Mr. Dolbear having given private the heur of $2 o'dock, on Tuesday the 7th of May next the lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patroage on account of the correctness and mildness of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who received his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2d, 1832. On the invitation of Mr. Dolbear, a Teacher of Penmanship, in our city, upon the Carstanian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 5 to 50 years, written through an whose ages range from 5 to 50 years, which they have sade.

which the highest satisfaction, that we can estify to there pid if not expendicted, progress which they have sade.

The From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a concurrent opinion, that the system is greatly special of the parishes of St. Charles and St. John the Bagaist.

These are so give notice to all parsons interested thereins in the thirteet taught. If the write legible, signally, anguild, and in good taste, be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is spen the principles of the system that it is to be sequired.
