THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 5, 1832.

The election of members of assembly and of congress, closed verterday afternoon, at 4 o'ulock. Fewer votes were led than at many previous elections. The result will be known this day.

From the parish of Jefferson, we rechived the ratures of the election, last evening, by the complaisance of a friend Mr. E. D. White received 136 votes for congress; Mr. Charles Derbigny having received 89 votes for the state senate; and Mr. Delighaise but 48, is elected; and Mr. Louis Bouling Here received 79 votes for the house of represent atived, and Mr. Pascalis Labare but 58, is also elected.

The fourth of July passed away yesterday, without any of the demonstrations of joy on its return, which, even in this city, it usually elicits. The muchanic society dined together at the Vauxhail Gaiden; and there was a subscrips tion dinner at the Washington Hotel at Milneburg, besidenumerous social banquets in the city.

An extract which we copy from the National Intelligeneer, of a speech delivered by general Thomas, in the national house of representatives during the tariff debate, is Is will be read with pleasure by every kincere lover of the

We have given, in another column of our paper, all the toformation that has been received respecting the prevalence of the cholera in Cauada, upon which reliance may he placed. The accounts are very distressing; and although gage from the steam boats at White Hall, had died of it cannot be doubted that the disease originated among the emigrants who have been crowding into Quebec string the summer, yet we deem it our day to exhort our city authorities to the immediate and active application of every predictions to the immediate and active application of every predictions. The gentleman referred to, brought the following news from Fort Millers it cannot be doubted that the disease originated among the cautionary measure. This city, compared with most others, is remarkably filthy; complaints are constantly made hitherto. The bare possibility that the cholera may reach us, should induce every preparation for it, not only in preparing hospitals for the poor, but in scouring and purifying every yard and street in the town. Even should this unwelcome visiter pass us by, the cost would be well bestow-

But while the most thorough measures of preparation for the reception of the cholera, should it make its appearance among us, are insisted upon, too much caution cannot be used in giving custones to the thousand and one reports which are propagated apparently & slarm the credulous, of its progress in Montgal, Quebec, &c; of its appearance in the city, several military companies and citizens volume. Albany and New York; of symptoms, here and of symptoms teered to remain on guard, and did duty all night. This Alberty and New York; of symptoms, here and of symptoms there-all tending to excite a fear of its rapid spread over there.-all tending to excite a fear of its rapid spread over vigilance is to be continued. A laborer died on the rail-the whole continent of America. Even the journals are road on Sunday night. Dr. Stants went to examine beemingly at rivalry in furnishing the most appaling accounts; the case, and found it was one occasioned by distribution of the strongest and overcome the weak, at the same true that the city is yet blessed with more than its wonted larm was occasioned by the circumstance that two bases that the city is yet blessed with more than its wonted.

have become extinct there before it will have had an opportunity of finding its way hither. But we must repeat that the measures for purifying the city cannot be executed too speedily or too thoroughly; for to principle in nature is clearer, than that health and filth are incompatible; and that disease of some character is sureto be generated where cleanliness is neglected. If we neg lect this necessary law of health and indulge in Epicurian or Bacchanalian excesses, we have no right to expect a delivcrance from this frightful monster.
