At a meeting of the Board of Administrators of Charity Hospital, held last evening, the following gentlemen were re-elected physicians to that institution, for the ensu-ID & year:

Dr MOORE Dr HARRAL Dr CENAS, Dr MACKIE. THE ASSEMBLY. SENATE-THOUGHY, 31st

On motion of Mr Hoa, the sensie took into consideratio the amendments made by the house in the bill to levy a tax for the Charity Hospital; and for other purposes.

Mr Hoa moved for the adoption of the amendment, res tricting the amount of the divided revenue appropriated for the primary schools of New Orleans; but containing a proviso that in case a certain amount is not levied, trustees of said schools are empowered to draw on the state treasurer for the deficiency.

Mr Taunsy moved that the amendment be rejected; but after an able address from Mr Hos, he withdrew his motion, Mr_Rum had not been present, when the bill was passed; and as he had objection to many of its features, particularly that imposing a tax on passengers, he wished to record his compensation to the latter was insisted on by Mr Nicholas | as an act of mere justice; Segur's expences having amounted to nearly that sum; but the appropriation for the relief of Mr Moss was lost.

The consideration of the bill relative to the penitential was resumed; and the subject, object and title of said bill were completely altered. It was originally designed to regulate the administration and discipline of the state penitentiary; it was now altered on motion of Mr Hos, merely to grant an appropriation of $10,000 for the relief of the institu

A number of local and private bills were discussed and passed.

Reynoldson has had great advantage in getting up this opera. He saw it performed at Paris, under the inspection of the composer; he saw it at three or four of the theatres in London, quorum pare magna fuit; and produced it in New York as a melodrame. He had the whole of the original music lent him by Mr Pierce Butler of Philadelphia. The industry he has bestowed on the piece since his arrival here was greatly frostrated by the charlatan, who was to have played the prominent part; but when the imposing error was rectified, the director of the music was as an unshacled giant. He acted with energy; ad infused the spirit of emulation into the performers. As succeeded.

The part of Alice by Mrs KNIGHT was admirably performed; not the singing alone—in which she was somewhat more subdued in the efforts she too often makes to create effect, but in her acting in general. Alice is an arduous character; and most of its prominent traits she faithfully displayed.

Hopoga as the demon duke was animated by unwonted energy. His reputation was at stake; and he nobly redeemed the pledge he had given. This gentleman's voice is perhaps the finest tenor ecientifically cultivated of any in the country; and he wants nothing but volition to appear ALCEL LABRANCHE. getting up the piece; and successfully represented the prominent character of the play His performance in the last act was superb; and in every word, look and attitude he seemed to perform with judgment and experience.

The Helena of Miss Nelson was delightful. The attractive appearance of this lady; with her case and elegance and archness in all her movements, justly suitile her to the admiration of any audience. Yet the managers of the sheatre have most invidiously kept her in the background arrest on Thursday evening April 2d et 7 claleck, for admiration of any audience. Yet the managers of the theatre have most invidiously kept her in the back ground during the season. In 3 characters only—Lucy in the Beggar's opers, Rosalind and lady Engageth Freelove—was she purpose of re-organization preparatory to the election of officers, &c. By order of the President.

Describing Secretaries unjustifiable distinction is made against her. In those anmouncing the dramatic personse of this opers, the name of every other lady was printed in distinctive type; while here was interted precisely as one of the male supernumeraries. This injustice will not much longer be tolerated.

THORNE as Raimbaut was as usual, excellent. He always anderstands the tenor of his character; and never 'o'ersteps the modesty of nature.' His dust with Mrs Knight deserved being encored; but the eye was as much occupied during the evening as the ear.

The managers have now fully proved what we repeatedly expressed, that their stack company alone-without any or many of those pseudo stars—could ensure success, with proper plays. ¿They have many individuals attached to their

an article headed 'General Jackson's preference,' which I think it my duty to notice.

All my friends know that since I have been in the executive chair, I have variedly abatained from an interference with the elective franchise and have invariably acted upon the principle that to the people belong d the exercise of this eacred right, uninfluenced by any considerations but those which related to the public good; and yet the editor of this paper, professing to entertain great respect for my character undertakes to connect me personally with an attempt to divide the great body of republicans in the choice which they are to make of a president, and by way of giving effect to his instinuation appeals in the language of my bitterest enemies, here and electorers, to the independence of the people as a sheld against 'my dictation,' which he supposes may be attempted.

Mr Lacosta attempted to get a clause inserted, giving privilege to the convict, to smoke and chew tobacco. It was lost on a nominal appeal, only Messrs Johnson, Lacosta and Tete voting in favor of the provision.

The bill was adepted as one making farther appropriations for the Louisiana penitentiary.

We present to the readers of the Missiersipian, in advance of our regular publication day, a supplement containing a letter from General Jackson to a friend in Nashville on the subject of certain misrepresentions of a Nashville paper, as to 'Gen. Juckson's preference.'

It will be perceived by his letter that notwithstanding his old personal and political friend Judge White has been bro't forward by a portion of his fellow-titizen as a suitable person to succeed to Gen Jackson's, yet he is in favor of a 'general convention' of delegates 'fresh from the people, to select auitable persons for the offices of President and Vices.
