegne, and afterwards entertained in a manner as difficult as delicate a subject even at the expense of dignity and freedom; but they will not, nevertheless, sink in every second redemption, forever tolerate that cold, systematic and grinding oppression which, in exchange for outward prosperity, robs the people on the hand, and wages war on both thought and heart, but which, on the consequence shapes the vigilance of the most hardened race.

TELEGRAPHIC.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION.—Four Persons Killed. St. Louis, December 18.—The steam boiler of Belcher's sugar refinery, in this city, exploded this morning, shattering the portion of the building in which the boiler was situated, killing four men and severely injuring several others.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.—Congressional Sparring School—Second Round—Brickbats and Canes—An M. C. Knocked into the Gutter.—Washington, December 18.—Another disgraceful sparring match came off to-day, on the avenue, between two members of Congress.

English, of Indiana, of the English bill notoriety, happening to meet Montgomery, of Pennsylvania, very cordially extended his hand, saying, "how are you, Mr. Montgomery?"

Montgomery withheld his hand, and turned aside, saying, "I don't speak to puppies," whereupon English struck Montgomery a severe blow over the head with his cane, breaking the cane and knocking Montgomery into the gutter.

Montgomery, on rising, hurled a brickbat at English, striking him on the foot, but producing no injury.

English says he was wholly unarmed, was entirely unaware of the existence of any ill feeling on the part of Montgomery, and unconscious of any cause for such a state of feeling.

THE ALBION INVALIDATION.—Philadelphia, December 18.—Judge Grier, on the case of Allibone and Newhall, charged with a conspiracy to defraud the creditors of the Bank of Pennsylvania, has rendered a verdict that the defendants are not guilty.

The Attorney for the Commonwealth acknowledged that the evidence did not sustain the prosecution.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, December 13.—In the Senate nothing important was transacted during the morning hours.

Mr. Seward moved to dispense with the rule requiring a ballot for the committees, and take a viva voce vote. The motion prevailed being read, a vote was taken as to whether the list be acceptable to the Senate or not, resulting as follows:

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Broderick, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Dixon, Doolittle, Fessenden, Foot, Hale, Harlan, Houston, King, Seward, Simmons, Turnbull, Wade, Wilson—19.

YEAS—31. Absent—Messrs. Crittenden, Douglas, Fitzpatrick, Houston, Johnson, of Arkansas, Pugh, Sumner, Thompson, of Kentucky, Toombs, Yulee, Mallory.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs is unchanged, Senator Hunter being chairman. On Finance, Mr. Hammond is substituted for Mr. Bright. On Commerce, Mr. Chandler is substituted for Mr. Toombs. On Military Affairs, Mr. Fessenden is substituted for Mr. Iverson. On Naval Affairs, Mr. Hammond is substituted for Mr. Evans. On Judiciary, Mr. Clingman for Mr. Toombs. On Post Offices, Messrs. Johnson, of Tennessee, Fitch and Thompson. On Public Lands, Mr. Chandler for Mr. Broderick. On Private Lands Claims, Messrs. Wade for Bright, Messrs. Briggs and Kennedy. On Indian Affairs, Mr. Rice for Mr. Reid. On Pensions, unchanged. On Revolutionary Claims, Mr. Shields in chairman instead of Mr. Evans, and Mr. Chandler is substituted for Mr. Wilson. On Claims, Mr. Ward for Mr. Polk. On the Pacific Railroad, Messrs. Wade and Yulee for Messrs. Bigler and Chandler. On Patents, Messrs. Johnson, of N. J., and Toombs for Messrs. Dixon and Bell. On Public Buildings, Mr. Kennedy for Mr. Bayard.

Committee on Territories.—Mr. Green as chairman in place of Mr. Douglas, and the present members are Messrs. Douglas, Sebastian, Jones, Latham and Wade.

On Contingent Expenses.—Chairman, Mr. Wright, Messrs. Johnson, of Tennessee, and Dixon.

On Printing—Mr. Fitch is chairman, and Messrs. Cameron and Clingman members, but as Mr. Clingman declines, the Vice-President will appoint another.

The Committee on Engrossed Bills and on Enrolled Bills are unchanged.

On Revolutionary Claims—Mr. Evans declines and is substituted for Mr. Hunter.

Mr. Clingman addressed the Senate on the question of the message relating to the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. While we are talking about the Monroe doctrine Great Britain has applied the Monroe doctrine to ourselves. The message has been received with a howl at the Clayton-Bulwer treaty must be abrogated, and thus liberate the hands of this government.

The Senate Pacific Railroad bill was then called up by a vote of 30 against 18, and Mr. Gwin took the floor.

Mr. Clingman, before concluding his remarks, offered a resolution that the President be requested, if not incompatible with the public interests, to report to the Senate all information in his possession with respect to the formation or preservation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

Mr. Mason moved that the further consideration of the measure be postponed till to-morrow.

The Senate then met into executive session.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVE.—The House resumed the consideration of the Watrous impeachment case.

Mr. J. Cochrane argued from the evidence to show the complicity of Judge Watrous in land speculations, and that the House should make inquest and enquire into the conduct with the view of taking further proceedings.

Mr. Clay offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the President, if not inconsistent with the public interest, to communicate to the House all the information in the possession of the Government, and not now into his possession, regarding the recent reported boarding by British naval officers of American vessels in the Gulf of Mexico.

Mr. Taylor, of Louisiana, contended that it was the duty of the House to accuse Judge Watrous of high crimes and misdemeanors, and call on the Senate for his trial.

Mr. Maynard, of Tennessee, delivered his views on the other side of the question, insisting that there was nothing whatever to justify such proceedings.

Mr. Adrain addressed the House in favor of sending the subject to the Senate, after which the House adjourned.

Interesting Facts Concerning the Ocean.

The popular notion which had so long prevailed, that the Atlantic Ocean was many feet higher than the Pacific at the Isthmus of Panama, has been formally exploded. It has been conclusively ascertained, after a series of tidal observations carried on with the utmost scientific care, at Panama and Aspinwall Bay, and connected by acurate levels along the line of railroad, that the mean height of the two oceans is exactly the same; although, owing to the difference in the rise of tide of both places, there are, of course, times when one of the oceans is higher or lower than the other; but their mean level, that is to say, their height at half-tide, is now proved to be precisely the same.

A peculiar phenomenon is the deceptive appearance of the waves. If we observe the waves continually approaching the shore, we must be convinced that this apparent motion is not one in which the water has any share; for, were it so, the waters of the sea would soon be heaped upon the shores, and would inundate the adjacent country. But, so far from the waters partaking of the apparent motion of the waves in approaching the shore, this motion of the waves continues, even when the waters are retiring. If we observe a flat strand when the tide is ebbing, we shall still find the waves moving toward the shore.

The effect of a gale descends to a comparatively small distance below the surface, the bottom being probably tranquil at the depth of two hundred or three hundred feet; were it not so, the water would be turbid, and shellfish would be destroyed. Any thing that diminishes the friction of the wind smoothes the surface of the sea—for example, oil, or a small stream of pancake, when seen from a swell. When the air is quiet, its attraction for water is diminished, and consequently, so is the friction.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, December 13.—The delegate from Utah has received from Governor Cumming and other federal officials of that Territory certificates that the public library and records are in good preservation, which statement is contrary to the late newspaper reports so often repeated.

The President has called upon Congress to extend to Siam the provision of the act of 1848, now in operation in China and Turkey, conferring on American Ministers and Consuls certain judicial powers to be exercised in cases where our countrymen are involved.—The treaty with Siam renders such enactment necessary.

LORD NAPIER'S REMOVAL CONFIRMED.—Washington, December 13.—The reporter of the Associated Press is enabled to state with confidence that Lord Napier has been transferred to a mission at the Hague. He will not leave Washington until the arrival of his successor—in two weeks. This change involves no imputation on Lord Napier's conduct, nor any alteration of policy on the part of Her Majesty's government.

Crime and its Consequences.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser narrates at length the criminal career of Harlow Case. Fourteen years ago, says that paper, he was an assistant postmaster under Mr. Dorsheimer, and was for many years entrusted with the more important duties of the office. Meanwhile, he was the subject of the most fanatical devotion by one of the Baptist churches, upright in every walk of life, married, and the father of a family, he seemed to be as firm in the straightforward path as a line. Suddenly, other. Removing to Sandusky, Ohio, he received the appointment of collector of that port under Mr. Fillmore. The appointment was one universally approved, and the numerous friends of Case, in this city, were rejoiced at his success in life. While holding that office he was intimate in the family of a Mr. F., one of his assistants. Mrs. F. was young, beautiful, impassioned, and a fatal attachment sprung up between the two, which remained unsuspected until the truth was made known by the sudden elopement of Case with Mrs. F. Then it was found out discovery that he had absconded with government funds to the amount of $34,000.—From that time to the present the fate of the guilty pair was lost. The family of Case bereaved and betrayed, remained hopeless on their guilt. Case, after a series of the fruitless chase of the fugitives; and now from off the sea come tidings—a broken, half-told story of lonely wanderings in foreign lands—a full recital of a never-ceasing remorse, with pitiful and solitary deaths in far-away islands and on the stormy waters of the Pacific. The lurid light in which the followed passion are asleep—the mother in the graves of Ceylon, the little child in the coral reefs of the sea. The betrayer still wanders the earth.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

SOCIEDAD IBERA DE BENEFICIENCIA MUTUA.—The twelfth anniversary of this excellent association was celebrated yesterday in the finest and happiest style. Assembling at the residence of the venerable President, Mr. J. Vinoca, on St. Philip street, the procession started from the house of Catholic Church, by a number of carriages containing the ladies connected with the association and the invited guests, the whole making a fine dressed, and carried a bouquet, which, with the new banner and flags, made a beautiful procession. At the Cathedral, after an appropriate dedication and blessing of the banner and flags, with an admirable sermon suited to the occasion, a collection was taken up for the benefit of the Orphan Boys of the Third District, which resulted, in amount, to about $300. Gold medals were then presented and placed by the President, with appropriate addresses, on the breasts of the "good mothers" of the association, (the presentresses of the banner and flags—if we may be allowed the term,) who were declared to be: Senoritas Locano, Samhuda and Ego-witch. If we have the ladies' names wrong, we beg pardon.

After the ceremonies at the Cathedral, the procession moved through several streets to Perfect Paradise, on Bayou Bienvenue, where an hour or two was spent in discussing an "ambigue" most agreeably. The regular toasts were: The President, the United States, the Queen of England; the Governor of Louisiana; the Mayor of New Orleans; the City Council; the Judges and Incumbents of the City; the Legislature; the Members of the Legislature; the President and Members of the different Benevolent Societies of New Orleans, and the Ladies, all duly honored. The Spanish Consul was present in "court costume," and made a happy acknowledgment of the toast to the Ladies, during which he congratulated the members of the association upon their benevolent acts and truly charitable principles, and drank to the god mothers of the banner and flags was drunk with the most rapturous applause. In response to the toast to the Portuguese Consul, Mr. Fernandez Machado, Secretary, made an address, which was very warmly received. He referred to the fact that "Dona Maria" was born in Brazil, and she was the mistress among the nations of the world, and called upon the Iberians to rising to and to replenish the earth with pride. Their harmony, strength and good deeds for twelve years as a benevolent society were a proof that they would persevere in their well-doing.

The "ambigue" concluded—we, however, saw nothing ambiguous about it—the pieces was the finest we have ever tasted, and the lady President to his home, when it was dismissed.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.—At Placide's Varieties: The three act comedy of Married Life, Single Blessedness, by Mr. and Mrs. Skerrett, and the laughable farces of Out for a Holiday, and the Irish Tutor.

At the St. Charles: Mr. W. E. Burton, the great comedian, makes his first appearance this evening. Mrs. Hughes also appears for the first time. The entertainments consist of the play of Dombey & Son, and the farce of Willful Murder.

BADLY STABBED.—In an affray yesterday morning, at the corner of Calliope and Dauphine streets, Mr. Charles Higgins was badly stabbed in the breast by Thos. Eaken. Eagan was arrested, and Higgins was taken to the Charity Hospital, where his case was reported to be dangerous. Eagan was also committed to the Hospital, and was recognized by Higgins as the one who stabbed him. Charles Mason and Owen Doffin were also arrested as concerned in the matter, and Owen Doffin was arrested as a witness.

BROKE HIS NECK.—A young man named Edward Genisse, aged 21 years, and a native of Ireland, on Saturday afternoon was killed by a fall from the gallery of his lodging-house, in Conde street, between St. Philip and Bourbon streets. Coroner Lafitte held an inquest on the body, when it appeared that the deceased had been in his room considerably intoxicated. In attempting to go down the stairs from his room, he stumbled and fell to the bottom, breaking his neck, and dying almost instantly. He was an employe of the Jackson railroad depot, and resided at the corner of Conti and Chartres streets.

INQUESTS.—The Coroner on Saturday held an inquest on the body of Marc Tissaud, the young man who accidentally shot himself Friday evening on the Bayou St. John, while out hunting. It appeared at the inquest that the unfortunate young man was kneeling down on the ground with the butt of his gun resting, was sealing vegetables and milk to a plantation cart, drawn by a strong creole horse.

A reward of fifty dollars ($50—) will be paid for the delivery of said slave to the undersigned, and an additional reward of fifty dollars ($50) will be paid for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons harboring and aiding.
