

THE EYE.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY, BY JEROME BAYON.

STATE PENTHOUSE.

THE UNION—it must be preserved."

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 23, 1834.

FOR GOVERNOR:
J. B. DAWSON.

SECOND SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

B. MARIGNY.

CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS:

1st Dist.—CHARLES GAYARRE.

2d " JAMES BRADFORD.

3d " L. MOORE.

Our exchanges contain nothing of the slightest interest—our cause is our country's cause—our party is the party of the Union. How much would it be a disservice to our country if we were to withdraw from the Union? How much would it be a disservice to our fellow-citizens as worthy, capable and deserving men?

Though we have not "been authorized" to anounce the names of our candidates as candidates for office at the approaching election, we do it to our duty to recommend them to our fellow-citizens as worthy, capable and deserving men.

As Dr. Dawson, G. Schmid and James Saul—
Mr. Pease, Mr. St. John, Mr. Hines Pedronaux,
Mr. de la Salle, Mr. Bertrand, Mr. Montegut,
Mr. do., Mr. Fieret and J. H. Caldwell,
7th do., S. D. Dixon, Mr. Bissell,
8th do., Frederick Bissell.

James Saul and R. M. Carter are candidates to represent the first ward in the city council.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

The New-York common council made a curious blunder the other day, in their haste to despatch business. Some bill or other, they took up a notion that one of the weighmasters of the city was dead, and proceeded gravely to appoint a successor. The papers announced the election of a new weighmaster, vice Albert Cox, dexter. Mr. Cox, who appears not satisfied with being legislated out of the world, by way of legislating him out of office, gives public notice that he has not yet vacated either of the premises.

MR. JEFFERSON'S FAVORITE WEST.

We quote the following from the Western Statesman, a paper which has heretofore given an efficient support to Mr. Clay and the Bank. It now breathes the spirit of the hero of York district, at which it was resolved not to suffer that law to be enforced "except at the point of the bayonet." In Polk's district the resolutions declare that any attempt to enforce it will be considered as "an act making baden bullets against coin." In Alabamian union district, and in Charles-ton meetings have been called.

The Camden Journal complains of the rage of migration from the upper part of South Carolina to the southwestest.

The people of New-Jersey had various meetings, at which strong resolutions have been passed approving of the course of the president in relation to the negroes, and of the New-Jersey legislature in instructing the senators of that state to vote against their restoration. The meeting in Morris county was held at Rockaway on the instant. The call was addressed to the inhabitants generally. Resolutions concerning the president and the New-Jersey legislature were rejected by a decided majority, and others of a contrary tenor adopted. The Middlesex meeting was held on the same day and is said to have been very numerously attended.

ONE DAY LATER FROM FRANCE.

By the packet ship Sally, at New-York, French papers have been received one day later than brought direct at this port by the recent arrivals. These papers furnish only a few additional particulars. They confirm further evidence of the popularity of the new Spanish ministry. The Cortes were to be convened on the 1st of May. The nomination of Martinez de la Rosa gave great satisfaction in Madrid. M. Vasquez Figueroa, the newly appointed minister of marine, has resigned in consequence of ill health. The national guard is to be reorganized upon the same basis as it existed previous to the resignation of M. Zulu.

The news from Lisbon is favorable to the cause of Donna Maria.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

Governor Wolf's late message is received with warm approbation throughout the state, and has been eulogized in all the democratic papers received since its promulgation. It has made many friends.

The New-Hampshire election takes place on the 11th instant. It is proclaimed in the national republican papers of that state that a great number of factories are to stop on the 15th, four days after the election. This is considered by the New-Hampshire Patriot to influence voters. It is said that a majority of the men in the factories will vote the democratic ticket.

GREAT FAILURE!

It is no longer doubted, even by its friends, that a certain great banking house in Chestnut street has failed—to accomplish its object.

In this calamitous event, many hands will be thrown out of employment, and many mouths will want bread. None will suffer more from the "stopping payment" than some of our confraternity, who have hitherto drawn their whole means of subsistence from that house, and we fear are now incapable of getting their living in an honest way.

A meeting of the sufferers we learn is about to take place, for the only means of giving them bread; the committee being instructed to call en passant on the president in order to conciliate him and his friends by abusing him in round terms, and then falsifying his observations.

The sum to be expected to be very large, as it will comprise the following amount of debts of persons in the various branches of industry and the arts:

Artists—brick-burners—brewers—caralinity creators—distress-dealers—embarrassed exhorters—failure-fabricators—groan growers—horror Herod—insolent Idiots—lascivious—lascivious—necessity narrators—Orators—panc producers—quake quitters—run risers—scarecrows—terror tatters—usury upholsters—woe weavers—yell yelpers.—(Pennsylvanian).

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

MARSHALL, April 14, 1834.

General Montijo and O'Reilly left this place yesterday, on their way to England and France, as commissioners from Venezuela. There is no news of any kind.

New-York, March 10.

In the court of sessions on Saturday, Dr. Hayes, was tried for a false pretense in an amount of $30,000 to $10,000, was admitted to bail in the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars; the court reserving the right to increase or diminish the amount. As yet, the Grand Jury have found only one bill against him, for goods to the amount of only six thousand dollars.

High Maxwell, Esq., is associated with the public prosecutor, and David B. Ogden, and Francis B. Cutting, Esqrs., have been retained for his defense. The case seems to have excited a very considerable excitement.

Possession is a virtue in doubt; but whether it is its own reward or not is another question to solve. The man who has to defend his harness, and he who marshalled them into bands of contending troops, and instituted a field school of artillery exercises, may have found his reward, but for ourselves we would scarcely have been so anxious if the world had not been full of the votes of thanks for the high state of discipline to which they had attained through his instrumentality. Yet in our younger days we have tried such matters, and once patiently endeavored to calculate how many times his weight a pinching bug could draw; after much trouble we succeeded in harnessing him to a brass ring, which he walked with ready, to the savor of all the body on the forum; but while changing his course with his fingers he hurtled his patient in it, and produced an exhaustion, that awoke our wrothy pedagogue from his afternoon nap; and our patience was further rewarded by a very dolorous flagellation. Since then we have allowed the insect tribe to remain in their state of ignorance, and have contented ourselves with the quiet enjoyment of our repose. Of late however, we have been obliged to exert our mighty virtues so heavily, that it is well nigh fountained. Day after day have we gone thro' a matter of something near two hundred news; apero, neither differing from the other. One day all snake story, another day all refutation, and then to the next yell again. The sayings of the wise are to give us heed. There are no items to be found from Maine to Georgia, and it is but a waste of patience to search for them. We daily overhaul the whole bushel of chaff, but we cannot find even a solitary grain of wheat. If this state of things continues, we shall adopt an expedient; we shall get the union to send a dozen exchange papers to each subscriber, and request them to point any item to amuse the public. [N. Y. Standard.]

The ship Alfred, from Cadiz, brought no papers, and the passengers render nothing new. She left on the 15th February, being five days later than intelligence received by the Sully. [See Star.]

The bronze colossal statue of Jefferson, from Paris, intended for the U. S. Congress, from Lieut. I. C. T. Newell, has been embarked on board the ship President for Washington. This very magnificent gift reflects no less credit upon the patriotism than the taste of the donor, under whose wings it was executed at Paris, but an eminent artist, from the original plaster model, with whom the same gentleman presented it to our Corporation.

The author in brooks during the short period it remained in this city, was exhibited for the benefit of the suffering poor, to whom no less than 1000 boxes of flour were given, and the proceeds of this well-timed act of liberality, which was also in fine keeping with the character of the art at apostle and a noble benefactor of our country whose name I intended to be perpetuated, and the genius of whose generous heart, could he have seen to what purpose his illustrious name was thus used, would have amply in approval of the benevolent feelings which prompted the suggestion. [Ibid.]

We are informed by an English paper that "from November 22 to November 23, there were 1150 bankruptcies in England and Wales." Are these figures on the other side of the Atlantic, owing to the removal of the depauperate? or to the extraordinary conduct of the Bank of England, in increasing its circulation from £100,000,000 to £150,000,000, and still leaving it 10 millions ago? Just as we are told that the Bank of America did on this side of the Atlantic, and at the same time increasing its loans from forty-three to seventy millions, and cutting them down fifty-four, and calculating a general operation performed with the utmost regard to our merchants and manufacturers. [Washington Globe.]

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the best establishments in the kind in the United States. It will commence manufacturing in less than two months.

A metal rock, about 8 feet above water, and 30 in length, running from N. W. to S. E. was discovered Nov. 30, 1833, 45, 6, long, 78, 27, 30, from Greenwich, by Captain Newell, of ship Gov. Harcourt, Liverpool, from New Orleans.

The Bulletin quotes an article from the Washington Globe to show that the banks in this city have largely extended than discounts. The Globe must certainly have been in error, for our citizens, who surely have better means of knowing, will testify to the contrary. But how can the Tribune reconcile the inconsistency between the statement and its late appeal to the branch to cease its "retaliatory measures," and to come to the succor of the community? The Globe concludes that the distress here proceeds from the want of credit. Will the Bulletin agree to that?

The proceeds derived from the performances this evening in the American theatre are to be appropriated to the service of the Orphan Boys' Asylum. In the sacred cause of charity, our citizens never have been appealed to in vain.

A manufacturer altogether a novel character for our city, was shortly in operation. A paper mill has been erected to the lower cotton press. We have visited it and examined minutely every part of the machinery, which, in its state of perfection, leaves nothing to be desired. In fact, it stands in no comparison with many of the