The storm of phrenty and faction must inevitably dash it self in vain against the unshakes rock of the Constitution. I shall never deabt it. I know that the Union is stronger a thousand sines than all the widd and chimerical schemes of social change which are generated, one after another, in the unstable minds of videonser's constitution in the stronger in the stronger another, in the unstable minds of videonser's constitution in the stronger in the stronger another, and the videonser's constitution in the stronger in the stronger in the stronger in the wisdom of Congress, and, above all, on the continued gractous favor of abusinty if God, to maintain, against all enemies, whether at home or abroad, the sanctity of the Constitution and the integrity of the Union.

WASRINGTON, DECEMBER 31, 1855.

On Monday, the President's message was
