The New-Orleans Maily Bee. Friday Worning, January 1, 1847. This being NEW YEAR'S Day, no

The advent of another year is usually regained as a season for joy and mutual congraturions. Friends meet and interchange greetings with a pieseant and happy aspect, deeming ex-isoince desit a subject of rejoicing and regarding as a precious boon that divine flat by which they have been permitted to haif the birth of another year. There is doubties practical wisdom sound morning in the coston. SHIEL'S COUNTING HOUSE CARDIDGE. We are indebted to J. P. Steel, No 14 Camp street, are indebted to J. P. Steel, No 14 Camp street, for a copy of his Counting-House Calendar for 18:17. It is a most useful sheet, containing a surrety of information necessity to meethanis and others, and which otherwise would only be gleaned from various sources. It presents for instance, a summary of the organization of the Executive and judiciary departments of the State, a list of the Banks and Banking House's in New Orleans; Insurance Companies; Custom House Officers; River ptenniums; Levee Dues & v. & c.

Fine in Memerus.—A fire, says the Memphis Engle of the 25th, broke out yesterday morning about one o'clock, in the brick building on the southfast corner of Front Row and Union Streets, owned by Mr. Solomon Andrews, which was entirely consumed together with the stock of Saddlery of Messre, Jennings & Wathins, valued at some $10,000; the adjoining store occupied by Mr. B. W. Britt, grocer, also owned by Mr. Andrews, was slightly dampered together with its contents; we learn there is $3,000 insured on the building in the Merchanic lusurance and Trust Co., of Nashville, and $7. Insurance and Trust Co., of Nashville, and $7, 000 on the stock of Saddlery, in the Mem-

Mississieri Congressional Electron—An election for a member of the present Congress to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Col. Jefferson Davis, took place throughout the state of the control of the state of the the state of Mississippi on the 21st just. The returns are yet meagre, but so far favorable of the success of Statk (W). Adams county give iim about 200 majority; Warren, 230. A let ter to the Mobile Advertiser gives the following oformation - ABERDEEN, Thursday, Dec. 21, 1846. C. C. Lawdow, Esq.

Dear Sur—I wished to send you refurts from the Congressional election in this ("donnor) dounty, but cannot precisely? The Lacofaco county officers have not yet fearl from all the premiers. Enough have been heard from, however, to pushify the assertion that Starke (Whigh has a majority in the county. So those beet informed say. The county is usually 350 against us.

This fown (Aberdeen; gives Starke 17 majority; last year, 115 Lecoface majority on Convenior 38 average majority on Congress—So we go?

For suggest insite, G. M. II.

P. S., 3 o'clock — Monroe county may be retised on for 50 hispority for Starke! We just hear that Starke lought a duel vesterday with Mr. Blewitz offcountions. Starke did not fire.
He is badly shot in the arm. They has somewhat afraid that amputation will be necessars;
but that he is elected, I think you may depend upon—that will be some consolution. He is a gailarn, true man.

Jons Q. Anans.—The following paragraph is from Oliver Odschool's last Washington letter in the Philadelphia U. S. Gazeth:

In such a debate as this, involving important questions of national law, how gladily windle all parties have lestened to the renerable John Q. Adams: but, tor the first tisse in his long and eventful career pf purific service, his post is vacant. Desage and feebleness have liaid their hands upon him. The venerable form and silvered head; the first object to attract the eye, and the first which the eye of a stranger used misincitively to seek, is missed, and there is no one in the body upon whom his mantle can fall; on Elisha to succeed Eliph. May his health be agoin restored, and his presence once more add dignary to the House and gratify his friends.

Every faste may be accommodated, and every oppuse be gratified aimed the multiplicity of beautiful obgratified annot the multiplicity of beaufield objects with which his shelves are garnished. If diterature be needed, the most celebrated authors may be obtained, tricked out in all the luxury of gill and call-akin. If, on the contrary, any of the light funciful articles so much in vogue should be required, the most fastidious will not tail to discover something worth parchasing from the endless variety of preity things accultuated on his counters.

Now Yorks—Our thanks are discardabled.

NEW WORKS—Our thanks are due the jub-buliers, through J. B. Steel No 11 Cauty street, for the following new publications: Graham's English Synonymes.—This is a work much needed, and now presented to us in a satisfactory form. No language possesses a larger number of terms of which the shades of signification are distinct, but exceedingly deli-cate. Mr. Graham has applied himself to the task of pointing out these nice discrepanieses and has done so with marked perspectivy and and has done so with marked perspecinity and ability. The work deserves a wide circulation. Elementary Female Reader, by Mr. De Pivas. This little volume contains a number of fables, tales, anecdotes, &c.e. with a dictionary for all the words translated into Engish. It is extremely useful to the youg student.

The Book of Ancedotes, or the Mostal of History, taught by real examples, by John Front, L. D. The object of this work is evident. It is to inspire enhaltent on of virtue, by pitting noble illustrations. History, bays Barke, is philosophy teaching by example. This volume keeks to call the brightest and loftiest trisk of character from the historic page, that the youthful mind may love generosity, humanity, courses the mind and self-dennal, and learn to precise them.
