They have proposed to the Mayor and the Administrators to submit the question to the voters, whether or not they will be taxed in the sum of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, for the support of the public schools in the city of New Orleans for the present year. This assessment would be at the rate of about one quarter of one per cent on the total assessment of one per cent on the iotal assessment of property, say—on an assessment of one hundred and forty millions of dollars. It is an addition to the already excessive taxation of two and five eighths per cent. which is daily driving away capital from our midst. And for what are these three hundred and fifty thousand dollars wanted by the School Board! And who is to disburse them? This large sum is called for by Parson Conway to enable him to carry on his system of public education, one of the features of which is the mixing of the races and another the training of the youth of Louisians in faise The Board of School Directors having HAVAL STORMAY AND TO FOR COMMON. We are not opposed to the education of negrochildren. On the contrary we consider it to be of the first importance that they should be prepared for the performance of those, duties, which their future status as citizens and electors will impose upon them. If white children are educated at the public expense, we cannot and ought not to deny the same privilege to negrochildren. But the mixing of the races in the anne schools is quite a different thing, and the most indicious teachers in the United States are in accordance, that this mixture is for the advantage of neither class. And then a large portion of the population of New Orleans have made arrangements to dispense with the public exhools since they fell into the hands of the Radicals. The Germans have established schools of their own and have undertaken to provide for the tuition of their children without public assistance. The various religious denominations have also established self-anstaining schools for those who adhere to them.
