Translated from the Courier des Etats Unis. THE COMET OF 1832. - The French journals have had much to say, these two years past, about the comet which is to make its appearance in 1832.—The German journals begin to amuse their renders with the chimerical apprehensions. which the fiture appearance of this ster may inspire. The fact is, that this comet might appreach the earth much nearer than it actually will approach it, without funishing the least ground for fear. It is known that in 1770, a comet approached within 750, 00 lengues of the earth, about nine times the distance of the meon: and those who are acquainted with astronomy have not forgot, that Lalaude has computed 13,000 leagues to be the distance at which a 27 barrels prime park, comet could produce any mensible derangement 22 do. chimes do. of our system. The fears which these journals propagate, arise from this; that the conet of 1832 will pass near the orbit of the earth (within four diameters and a half, thirteen or fourteen thousand leagues) so that, if the earth be at that point of its orbit which shell be for an instant near the comet, some deranging phono nena may no result. But this case is far from pun sible for the year 1883.

The Coat of Mail.-Just before Napoleon set out for Belgium, he sent for the clevers-t ar tizon of his class in Paris, and demanded of him whether he would engage to make a cost of mail. to be worn eader the ordinary dress, which should be absolutely bullet proof; and that, if so, he might name his own price for such a The man engaged to make the desired 18,000 france as the price of it. The bergein was concluded, and in due time the work was produced, and its maker honored with a se-cond andience of the Emperor. "Now," said his Imperial Majesty, "put it on," The man did so. "As I am to stake my life on its effica ey, you will I suppose, h ve no objection to do the same." And he took a brace of pistols, and prepared to discharge one of them at the breast of the actual-lang artist. There was no retracting how ver, and half dead with fear, he stood the are, and to the infinite credit of his work, with perfect impanity. But the Emperor was not content with one trial; he fired the second piof at the back of the tranbling artist, and af berwas he discharged a fawling-piece at another part of hin with similar effect. "Well," said the Emperor, you have produced a capital work, undoubtedly—what is to he the price of Eighteen thousand francs were named a the agreed sum. "There is an order for them," said the Emperor. " and here is another for an equal sum, for the fright that I have given

A painful and singul revent has lately rakers place in a Commune near Pithiviers, France. A lad about 14 years old, of the name of Lesourd born at Meung, near Orleans, was bitten a year ago, by a mad dog, and immediately afterwards symptoms of hydrophobin were perceptible. He was taken to the hospital at Orleans, where he was attended by Dortor Leveque, and in a short time, sent away, as was supposed, perfectly cured. Last Sanday Lesourd came to Marsainvilliers, where he commenced begging with his broker. - bither want, or the fetigue of a long journey, had opened his wounds afresh, or his cure was not complete, for all on a sudden the unfortunate boy was seized with a riolent parox. yam of madness, and a tucked his brother, who frightened as he was, managed to beat him off with a stick. He then threw himself on a cow and calf which were pussing, and lacer sted befi-in an extraordinary manner. The cries of his brother and the mar of the animals, compelled him to let go his victime; and he crept along the road till he came to a quick set hedge, the roots of which he ganwed with the greatest avidity : and next, getting up, he ran into a neighboring

The National Guard being called out in consequence of information given by am brother, went in search of him and he was soon found near a tree, his eyes influmed, his mouth corere with funn and with blood, his features changed and haggard, hiting deliriously at the branches within his reach. Every one was afaid to go near iden, and some new accident was apprehended ; but whilst those in pursuit of him, were consulting as to the best me-thod of accuring him, the expression of his countenance changed, he west histerly, and went up to his brother, asking him fir bread. To avoid further danger, he was tied down is a waggon, which took him to Pithiviers.

Here he was placed in, an airy room, and every attention shown to him, that his situation required. "Revelated to Doctor Ange, all that
