CARTSAIRIAN SYSTEM OF WRITING.

MESSRS. T. F. & R. DOLBEAR, respectfully invite the citizens of New Orleans to call at their writing establishment, No. 14, Canal street, (over Miss Carroll's book store) and examine numerous specimens, executed by ladies and gentlemen who are receiving their instruction, as well as those who have completed their lessons.

The movements of the whole arm, fore arm and fingers, with their combinations, which are given by this system, are adapted to the various purposes of the counting room and parlor; and it properly acquired, will never fail to enable any person to write with ease, elegance and rapidity, without cramping, or paining the hand or wrist—as these systematic movements are founded upon the philosophy of mechanics.

A class of ladies writes daily from 12 to 1, for whom a separate apartment is provided. Gentlemen's department open from 9 a. m. to 10 1-2 p. m. Private lessons given as usual. Ornamental writing, &c. &c. executed with elegance. Persons visiting the city for a few days only, can receive a full course of lessons. Persons attending this institution are not restricted to a given number of lessons, but all are desired to acquire an elegant hand before they leave, whether it require ten or thirty lessons.

CERTIFICATES.

From his Excellency Governor Roman.

I have examined, with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I can certify to its superiority over [illegible] other method, with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear having given private lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patronage on account of the correctness and uniformity of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who received his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2d, 1832. A. B. ROMAN.

On the invitation of Mr. Dolbear, a Teacher of Penmanship, in our city, upon the Cartsairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 5 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction, that we can testify to the rapid progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a concurrent opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any other, that it is writing legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in fact, be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, which the [illegible] of the public a liberal patronage, is therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage, is therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage, is therefore anxiously solicit
