Mr. Mill son, of Va.. said that those who endured Helper's book wers not fit to live much less to be Speaker of the House.

Mr. Keitt, of South Carolina, in an able and temperate speech showed that the present state of feeling between the North and the Bouth, and the fate of John Brown and his deuded followers, was the legitimate fruit of the seed sown by Wm. H. Seward and other Aboution agitators, and that as Republicans they did not justify any later-ference by force between master and slave.

Mr. Glimer offered a resolution referrating the declaration of the Will and Democratic platforms of 1852, to frown down any and all attempts to agitate the slavery question in or nut of Congress.
